Battle in Streets Follows Day of Rioting Which Results from Great Strike.

WAR OFFICE TAKES A HAND

Labor Leaders Say General Walkout Will Be Ordered; Other Cities Involved.

ARMED GUARD ON FOOD SUPPLY

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 15, 5 a. m.—After a day and night marked by furious disorders, the troops early this morning fired on a mob of hooligans and then charged them with fixed bayonets.

The soldiers were directed to fire after the rioters had wrecked property in Great Homer street. Several volleys were fired.

The mob hid in courts and threw bottles at the soldiers, who made their bayonet charges in the darkness and fired up the courts.

Six soldiers and two policemen were among the injured. The number of casualties among the rioters is not known.

Gen. Mackinnon Wood directed the troops.

This action was the climax to portentous events in connection with the labor war now on in England. Strikes affecting thousands were called in Liverpool and elsewhere; the shipowners locked out 30,000 men, and the war office took a hand in the situation.

Added to all this is the statement of Tom Mann, the labor leader, that 75,000 men will be on strike today. He declared the transatlantic steamship traffic will be tied up.

The war office has practically taken charge in Liverpool, and large military reinforcements are expected. One of the parks has been prepared for an encampment. The only way of moving provisions is to convoy them with strong detachments of soldiers, who are provided with ball cartridges.

Call for Volunteers.

The territorials have been told to turn their rifles over to the ship owners, so that the latter can guard their own property when necessary. Advertisements appeared in the evening papers calling for volunteers for special constabulary duty.

Violent disturbances occurred in both Liverpool and Birkenhead, and the police were constantly in conflict with disorderly crowds. Rioting and incendiarism prevailed throughout the greater part of the day. Members of the mobs hurled glassware, bricks, and other missiles.

It is stated on good authority that the offenders were not strikers, but roughs who took advantage of the situation to loot and destroy property. Women were conspicuous for their violence and vituperation in urging the men on to incendiarism.

The strike committee at midnight declared a general strike of all transport workers, including the railway men, who up to the last had refused to go out.

The strike will be effective on all the local steamboats and the Mersey ferries. Twenty-five thousand men, including 7,000 dockers, struck yesterday at Birkenhead.

During the day the lockout threatened by the shipowners became effective, and the 30,000 employés were refused work until they decide to abide by the terms of a recent agreement.

Great Rail Strike Next.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Thousands of workmen went on strike in various parts of England today and tonight there appears little hope of averting a great railroad strike which probably will be accompanied by a general labor revolt that will have a tremendous effect on the trade of the United Kingdom.

It has been impossible to ascertain how many already have struck, but the largest number is in Manchester, where a strike order was issued tonight to employés of the Northwestern, Midland and Great Central lines.

Among the communities affected are Sheffield, Glasgow, Bristol, Birmingham, Southampton, and Grimsby, to say nothing of the strikes in London.

Surrey Dockmen Go Out.

Three thousand dockmen on the Surrey side of the Thames river have refused to go to work because of a dispute over wages.

The street car men have formulated their demands, which, if not granted immediately, threaten to tie up the surface system of London and suburbs.

Only forty porters returned to work at the Paddington railway station this morning. Eleven thousand women have joined the strikers in the south of London.

Freight handling is almost at a standstill at Bristol, and 200 coal heavers at Grimsby have gone out. Unless there is an early settlement of the strike 300 trawlers will be idle within a week. Telegrams say the joiners, shipyard hands, and machinists at Belfast have demanded an increase in the rate of their pay.

Tonight troops at Aldershot, Dover, and other points have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for active service, and the horses of the cavalry regiments have been freshly shod with the evident expectation that they will be needed for street service in London.

Conciliation Scheme Blamed.

The movement against the railways is alleged to be due to the conciliation scheme concluded in 1907, which the men complain helps the companies to evade the demands of the men.

In some cases, however, strikes are being caused through sympathy, the workmen refusing to handle traffic from towns where their brethren are out. Some of the railway lines already have given notice of their inability to handle freight traffic adequately.

MISHAPS IMPERIL DARING AVIATORS; CROWDS THRILLED

Two Fall Into Lake; One Swims for Life While Comrade Soars Above Him.

BIPLANE BURNS IN WIRES

MONOPLANES RACE NECK AND NECK

More excitement and more numerous thrills were crowded into the three hours and a half of official flying time of the aviation meet yesterday afternoon than Chicago has experienced for years.

Fire, water, and mechanical mishaps befell the fliers frequently throughout a program that would have stirred the multitudes sufficiently if all the events had followed the scheduled course. Two aviators fell into the lake, another crashed into telegraph wires and his machine burned up, a fourth was thrown to the ground by the tripping of one of his wings, and a fifth felt the chain of his motor blocked and floated to the ground without power.

To the throngs in and near Grant park there was no serious regret in all the long series of events of the afternoon for all the aviators whom mishaps befell came through safe and sound and smiling, even jesting as they were rescued. Not one was hurt beyond a jolt or a wetting. Although the loss of airships meant much in some instances, the men who had the narrow escapes were glad that withal good fortune had attended them.

Here Are the Accidents.

The accidents of the day follow:

GILL, HOWARD, in a Wright biplane, 600 feet in air over flying course when a propeller chain caught in its tubing, wobbling machine until it careened dangerously. Gill glided swayingly to landing after stopping his motor.

HAMMOND, LEE, in a Baldwin biplane, fell in lake near four mile crib after completing lap and a half of overwater race; picked up unhurt by fire tug Graeme Stewart.

McCURDY, J. A. D., in McCurdy biplane struck electric light wires running from Chicago Yacht club; was turned upside and thrown on ground, his machine catching fire from sparking wires. McCurdy unhurt.

OVINGTON, EARLE L., in Curtiss biplane, "banked" too low in north end of aerodrome and smashed a wing against ground; was unhurt.

SIMON, RENE, in Moisant monoplane, fell in lake beyond government pier when his engine refused to start after erratic gliding evolutions; picked up by life savers and taken to shore by launch "Herbert M.," belonging to Dewitt Cregier.

High Power Wire in Crowd.

The accident to McCurdy left a dozen strands of high power electric wire dangling among a crowd of 20,000 persons, who rushed from the free seats to the lake shore near the Chicago Yacht club house, where the biplane fell. At a height of 600 feet over the lake McCurdy heard his engine missing and began to volplane or glide downward with his motor shut off to "nurse" the ailing cylinder.

The velocity of his glide was so great that he didn't see the mesh of wires leading from the Chicago Yacht club house. His landing chassis hurtled into the wires, tearing them from their fastenings and splitting a wire pole in two.

The biplane was entirely inverted in the air, but did not fall with great force as the planes partially sustained the weight. McCurdy clambered out of an awkward position and began an inspection of his craft, which he found in good condition, except for the battered landing chassis.

Sparks Start Gasoline.

Before he left the machine a sputtering electric light wire splashed sparks over his wings starting a blaze that soon spread to a leaking gasoline stream. The wing fabric and parts of the frame work and the propeller were reduced to charred wood by the flames. A chemical extinguisher from the yacht clubhouse put out the blaze.

After René Simon had pitted his fifty horse power Gnome motor against Earle Ovington's seventy horse power Gnome, losing the monoplane race by less than three seconds, the Frenchman began pirouetting over the flying field, swerving out over the lake and frolicking around ship masts.

Just when he was jumping over the government pier, at a point nearly on a line with Harrison street, his motor refused to start, and the Moisant monoplane settled lightly down in the water. Simon staid in his cockpit until he saw the water seeping in and then crawled out of the fuselage on to the single wing of his machine.

Nonchalantly Simon remained seated "tailorwise" on the dry wing until life savers from the river station took him in their boat—a transfer effected with a great show of courtesy on the part of the aviator.

Later Simon stepped from the life crew boat into the launch Herbert M., owned and driven by Dewitt Cregier, who had taken a dozen newspaper men out to the submerged machine. At shore he was greeted with a cheer and many affectionate embraces from his French mechanics.

Earle H. Ovington met the same sort of

CITIZENS MAKE PROTEST.

Lynn, Mass., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—How many baths does a person require in a week? The above question is being asked by about every one of Lynn's 100,000 population, and the answers are varied ones. Some people claim only one is necessary, thereby upholding Water Commissioner Thomas Campbell, who has decreed that one bath every seven days is enough.

The water supply at Lynn became low recently, and Water Commissioner Campbell, seeking to care for the city's interests, asked that the citizens content themselves with one bath a week. The outburst of indignation which resulted fairly overwhelmed the water commissioner, and he increased the bathing privilege to twice weekly. He did so grudgingly, however, and still insists that one bath a week would be sufficient—of course, taking into consideration the condition that exists.

Health Head Approves Plan.

Chairman Michael Ward of the board of health said tonight he approved of the suggestion. He felt that the comparatively few who had become accustomed to the luxury of a daily bath should sacrifice their wishes for the good of the many. Their abnegation would be for a good purpose, he said, and redound to their credit.

Chairman Ward went a bit further and expressed the belief that many of the politicians at the city hall should practice the self-denial asked for.

Chairman Ward was asked point blank if he bathed daily, but he would not reply. He is, however, the most outspoken of the city department heads and believes that the citizens should bathe infrequently for a while.

Firemen Fight Restrictions.

Chief Thomas Harris of the fire department raised a dissenting voice in the general chorus of approving acclamation of the plan. He asserted vigorously that neither he nor the other members of the fire department ought to be included in any restrictions prescribing a weekly bath or a biweekly bath.

He said that firemen had to bathe after every fire and ought to be allowed the privilege, "or should I say right," he continued.

The discussion still rages and it looks as if the twice a week plan would be adopted.

C. G. DAWES' MOTHER INJURED; CAME TO SEE AVIATION MEET.

Breaks Hip While About to Leave House in Automobile—Slow Recovery Predicted on Account of Age.

After coming from Marietta, Ohio, to witness the aviation meet, Mrs. R. R. Dawes, mother of Charles G. Dawes, president of the Central Trust company, tripped on a rug at the home of her son in Evanston yesterday afternoon and fractured her left hip. She was taken to the Evanston hospital in a critical condition.

Mrs. Dawes, who is 67 years old, was on her way out to an automobile with Mrs. Charles G. Dawes when the accident happened. Dr. W. A. Phillips attended the injured woman. It is feared that her recovery will be slow, on account of her age.

Mrs. Dawes is the widow of Gen. R. R. Dawes. She has taken a particular interest in aviation, and when she was told of the meet to be held in Chicago she arranged to make a visit to her son.

MUD STRANDS ELOPERS' AUTO; NEARLY RUN INTO OPEN BRIDGE

Lee Heiman and Miss Mabel Bassett's Car Almost Upsets in Ditch—They Elude Arrest—Married.

Muddy roads and an abandoned automobile were mere trifles compared to the other experiences of an eloping couple before they finally were married Sunday morning at Valparaiso, Ind.

Meeting a Methodist minister ten miles from Crown Point, Ind., who in an automobile was stranded in the mud, a wedding ceremony right then and there was almost consummated when the clergyman found they had no marriage license. Mud had rapidly gathered about the machine of the elopers, and they, too, were stranded.

"Before that we had nearly run into an open bridge, nearly turned turtle into a ditch, and were nearly arrested for speeding," said the bride yesterday.

The elopers were Lee Heiman, a commission merchant with offices at 237 Fifth avenue, and Miss Mabel Bassett, 5853 Prairie avenue. All attempts to reach Crown Point Saturday night were fruitless, so the party remained over night at the home of a farmer.

Another automobile was obtained Sunday morning, which took the elopers to Valparaiso, where they were married by a justice of the peace. The same automobile carried the party back to the Hotel La Salle in Chicago.

Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Earle, 3742 Grand boulevard, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Morrison of Crown Point.

EJECT "CAR HOGS"; WOMEN GET SEATS

New York Police at Brooklyn Bridge Adopt Drastic Measures.

NEW RUSH HOURS RULE.

New York, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—At the suggestion of a captain of the Brooklyn bridge police force, who has been seriously vexed by the hoggishness of men in the daily scramble for seats on the surface cars, a plan of herding the "car hogs" during rush hours and giving women and children first chance to board the cars was tried today.

In some cases at the bridge tonight men were practically dragged from the cars to await the seating of women. On the whole the plan worked well.

On tracks six, seven, and eight, where the Court street, Vanderbilt, and Bergen avenue, and Graham and Flushing avenue lines are loaded, the right side of the promenade was reserved for women and children.

"Hogs" Allowed to Stand.

The men were kept back by policemen until the women and children had been seated, and then they were allowed to find standing room.

As a result, the cars were loaded with only a reminiscence of the mad struggle for seats that heretofore has marked the rush hour and that still marked the loading of the cars on the other tracks tonight.

Women have been ruthlessly elbowed out of the way in these struggles, and frequently painful injuries have been suffered by some of them.

The men didn't like the new rule. Heretofore they have begun to climb aboard the cars the minute they have discharged their west bound passengers on the uptown side of the bridge. Tonight they had to wait until the cars made their second stop on the downtown side, where the women had been given places of preferment.

5,000 More Women Seated.

Conservative estimates tonight put the additional number of women who got seats under the plan at 5,000. It may have been more, but that number was agreed upon by the inspectors who worked with the police.

They couldn't have indorsed the scheme more cordially than they did by making that admission. It is expected now that the street railway men will work with the police in extending the system to all the surface lines that cross the Brooklyn bridge.

It is possible that some variation of it may be applied to the L platform upstairs.

REUNITED COUPLES CAN'T KISS IN JUDGE DOLAN'S PRESENCE.

Must Wait Until They Get Home, He Orders—"No More Affection in This Court," Stern Decree.

No more will reunited couples be allowed to kiss, hug, or bestow gentle love taps upon each other in Judge Dolan's court.

This rule worked, it was announced yesterday, when Louis Marbock, 145 Goethe street, appeared in the Chicago avenue Municipal court. He had been sent to the bridewell for two weeks.

At the intervention of Marbock's wife, Judge Dolan changed the sentence to ten days. When husband and wife met in the courtroom they kissed and embraced.

"There must be no more affection in this court. Wait until you get home," said the judge, sternly.

Harry N. Atwood, the Boston aviator, flew into Chicago from St. Louis in his biplane at 6:19 o'clock last evening. Having arrived, he circled aviation field on the lake front before alighting, to the cheers of thousands. He is flying to New York for a prize of $10,000.

He completed the aeroplane dash across the prairies of Illinois in five hours and fifty-seven minutes of flying time, the distance traveled between dawn and nightfall being 282 miles. The average speed of the journey was 47.56 miles an hour.

Atwood will delay starting on the next step in his try today until the opening of this afternoon's program at the lake front. He will leave at 3:20 o'clock, immediately after the opening salute. He intended to follow the Lake Shore railroad tracks to Elkhart, Ind., where he will stop for the night.

Atwood stated last night that if he is successful in his cross country flight to New York he will attempt the ocean to ocean flight, from San Francisco to New York, for which a prize of $50,000 has been offered.

Applause at First Glimpse.

The wildest enthusiasm since the beginning of the Chicago aviation meet was manifested when Atwood's machine was first sighted. He was five miles from the city, near the old drainage canal. The thousands who had been watching the contests at the flying field throughout the afternoon turned their attention to the twinkling speck in the southwest sky, which marked the approach of the aviator.

"Atwood, Atwood," a thousand shouted in concert with such a volume of sound that the flying men over the field heard and shifted their machines so they could get better views of the coming aviator. It was 6:10 when Atwood was first seen. In five minutes more the spinning propellers could be distinctly heard as the machine rushed toward the goal. At 6:19 Atwood crossed the south line of the aviation field, and as the shouts of thousands rolled in, the cross country pilot inclined his head and smiled.

Aeroplanes Parade by Stand.

Directors of the meet rushed out on the field to receive him, but he did not alight until he had circled the field twice. The aviators who were in the air when he arrived fell in behind Atwood and paraded in their aeroplanes behind him past the grandstand. Atwood came to the ground a hundred yards south of the judges' stand. There followed a foot race between a half dozen of the field officials of the meet to be the first to welcome the daring air man. Harold F. McCormick, Frank X. Mudd, J. S. Stevens, and Jean Wilmer pulled the flyer out of his machine saddle and bore him on their shoulders back to the judges' stand, while the crowd cheered.

"Bud" Mars was flying when Atwood alighted and he steered his big "red devil" toward the alighting spot and landed within twenty feet of Atwood's machine.

"Congratulations—it was a dandy flight," he shouted at Atwood, whose hearing had been affected by the roar of his motor on his aeroplane. He shook the Boston man by the hand.

Atwood "Glad He's Here."

"Glad to be here," Atwood said, "and I had a fine trip. I had no mishap of any kind. The machine came through without even a tap of a monkey wrench. Stopped once for gasoline and cylinder oil at Pontiac, and at Springfield for dinner. It was a great day for flying.

"Air troubles? Only at the last minute—after I started over Chicago. I struck the first warm air of the day here. There were some nasty air currents, but they weren't hard for the machine to negotiate, at that.

"The Mississippi river and the railroad tracks were my guides on the trip. I never had any trouble at all with my machine—in fact, I throttled the engine down to half power. I swept through two rainstorms; I was drenched both times and dried out again. I spoke every town and hamlet I went through, dipped down to the stations and read the names, and consulted a railway time table which I had in my right hand. I waved at all the people in the towns and on the farms, ate two chicken sandwiches and took a smoke afterwards.

"When I took wing in St. Louis I assumed the greatest risk I have ever taken or ever expect to take. I flew over the city at an altitude of 500 feet. If anything had gone wrong with by machine I could not have glided to safety. I circled above the hotel where I was stopping, and then turned northward up the Mississippi, and saw from above just how the Missouri spills itself into the Father of Waters.

"When I got to Alton I lost my way. I don't know what would have happened if it had not been for two of the most intelligent railroad employés I ever saw. There were two forks in the railroad there and I did not know which to follow. I saw two men standing by a little handcar shack and I swooped down within fifty feet of them. Then I pointed up one track, then up the other. The men understood in a flash and pointed to one track. I took their cue.

Sees Crowds on Housetops.

"Then came the trip along the Chicago and Alton railway to Springfield. I dipped down to every town on the road. In every one of them the whole population seemed to be out to greet me. I could see steam issuing from factory whistles. Then by and by the sound would come wafting up to my ears. In every town the people were perched on roofs and big crowds were gathered at the stations. They waved and shouted, and I would wave back.

"In some of the towns boys would be perched on the water tanks and I wondered how the dickens they got up there. I would hate to take a chance at climbing a water tower. None of that foolhardy stuff for me.

"What I enjoyed most was watching the farmers discover me. The towns were all informed by the Chicago and Alton of my arrival, and they knew just when to expect me, but not so the farmers.

In one place I saw an old farmer with a long gray beard coming out of his house. I was flying low, so I could see every move he made. First he looked all around on hearing the whirr of my motor. He ran all around his house, looking for the noise. Finally he looked up and saw me. Then he dashed into the house, and out streamed the family, Mrs. Farmer and about a dozen kids.

Horses Join in Race.

At one farm I noticed three horses hitched to a plow in a corn field. Those horses just rose on their haunches and then dashed down the field at the rate of sixty miles an hour. I could see the cornstalks flying in all directions through the cloud of dirt.

"By an arrangement with W. L. Chapin of the Springfield Commercial association, I made a descent at Springfield and was guest of the association at luncheon. I was to have landed in the state fair grounds, but the space seemed too limited, so I alighted near a coal mine, two miles east of the city. I had loaded with gasoline before I started.

"One of the best things on the trip was my encounter with a little kid at Springfield. He said his name was Raymond Bickford, and I guess he was about 10 years old. Raymond cornered me near the coal mine, and as seriously as if he were asking me to help him fix his kite he begged me to take him home in my machine.

"'I am tired, mister, and it is so far home that I wish you'd give me a lift,' he said. 'I like your rig, and it won't take you long to fly down to my place. I'll show you just where to come down, and I have a drag with the cop on the beat and he will help you to get started again.'

Couldn't Give "Kid" a Ride.

"I wanted to take the kid along for a ride, but unfortunately I couldn't. I wish I knew his address.

"I carry all my baggage with me, a suitcase containing a few shirts, underwear, pajamas, a toothbrush, a hair brush, a comb, and that is about all.

"It was near Shipman, Ill., that I struck the first rainstorm. It was a heavy rain and I was drenched, but I managed to fool the storm. I skirted it and went around it. I was dry in a few minutes, for it is real breezy business to fly. Just before I reached Pontiac, where my second stop was made, I encountered a streamer of clouds that pitched on me the largest drops of water I ever saw. The drops pounded my head and face till I could hardly see, and I couldn't get away from the rain, either. By the time I reached Pontiac I was dry again. I rested there for nearly two hours.

"I followed the drainage canal from Joliet to Chicago. I knew where Chicago was, twenty-three miles away from the city. I located the town by the smoke. I started to rise as soon as I reached the outskirts of the city, and flew over Chicago at an altitude of about 3,000 feet. I made the Blackstone hotel my guide post for the park, and came down to about 1,500 feet as I flew over the building.

Hitch in Atwood Plans.

A slight hitch occurred last night in the program of the aviation committee to feature the start of Atwood on the second leg of his St. Louis to New York flight at the meet this afternoon.

It was said that A. Leo Stevens, Atwood's manager, was not satisfied with the financial arrangement reached between the aviation committee and the young flier, at a dinner given in his honor last night at the Hotel Blackstone. Later in the evening, Stevens and Atwood met and talked the mater over. Stevens at first demanded that the arrangement with the aviation committee be broken, but later a compromise is said to have been reached whereby the aviation committee will have to pay Atwood a greater sum than was first offered.

Stevens is said to have demanded $5,000. Charles L. Mayer, flight manager for Atwood, said that a smaller sum had been agreed upon.

Atwood is the only man who has flown clear across the city of Chicago. Brookins on his Chicago-Springfield flight left Chicago at the city limits. Atwood has flown over Chicago, New York, and St. Louis. Skyscrapers have no fear for him.

ALD. HARDING BUYS AEROPLANE

Purchases Wright Machine and Arranges for Flying Lessons—First "City Dad" to Adopt Sport.

The first of the city executives to "go in" seriously for the new air sport is Ald. George F. Harding of the Second ward. Yesterday he purchased a Wright biplane from the Wright brothers and has already sent to the Dayton factory a check for $4,500, the cost of the machine.

When it is ready a Wright instructor will accompany the machine to Chicago and will give the Second ward politician his first lessons in the conquest of the air.

"If the women of France are not afraid of flying, surely the men of America ought not to be," said Ald. Harding yesterday. "I have a reasonable conception of danger, but I do not consider flying dangerous."

MERCHANTS TO VISIT THE CITY.

Large Numbers of Dealers from Out of Town to Be Entertained Here Aug. 16 and 23.

Response to the 75,000 invitations recently sent out by the Association of Commerce to business men began yesterday, when 100 merchants arrived in the city. They are to be entertained tomorrow and Aug. 23 by combined Chicago business interests under the auspices of the trade extension and automobile committees of the association. An automobile ride from the center of the city by way of the parks and boulevards to the South Shore Country club is included in the program for tomorrow evening. A dinner for the visitors at one of the gardens will be given the second evening, Aug. 23.

mishap that has caused disaster to other fliers at the meet.

He was rounding the north end of the aerodrome, flying low, and banking high. A tip end of his Curtiss biplane struck the ground, twirling the machine about, but did not unseat Ovington. The upper plane was broken.

Probably not a spectator realized the peril that beset Howard Gill when one of his two propeller chains caught in its tubing about 600 feet up in the air in the north half of the flying field.

If the chain had broken, throwing the one propeller out of commission, the Wright biplane would have been whirled around in the air entirely beyond control. But the chain held, stopping both propellers. There was a mechanical rattle that caused every one near the sheds to look up at the jeopardized flier.

He quickly shut off his engine, stabilized his wabbling machine, and glided to a safe landing.

Aviator Has to Swim for Life.

Strong swimming saved Lee Hammond from death when his Baldwin biplane plunged into sixty feet of water as he was making his second lap in the fourteen mile race around the Carter H. Harrison crib.

It sank instantly when it struck, and has not yet been recovered. The aviator, seeing no boats near him, started swimming to the Harrison crib, a quarter of a mile away. At the same time the official launch Dolphin shot away from its station, half a mile off. It picked the aviator up after he had been in the water about eight minutes. He was almost exhausted.

Hammond made his first lap in fairly good time, flying high and fast. He was the second started. His time for the lap was 10:22.03, about two minutes slower than that of Tom Sopwith, winner of the race.

Engine Goes on High Speed.

As he circled the course and started out on his second lap, his engine exploded faster than before. The change was perceptible to every one on the course, for the biplane jumped ahead as though it had been whipped. As it fled from shore into the mist of smoke and haze which hung over the lake the rattle of its speeding engine rose threateningly above the sound of three other machines.

But the machine would not stand the strain. About a quarter of a mile from the crib something cracked, the machine turned half way over and plunged into the lake. Hammond dived from his seat as it struck and came to the surface in time to seen an end of the upper plane vanishing into bubbles.

As he started, William R. Badger, in another Baldwin plane, swept over him about 200 feet in the air.

Badger waved at Hammond.

Hammond summoned his little remaining strength and waved a reassuring hand. Badger drummed on around the crib.

About eight minutes later the Dolphin chugged up hysterically and took the exhausted Hammond on board. He was swimming on his back, breathing heavily, when the boat arrived.

Unable to Save Aeroplane.

A boat which had been launched from the life saving station reached the spot ten minutes later, as did numerous private launches and fishing boats. The life saving crew grappled the plane once, but it slipped away from them. About 7:45 o'clock a fire tug steamed out after it and was still fishing for the aeroplane at latest reports.

Officials say that the lake is sixty feet deep where the biplane sank.

In addition to events of the regular program J. V. Martin, formerly a member of the Harvard faculty, attempted to stage a pretty one act play in his Grahame-White biplane. With a bunch of roses in his hand he started to sail around the Chicago Yacht club and drop the flowers at the feet of Commodore William Hale Thompson on the club veranda. He failed because the bouquet caught in the wires of his landing chassis and he was unable to disentangle it without alighting.

Two spectacular events were included in the regular program. As usual, the competition for altitude carried machines up against the clouds. The second prize day was the cause of greater efforts than on Sunday, and the daily duration prize money kept a large number of machines in the air. But the two races of the day strained the attention of the crowd.

The competitive flights of the monoplanes, five of the birdlike machines being entered, was thrilling from start to finish, with the final heat between Ovington, Simon, and Sopwith, a race of the neck and neck variety capping the climax. Although Ovington had a seventy horse power motor against Simon's engine's fifty horse power he defeated the Frenchman by less than three seconds in nine laps around the course.

Planes Vanish Two Miles from Shore.

The second overwater race, during which Hammond fell into the lake, could not be closely watched, but there were hundreds of eyes strained to catch the first glimpse of the machine in the two laps around the crib. There was an unusually heavy haze over the water, and the planes disappeared about two miles from shore.

Arthur Stone in his Queen, a Bleriot type of machine, was the first man off in the first heat of six laps of the monoplane race. The eight men holding the air craft after the motor was started let go when the signal flag dropped at 3:47. Stone rose sixty feet, a height he maintained during the flight.

Tom Sopwith, in a Bleriot, crossed the starting line at 3:48 o'clock. It took unusually long to start the motor of René Simon's Moisant, but he was ready by the time Stone had finished his second lap. The starters waited until the latter was well on his third lap before giving Simon the signal. The Frenchman had not been in the air more than a few seconds before the spectators learned why he is called the "fool flier."

Flies Low to Escape Head Wind.

His banking at the first turn made the crowd gasp. The wings of the machine seemed almost to graze the outer pylons. Simon did not rise higher than twenty five feet. He hugged the ground and escaped the stronger breeze encountered at a greater height. Stone circled wide. Simon's quick turn cut down the lead of the former and the daring Frenchman passed under his competitor about the center of the east side of the course.

Simon was twenty yards ahead when he passed the judges' stand to begin his second lap. He was still flying low. Sopwith appeared to be holding his position. On his third lap Simon increased his lead by "cutting the corners." He was fully a half a lap ahead. Sopwith closed up so that on his fourth lap he was only about 400 yards behind Stone.

Simon was going fine on his fifth lap. He was feeling good, and as he passed the grandstand he waved a hand to the crowd. Sopwith gained steadily on Stone and passed him near the finish. Simon finished three-fourths of a lap ahead.

Time of first heat: Simon, 9:13:03; Sopwith, 9:34:02; Stone, 10:47:01.

Johnstone Has Machine Trouble.

Ovington and Johnstone fought out the second heat. The former got away at 4:04 o'clock. Johnstone had trouble with his engine. He did not get started until Ovington had covered a lap and a half. Ovington mounted to 150 feet and dipped at the turns. In rounding the north pylons on his second lap Johnstone was blown off the course. He flew over the sheds and half the length of the west grandstand before he could recover. He did not seem sure of his machine, and after this experience flew close to the surface.

Ovington rapidly closed up the gap of half a lap which separated the machines at the start. He passed Johnstone on his fifth lap. He gained rapidly on his last lap and finished a third of a mile ahead. Ovington planed down at the finish and crossed the line at a speed of more than sixty miles an hour. He circled around the bulletin board and landed just south of the judge's stand.

Five biplanes were flying during this second heat. The judges feared a collision and signaled these fliers to get off the course, but the pilots ignored them.

Time of second heat: Ovington, 9:33:15; Johnstone, 12:30:36.

Ovington Gains on Rivals.

Simon, Sopwith, and Ovington started in the final heat of nine laps. Simon made the best time by twenty seconds in the elimination contests and he was picked to win the race. He was the first man to go up. A few moments before 4:30 o'clock the signal was given and his Moisant was started. He flew low as in the preliminary and his banking was as sensational. In less than a minute Ovington left the ground. He climbed to an altitude of over 100 feet and circled wide as before. Sopwith followed him, but did not go above eighty feet.

Simon was still in the lead at the finish, but the honors of the race went to Ovington.

The fifteen mile race for biplanes and monoplanes around the Carter Harrison crib added another victory to Tom Sopwith's ever-increasing list. His time in his Bleriot monoplane was 17 minutes 8.37 seconds—51.09 seconds faster than that of Ovington, his nearest competitor. Ovington also flew a Bleriot. Beachey was third in 18 minutes 1.96 seconds. With his big Curtiss he made far the best time of any biplane in the race.

The starting contest was "too slow" and "too scientific" for the crowd, if a few comments overheard are to be judged. It consisted of lining an aeroplane up on the starting line, starting its motor, holding it until it was running well, and then releasing it. The man who left the ground completely in the shortest distance was given first honors.

Frisbie Wins Starting Contest.

John Frisbie, in his own adaptation of the Curtiss machine, was first with a start made in only eighty-eight feet and three inches.

G. W. Beatty climbed half a mile higher than in any previous record of the meet. His flight won him the $1,000 altitude prize for the day. He was closely followed by Phillip O. Parmalee, who more than duplicated Oscar Brindley's feat of Monday. Both men rode Wright biplanes. Parmalee hung for an hour at 7,000 feet until twilight and red fires called him down in three long, tremendous swoops. His highest point was 7,651 feet. Beatty's was 7,703 feet. Lincoln Beachey in a Curtiss biplane stuck at 7,054 feet.

He was taken to the Passavant hospital. His home is at 1007 Crosby street.

BAFFLES DAME FASHION.

Newest Form of Sport Finds Costume Designers at Loss to Provide Pretty Frills.

Old Dame Fashion, she who so many times has been victor in the fight for supremacy, at last has met a real foeman. It is the aviator. The dame has introduced many sports in her time, and always the introduction has carried along a list of the Paris gowns to be seen. She brought the horse show, but few saw the horses for the splendor of the costuming in the boxes. She brought the automobile runs, and smart coats and veils and auto outfits at once mounted the front seat.

Now there come the aviators, and the aviators have so inflated society's worn out interests that they have reduced society's pride to smoked glasses and unbecoming caps.

As to gowns, there is little excuse for putting on one's best bib and tucker to sally forth to the aviation field. One's next neighbor at the field, with eyes riveted on the sky, will not care a rap what the color of one's outfit may be, much less what the costliness of the material and its trimmings may be.

Interest Centers in Races.

The women, in truth, are making the meet one of interest—not a fashion parade. Many of them are coming in the simplest of outfits. Mrs. "Jimmie" Ward Thorne, for instance, a young matron who ever is most daintily gowned, was in one of the boxes yesterday wearing a simple mull of black and white stripe design with a big blue linen sailor collar. Her hat was a turned-back sailor of white, faced with black velvet.

Mrs. Harold McCormick's gown yesterday was of cream batiste of all-over eyelet embroidery design. At the bottom was a deep band of heavy lace of an exceptionally beautiful pattern and there were tabs and bindings of white braid heavily corded. Her hat was a large straw of deep rose trimmed with purple plumes and bound with purple velvet.

Costumes Are Not Elaborate.

Mrs. Robert McGann wore a suit of dark blue satin with a blouse of white lace veiled in chiffon of alternating black and red bands. The blouse had a bit of oriental trimming. Her hat was a large straw, covered with great flat white velvet flowers with blue centers.

Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor, who yesterday returned from a ten days' visit in Wisconsin with Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Pollock, wore a coat suit of black and white cloth with a linen shirtwaist and a large sailor hat faced with dark velvet and trimmed with small purple and green wings and a large purple velvet bow. Among the men who wandered in to talk with this group of women were Mr. McGann, Howard Gillette, and Clive Runnells. Potter Palmer, who returned to the city after leaving Mrs. Palmer and babies at Biddeford Pool, Me., for the rest of the summer, wandered in and out of the boxes where his friends were seated.

Many Parties in Boxes.

Mrs. Leroy Fuller, wearing a tailored suit of dark blue serge and satin and a small dark blue straw hat trimmed with ribbon of the same shade, was with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Borland, and Miss Margaret Billings. Mrs. Borland wore a marquisette of red, embroidered in tiny white beads and draped over white. Her hat was a large black straw with plumes.

Mrs. Tracy Drake and Mrs. Frank R. McMullin were together, and Mrs. George McKinlock was with a small party. Mrs. H. H. Kohlsaat, who is one of the most interested spectators, sat alone on the first row of the grand stand.

ACCIDENT RENEWS DESIGN ARGUMENT

Biplane's Mishap Points Issue Between Single and Double Propellers.

POWER IN TWIN SCREWS.

Danger Lies in One Breaking; Question Stands, "Efficiency Versus Safety."

BY WILLIAM B. STOUT.

The accident to the Wright roadster, No. 15, during the late afternoon's flying yesterday has again brought up the discussion among mechanics and engineers about the hangars of the relative merits of one propeller or two—a question which has been discussed more or less from the beginnings of flying.

The Wright machine itself is the result of the most careful and painstaking experiment aiming toward the gaining of a maximum efficiency in flight, this resulting in a machine in which everything has been sacrificed for efficiency. The result is a machine which flies well with less power than any other machine of the biplane type. The motor is chiefly noted for always being "on the job," though many others give more power for weight.

Wright's Control More Efficient.

The control of the Wrights is more efficient than any other, enabling them to negotiate higher winds. The propellers give greater thrust for the horse power than any other make, there being two traveling at slow speed instead of one at high speed as in the others. All these arguments are good, and when they are stated you would think all had been said as to superiority.

When it comes to this, however, it is much as Capt. Baldwin said the other day when I questioned him as to his landing device with no skid.

"Well," he answered, "all these things in design are a question of what you want to give up. If you have a skid you can do some things I can't, but if I haven't I have less head resistance and other advantages that enable me to do some things you can't. It's all in what you want."

Double Propellers Hold Danger.

So it is in this efficiency basis. Here are two propellers revolving near opposite ends of the planes. Suppose one breaks. The other one will whirl the machine and seriously endanger the balance before the power can be shut off, if it does not entirely upset the machine, as was the case when Lieut. Selfridge was killed.

Or if the chain breaks disaster is liable to result. A prominent aviator and I were talking on the other side of the field. This man is not flying on the field, and has no connection with any machine which has flown in the meet. He is observing. Almost as he spoke of the danger attendant upon a broken chain a Wright machine flew over our heads not a hundred feet away. As it came opposite there was a crash and a piece of tubing came whirling through the air and lit on the grass near us.

The machine staggered this way and that for a few moments, then regained its balance and came safely to earth at the north end of the field. My friend touched me on the shoulder.

"There!" he said. "Just what we say. She broke a chain."

I was not so sure, for there was no great whirring sound afterwards, but we went and picked up the piece.

It was a brace which runs from the propeller shaft housing on the left hand propeller to the main plane.

Safety and Efficiency Contend.

This brings us back to the efficiency proposition again and the other builders say, "You can have your two propellers and greater efficiency if you want it, but we will hold to the safety idea."

The Wrights have the safer motor position, for it is not back of the pilot. The opposite is true of their plan for wing warping. This is much more efficient than ailerons, they will all tell you, but to warp the wings means that the whole rear edge of the wings is held up by two wires on a side with no cross trussing.

By using ailerons the planes can be made much stronger and at the same time lighter. Again, it is a question of what you want. It still remains to be proved as to which type will win out, but here you have the arguments.

Simon did some clever work yesterday in the race for monoplanes when he piloted a Moisant monoplane to victory, having a fifty horse power motor, against two of M. Bleriot's best from France with seventy horse power motors. That is going some for an American built machine and shows credit not only to the pilot, who is one of the cleverest, but to the builders who have succeeded in winning against a machine built by the pioneer builder of that type.

McCurdy's new biplane, which he tried out for the first time the day before yesterday, was not only new, but the first one of its type that he had built. This fact made its work on first trial all the more creditable to its designer.

New Machines Out Today.

There will be three new machines out today which will be well worth traveling to see—that is, if the weather man is kind. These are the new seventy horsepower racing Curtiss, the 100 horsepower Queen, which looks devilish for speed, and the Morane, which is really promised for tomorrow and stands all assembled in its shed. The company controlling this machine is also importing several Deperdussin machines, a fast French model, for the Boston meet.

As to the Queen, it has some clever features, not the least of which is the method of getting plenty of air to the big motor without increasing the head resistance. If Stone's bad luck still holds there will be bad doings, but if he holds it up as cleverly as he did the 50 horsepower yesterday, there will be something doing in the speed line.

RODGERS AFTER BIG PRIZE.

Wright Biplanes Prove Strongest Competitors for Reward.

Throughout the entire aviation meet yesterday a Wright biplane hovered far up over the lake front. It took the duration prize for the day. A. L. Welsh, who drove the machine, ordered it out of the aeroplane sheds when the meet opened in the afternoon and did not come down until after the meet closed in the evening.

C. P. Rodgers, also in a Wright, who is after the duration prize, stayed up in the air during the day for only a few minutes less time than his fellow aviator.

Official records of the timers showed that twenty-six machines, the largest number afloat on any one of the three days, were sent up under the spur of the duration prize offer.

Stays Up During Entire Meet.

Welsh, in Wright biplane No. 37, set the meet record for duration by remaining up in the air three hours and a half—the limit, or from the official start to the finish of the competition.

Less than seven minutes behind Welsh in length of time in the air was C. P. Rodgers, also in a Wright, who now ranks first in total duration for the three days. Rodgers' total is 9 hours 10 minutes 48 seconds. If he maintains his first place he will win $5,000, the first prize for duration. Rodgers flies low all the time, staying over the flying field when no events are in progress, never attempting any "stunts."

Beatty Up Over Three Hours.

W. G. Beatty, who ranked fourth among the day's flights in time aloft, is second to Rodgers for the three days, having 8 hours, 3 minutes and 43 seconds to his credit. Beatty was up 3 hours, 15 minutes and 13 seconds during the day.

Oscar Brindley had the day's third rank with 3 hours, 17 minutes and 38 seconds. He is third for the three days with 7 hours, 30 minutes, and 28 seconds.

FIND BODY IN WOODS; BROKEN LEG BRINGS STARVATION?

Corpse Found in Unfrequented Section—Leg Doubled Under Body—Cards Bear Name "Peter Kallum."

Helpless, it is thought, from a broken leg, a man believed to have been Peter Kallum, a printer, possibly starved to death within a few miles of the loop district some time last week.

His body was found yesterday afternoon by Bernard Kohn, 1916 Waveland avenue, in a seldom visited corner of Budlong's woods, Lincoln and Bryn Mawr avenues. It was lying with the right leg pinned beneath it.

He reported his discovery to the police of the Summerdale station, and the body was taken to undertaking rooms at 4935 Lincoln avenue.

A union card found in a pocket convinces the police that the body is that of Kallum, who disappeared from his home on July 4.

GETS HIS LICENSE HERE.

Joliet Man Makes First Chicago Trip in Two Decades.

"Ed" Van Deuser, a bachelor farmer of 54 years, owning an eighty acre tract a few miles north of Joliet, came to Chicago for the first time in twenty years yesterday and took out a marriage license.

"That isn't like Ed," his neighbors said. "He never did it before, and he never tries anything new. It can't be so."

Later they found out that it was so, and that, although he hadn't favored them with any confidences, he had been planning matrimony for some time. In fact, it took him twenty years to conclude his courtship of Miss Florence Johnson, a Wilmington, Ill., spinster. Miss Johnson, too, is deliberate. She would have no whirlwind courtship, and her suitor was put on a twenty year probation following their first meeting at a country dance near Joliet, a score of years ago.

But when they did decide they moved rapidly. For fourteen years Van Deuser had lived alone in his little farmhouse. Every night his neighbors had seen his light go out at a regular time and heard the chain rattle as he locked the door.

Last night one man remembered hearing Van Deuser say he might run up to Chicago some time to see how the town had grown. He almost collapsed when he heard of the trip to the license clerk's office.

Mrs. L. M. Johnson, mother of the prospective bride, gasped when she heard the news. She turned to Miss Johnson for an explanation.

"We thought we'd do it up quick," she explained. "I'm going to Chicago in the morning and I'll be Mrs. Van Deuser by noon. We thought we'd say nothing until it was all over, but I guess it's as well people have found out. Some of them might die of the shock."

TO EXHIBIT "BUREAU OF KICKS."

Kansas City Will Present Its Latest Idea at Big Municipal Congress in September.

A municipal "bureau of kicks," which Kansas City has established and thinks well of, will be presented at the international municipal congress and exposition which will be held in Chicago Sept. 18 to 30. The city has reserved space to present an exhibition of its new idea. The bureau, termed the department of public welfare, is maintained to tabulate all sorts of objections, criticisms, and suggestions concerning the administration of the city. The merits of communications are investigated and then they are turned over to the proper city officials with recommendations. In this way responsibility for good government is put up to the citizens.

$50 A DAY GUESTS EJECTED

Blackstone Hotel Detectives Oust New Yorker and Woman.

THEY MOVE TO CONGRESS?

Broker and Aviation Promoter Argues, but Surrenders

Whether there is any connection between the arrival at the Congress hotel of "Mr. and Mrs. C. Martin Murphy" of New York and the eviction from the Blackstone hotel of Willis McCornick and "Mrs. C. Martin Murphy" is a question.

House detectives at the latter hotel assisted Mr. McCornick in packing his effects and superintending their removal from his $25 a day suite, while a similar office was performed for Mrs. Murphy in her $25 a day suite on the floor below. Each suite had been reserved by wire, McCornick's on Aug. 5 and Mrs. Murphy's on Aug. 10.

Patron of Aviation.

Mr. McCornick, who is said to be a member of several New York clubs, is a broker and promoter of aviation. He lives on Fifth avenue in the eastern metropolis. Less is known of Mrs. Murphy, but she arrived at the Blackstone a day after McCornick's first appearance.

The couple watched the aviators from the windows of the parlor in Mrs. Murphy's suite after luncheon, and later they had dinner in the same apartment. They were in another room in the suite when the house detectives interfered.

Detectives Press Point.

McCornick at first refused to leave the Blackstone, but reconsidered when the detectives showed no signs of backing down. His valet assisted him in packing.

"Mr. and Mrs. Murphy" arrived at the Congress hotel some time later. Apparently they didn't like this so well, for later they "checked out" and were driven to the La Salle, where they engaged a suite and announced that they probably would stay out the aviation meet.

ONE KILLED, TWO PROSTRATED, BY 90 DEGREE TEMPERATURE.

Michael Murphy, a Laborer, Dies in Hospital—Thunderstorm at Night Lessens Heat—Warm Today.

One man was killed and two were overcome by the heat when a hot wave suddenly struck Chicago yesterday. The temperature reached the 90 mark at 1 o'clock, which was the highest point touched during the day. A thunderstorm at 9:30 o'clock last night reduced the temperature.

The heat victims are:

Michael Murphy, a laborer at the plant of the Sherwin-Williams company, One Hundred and Fifteenth street and Kensington avenue. Taken to the Pullman hospital, where he died.

Edward Olson, 5110 Ellis avenue, a carpenter, prostrated while working on a building at 4576 Woodlawn avenue. Taken to the Lakeside hospital. Condition serious.

John Figura, 1754 Augusta street, a laborer, overcome while repairing street car tracks at West Seventy-seventh street and Vincennes road. Taken to St. Bernard's hospital.

Warm weather is predicted for today and tomorrow, according to the forecast, with the exception of possible local thunder showers.

Swift & Company's sales of fresh beef in Chicago for the week ending Saturday, Aug. 12, averaged 8.62c per lb.—Adv.

BUSSE PRESENTS HOSPITAL IDEAS

With Three Other County Commissioners He Leads Forlorn Hope.

ASKS BOARD TO CONSIDER

Fights for Adoption of Plan to Do Away with Proposed Costly Branches.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Four commissioners, Busse, Hartray, Van Steenberg, and Carolan, suggested a plan to their colleagues on the county board yesterday to save the $700,000 it is proposed to spend for branch county hospitals. They proposed to have a committee investigate the scheme of having private hospitals care for charity patients in the remote districts.

The suggestion was given a humorous parliamentary procedure. It was first moved to adopt the resolution, which motion was lost by a roll call of 7 to 3. With the resolution then as dead as a mummy it was decided by an aye and no vote to "lay it on the table." There the remains will continue on exhibition as long as the minutes of the meeting exist.

"I do not believe that the question of erecting branch hospitals has been properly considered," said Commissioner Busse in urging the adoption of the resolution. "In New York charity patients are treated in private hospitals at the expense of the public and the plan works well. This matter is of sufficient importance to merit careful consideration."

Busse and Kuflewski Clash.

"According to your way of reasoning, why should not we do away with the county hospital altogether?" asked Commissioner Kuflewski.

"You don't understand my method of reasoning," retorted Commissioner Busse.

"Have you any figures showing the cost of the plan in New York?" asked Commissioner Coffey.

After Mr. Busse had said that he thought the data was in the president's files, Commissioner Coffey added: "I think you will find that New York has three or four branch city hospitals. New York's area is much smaller and the comparison with Chicago is not parallel. In Philadelphia the plan has been tried and one of the most noted hospital authorities of the country says it works poorly."

Then followed the board action. Commissioner Carolan, who signed the resolution, was absent. The resolution, exclusive of the preamble, reads:

"Be it resolved, That a committee of five members of this board be appointed to investigate the question of arranging with private hospitals for the emergency care and treatment of charity patients in the outlying districts of Chicago and Cook county."

Discusses Details of Plan.

Privately, Commissioner Busse added: "Under the last two administrations this plan was considered. No conclusion was reached, but we received offers from several private hospitals to take care of our emergency cases at the yearly average cost of caring for patients at the county hospital. The emergency cases cost the county much more than ordinary cases, so the county would be getting a service for less cost than it could be performed by the county itself.

"These private hospitals are located in every community center of the city, so that it would take by far less time to get emergency cases to them than to two or three branch county hospitals.

"These private hospitals are under the supervision of the city health department, so it is certain the charity patients would receive adequate and proper attention. The per capita cost a day for caring for patients at the county hospital is about 98½ cents. The average cost of emergency cases is much higher. So if we can get private hospitals to care for emergency cases at 98½ cents a day we will be getting the service for less than it costs the county.

Forecasts Serious Blunder.

"Why, then, construct branch county hospitals? I don't know how much the majority of the board intends to spend for these, but suppose it is in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. I make a guess that the interest on that amount of money yearly will practically pay for the emergency care of charity patients at private hospitals.

REVENUE SERVICE ADJUNCT TO NAVY

Taft Approves Plan to Train Men for Use in Time of Future Wars.

ADDS TO COAST DEFENSE.

Small Guns to Be Placed on Vessels and Target Officer Assigned.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—While the administration is urging general arbitration as a means for the settlement of all international differences, it is, at the same time, observing the maxim of Washington, "In time of peace, prepare for war." Every possible aid to the navy is being utilized in the great war scheme which the navy department and the general board, of which Admiral Dewey is president, has arranged.

The latest feature of this scheme is the equipment and drill of the revenue cutter service, which is under the control of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, with a view to its use both as a second line of defense and as a recruiting depot for the navy.

The matter came to a head recently as a result of the activity of Robert O. Bailey, assistant secretary of the treasury. Mr. Bailey has direct charge of the revenue cutter service. On the 4th of July he happened to be aboard a revenue cutter. Under the regulations for the government of the navy and the revenue cutter service, a salute of twenty-one guns must be fired by every ship promptly at noon.

Incident Cause of Reform.

Half an hour before the time fixed Mr. Bailey observed a call to quarters of the crew of the vessel on which he was a passenger and saw them put through the motions of firing the guns. Apparently the ship was not prepared even to fire a salute. When the guns were discharged, everything was well done.

But the little incident set Mr. Bailey to thinking, with the result that First Lieut. Leonard T. Cutter was assigned to duty as target officer and the permission of the navy was obtained to his attachment to various men of war. In addition, Mr. Bailey arranged for the purchase of a number of six pounders and smaller weapons, and the navy department threw in the ammunition.

The effect of the action taken will be to supply the revenue cutters with the same caliber of guns and ammunition used by the navy. Moreover, there is to be frequent target practice.

Revenue Service Proves Value.

During the war with Spain a number of revenue cutters were impressed into the naval service and performed efficient work. These included the McCulloch, which joined Admiral Dewey in the far east, and participated in the battle of Manila bay, and the Windom, which bravely took part in operations on the south side of Cuba.

In addition, a number of revenue cutter officers, including the present engineering chief, Charles A. McAlister, were assigned to duty on naval vessels. The conduct of the service generally was what might be expected from American officers and men and it was rewarded.

There never has been any doubt as to the value of the service so far as the enforcement of the customs and navigation laws is concerned. But what the navy and treasury department now wants is a force that will mold readily into the naval service in time of war.

Vessels Which Are Available.

At the present time there are seventeen cutters of the first class—that is, ships of 664 tons displacement and over—nine vessels of the second class—520 tons displacement and less—and eleven vessels of the third class, which range from 48 to 220 tons displacement. In addition the service has two first class seagoing tugs and two vessels of the first class under construction.

Of the first class ships only twelve may be rated as modern vessels; of the second class, only three, and of the third class, five. One of the first class ships is the Itasca, which was formerly the United States gunboat Bancroft. It carries fifteen guns.

The vessel carrying the next largest number of guns is the Mohawk, which is supplied with six. Nine carry four guns. None of these ships is of high speed, but they would serve for patrol vessels and would be efficient for harbor defense work.

GIRL WILEY CASE SENSATION

Stenographer Tells of Submitting to Inquisition 2 Hours.

CONSENT OF WILSON GIVEN.

Two Chemists Declare Personnel Board Suppressed Evidence.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Miss Carrie M. Davis, stenographer to Dr. Kebler, chief of the drug division of the bureau of chemistry, testified today before the house committee which is investigating the charges against Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry.

She told of the "third degree" methods used to force subordinate employes of the bureau to betray the confidence of their superiors.

Miss Davis testified that she had been subjected to severe examination by Solicitor McCabe and W. P. Walsh, a special agent, in the effort to discover whether Dr. Kebler had relations with drug manufacturing companies. She said the door was locked and the inquisition continued two hours. She said Secretary Wilson consented to the examination.

Suppression of Facts Charged.

Dr. Baldwin, assistant chief of the bureau of chemistry, who was slated with Dr. Wiley for removal, finished his testimony. He sought to show that the agreement with Dr. Rusby was modeled upon one previously made between Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and members of the Ramsen pure food referee board, employed on a similar basis of pay.

He declared portions of his correspondence which would show this to be a fact had been omitted by the personnel board of the agricultural department when that body made up the charges upon which he was recommended for removal.

Fears to Give Information.

Dr. W. D. Bigelow also charged the suppression of correspondence showing the precedent set by Secretary Wilson in appointing members of the referee board.

Dr. Bigelow said Solicitor McCabe's criticisms had been so severe and so unjust that "no one in the bureau of chemistry is willing now to say anything to United States attorneys who are prosecuting pure food cases."

Tener Says That He Will Take Action if the Local Authorities Let Coatesville Lynchers Escape.

WOOL BILL REPORT PASSED BY HOUSE

Thirty-one Republicans Join Democrats in Voting for Tariff Measure.

SENATE WILL ACT TODAY.

Proposal Then Goes to President, Who Is Certain to Use Veto Upon It.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The tariff revisionists made considerable progress in congress today. The house, by a vote of 206 to 90, without a Democrat breaking the party alignment, adopted the conference report on the wool tariff revision bill and rushed it over to the senate, where it was hung up on the calendar for passage probably tomorrow.

For this measure, which imposes a flat ad valorem duty of 29 per cent on all raw wools, with corresponding reduced rates on woolen manufactures, the other two tariff measures will be sidetracked to give wool right of way to the White House for the expected veto.

On the veto depends the further program of the house Democrats and the senate Democrats and progressive Republicans, including the formulation of plans for a speedy adjournment.

Republicans Who Aided Bill.

Thirty Republicans and one Independent Republican voted for the wool bill conference report. They were:

Akin [N. Y.], Anderson [Minn.], Davidson [Wis.], Davis [Minn.], Esch [Wis.], Hanna [N. D.], Haugen [Ia.], Helgeson [N.D.], Hubbard [Ia.], Jackson [Kas.], Kent [Cal.], Kinkaid [Neb.], Kopp [Wis.], La Follette [Wash.], Lenroot [Wis.], Lindbergh [Minn.], Madison [Kas.], Miller [Minn.], Morse [Wis.], Murdock [Kas.], Nelson [Wis.], Norris [Neb.], Nye [Minn.], Kees [Kas.], Sloan [Neb.], Steenerson [Minn], Stephen [Cal.], Volstead [Minn.], Warburton [Wash.], Woods [Ia.], Young [Kas.].

The wool bill was pushed through the house after a debate of forty minutes, Democratic Leader Underwood checkmating the Republicans who refused to accept a debate limit of less than two hours.

Consideration of the measure was delayed for an hour or more by Republican Leader Mann's point of order that the conference committee had exceeded its authority in fixing rates of duty in certain schedules higher than the rates fixed in either the house or the senate

Await Senate on Cotton.

Democratic Leader Underwood, of the house, in expressing the opinion today that final adjournment will not come before next week, said he does not expect congress to stay after the pending bills have been disposed of "unless the senate determines to stay and act on the cotton bill." That bill, which makes an average cut of 21 per cent in cotton duties, was debated without action in the senate today. It already has passed the house.

HUNTS STEPFATHER AND GIRL

Mayor Asked by Deserted Wife to Find Child Aged 15.

DAUGHTER'S COMPANION 40.

Mrs. Mamie Scheller of Kansas Describes Couple Minutely.

The story of a 15 year old girl who was enticed away from home by her stepfather, twenty-five years her senior, was revealed yesterday in a letter received at the office of Mayor Harrison.

Mrs. Mamie Scheller, 1018 Cambridge avenue, Rosedale, Kas., declares in the letter that her husband ran away with Della, her daughter, on July 18, and that they were seen in Chicago by a friend of hers. She asks the mayor to help her find the child.

Charles C. Fitzmorris, private secretary to the mayor, asked the police to watch for the couple.

The man is said to be a meat cutter and paper hanger, and as he had little money when he left Kansas, Mrs. Scheller believes he is working at one of his trades in Chicago.

"My girl is only 15, but looks older," says Mrs. Scheller. "She has dark brown eyes, small round nose, good complexion, curly lips, nice teeth, moles on the back of her neck, is 5 feet and 3 inches in height, and weighs 106 pounds."

This is Mrs. Scheller's description of the man:

"He has small dark brown eyes, dyed hair, noticeable on temples, smooth face, large nose and mouth, upper teeth filled with gold, has sallow complexion, is 5 feet and 10 inches in heighth, weighs 140 pounds, has a thin face, nervous disposition, and smokes hard."

CALL OFF WIRELESS STRIKE.

Lake Shore Operators Get Message That Back Pay Is in Sight—United Company's Finances Improve.

Over the waves of the United Wireless telegraph system L. C. Dent, chief operator at the Chicago station, flashed a welcome message yesterday afternoon. It was to the effect that Stanley Bacon, receiver of the company, had arrived with back pay for the dozen striking operators along the lake shore.

The operators had refused to transmit any messages except those which involved affairs of "life and death" matters. With the announcement of forthcoming finances this embargo was called off.

Joseph Kelly, who had lived alone at 1242 Waller street since his wife left him two years ago, was found dead in bed in a gas filled room at his home last night.

No note of explanation was found, and a search of the clothes showed $50 and a gold watch.

Mr. Kelly is reported to have been well to do, owning the house he lived in and other property in the neighborhood. He was 65 years old.

BEATTIE INDICTED FOR WIFE MURDER

Grand Jury Returns First Degree True Bill Within Two Hours After Retiring.

TRIAL SET FOR MONDAY.

Neither Beulah Binford Nor Accused Man's Cousin Called as Witnesses.

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Aug. 14.—An indictment charging murder in the first degree was returned by the grand jury of the Chesterfield Circuit court today against Henry Clay Beattie Jr. of Richmond, who is believed to have slain his young wife on Midlothian turnpike on July 18 last. The trial was set for next Monday.

The grand jury did not examine either Beulah Binford or Paul Beattie, cousin of the accused man, who says he purchased the gun with which Mrs. Beattie is supposed to have been killed, although both remained in the anteroom during the time the jury was in session, expecting to be called as witnesses.

The state will charge that Beattie killed his wife because of his love for Miss Binford.

The only witnesses whose testimony was heard were Thomas E. Owen, uncle of the murdered woman; L. L. Scherer, a detective; T. P. Pettigrew, who found the gun with which the crime is alleged to have been committed; and Dr. J. G. Loving, the county coroner.

If convicted of murder in the first degree Beattie may be sent to the electric chair.

See the World of Merchandising Through Our Windows This Week

There is inspiration and education for everyone in the displays in all our windows this week. The demonstration of our manufacturing activities and facilities is illuminating. There is so much more to it than to a mere display of things to sell. Each window is a silent testimonial to our far-reaching system of serving the public.

After seeing the exhibits we believe everyone will appreciate all the more how completely the Marshall Field & Company Ideal actuates every phase leading up to the final production of even the smallest purchase.

Many people do not fully realize the magnitude of the merchandising and manufacturing scope of Marshall Field & Company. This tremendous development and constant activity, so interestingly demonstrated in our windows, has been made necessary by the steady growth of the demands upon us, both Wholesale and Retail.

We feel that we are in every sense a public institution; only by serving the public—directly through our Retail store, and indirectly through the thousands of merchants who buy of our Wholesale—could we command the advantages that are ours. These advantages accrue immediately in each purchase made, whether it is of us directly or of any out-of-town dealer who sells goods of our manufacture.

It is for this reason that merchants and travelers from all over the world make our windows their Mecca this week It is for this reason that we especially invite and urge the Chicago public to come and see this concrete exhibit of what our organization accomplishes each day for the buyers and users of good merchandise.

SOCIALIST QUITS; WOMAN THE CAUSE

Ancient Scandal Forces Resignation of Party's National Secretary.

ENEMIES DIG UP OLD TALE

Victor L. Berger Says Revelations Compelled Chicago Official to Give Up.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The fact that J. Mahlon Barnes, for many years secretary of the Social Democratic national executive committee, is not in Milwaukee attending the convention of the party is explained by the official announcement that he has resigned following the revival of a fourteen year old story of an affair with a woman.

Mr. Barnes was on the program to make the response to the address of welcome made by Mayor Seidel, but another took his place without any explanation for the change being given.

Story of Long Ago.

"It is the case of a woman," said Congressman Berger when asked in regard to the Barnes story.

"Years ago he became mixed up with a woman. This was over fourteen years ago. Charges were made against him at that time, but they were dropped. Since that time his relations with the woman were severed, though she continued to hold him up for money.

"Now the old charges have been brought up again by his enemies, including a clergyman and a lawyer. The national executive committee, when in Chicago, investigated the charges. Barnes did not deny them and as the result of the meeting he gave in his resignation freely, as he saw the party could not stand for any such things, even if the charges were old.

"His accounts are all right to a cent. He is one of the most efficient secretaries we ever had, but, of course, it was impossible for him to remain as secretary. We could not stand for any such thing."

Socialists for Big Lyceum.

The inauguration of a national socialist lyceum bureau was discussed by L. E. Katterfeld of Chicago at the closing meeting of the national conference of Social-Democratic officials today. He told of the effort that might be made through the bureau to organize the party more firmly in the United States by concentrated action by the socialist newspapers to gain subscribers and members to the party. A vote indorsing the project was taken by the conference.

A resolution was adopted for the formation of a central information bureau that could be used to keep all locals in the country informed as to what was going on in the ranks of the party.

A physical encounter between State Senator W. R. Gaylord and G. W. Boswell, a delegate from Missouri, was narrowly averted when the Missourian accused Gaylord and Congressman Victor L. Berger of disrupting the party in Missouri.

Boswell declared that the Milwaukee delegation entered the national convention held at St. Louis two years ago with the intention of disrupting the party in that state, and caused some of the delegates to bolt.

BARNES LIVES IN CHICAGO.

J. Mahlon Barnes is married and lives with his wife and daughter, 4 years old, in a flat at 2010 Osgood street. His apartment was closed yesterday afternoon. The janitor said the family was in Milwaukee and would not return until today. Barnes' office in Chicago is on the fourth floor of the building at 207 West Washington street.

GERMANS FAVOR PEACE PLAN.

Ambassador Gives Reply to General Arbitration Treaty Proposal to Department of State.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The reply of Germany to the proposition for a general arbitration treaty with the United States was presented to the state department today by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador.

It is understood to be distinctly favorable to the principles laid down by Secretary of State Knox and to presage the negotiation of a treaty with Germany similar to the pending conventions with Great Britain and France, provided the United States senate does not drastically amend those agreements.

President Taft has about decided not to press the senate to ratify the British and French arbitration treaties at the special session of congress. He has learned that an attempt to have the senate act favorably now might result in long debate and that finally they might be agreed to only in modified form.

CAMP DENEEN 'FIGHTS' FLIES

War Formally Declared; Use Torches and Blow Furnaces.

NIGHT BATTLES ORDERED.

Mayor Sullivan Decrees Death for Every One of Foe.

Flies became so thick around the tents of the Seventh regiment I. N. G. at Camp Deneen, Elgin, last night that Major Surgeon P. J. Sullivan ordered all men to burn the pests with torches and small blow furnaces instead of swatting them. Since the soldiers have camped at Elgin the fly has been the chief source of trouble to men in charge.

Major Sullivan has been studying the situation since last Saturday. At night, he discovered, the fliers enter the tents and cling to the tent poles.

Means to Kill Every One.

"If the men will do as instructed and burn the pests, we will be rid of them for all time in this camp," said Maj. Sullivan last night.

"At night, when the pests are clinging to the poles, is the time to get them. I will order the fly siege continued tomorrow night if not fully successful tonight. I mean to kill all the flies in the camp."

Sore Feet Fill Hospital.

In the hospital tents thirty men are laid up with sore feet caused by the new regulation shoes. The men are making preparations for governor's day, which will be next Wednesday.

Governor Deneen and his staff will arrive early Wednesday morning, as will 1,000 G. A. R. men. Final preparations for the day are not complete.

FEDERAL STATUTE PROPOSED FOR MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

Agitation of Col. Astor's Engagement Causes Members of Congress to Consider Regulation of Matrimony.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The storm of protest which has been raised over the approaching marriage of Col. John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeline Force has brought about an agitation among members of the senate and house of representatives looking to a federal law regulating marriage and divorce.

"The matter of establishing uniform divorce laws is one in which I am greatly interested," said Senator Curtis of Kansas today. "It is a matter that vitally affects the social interests of the nation and one which must soon be remedied.

"First among the laws should be one absolutely preventing in any state the marriage of a man whose wife divorced him on charges of crime. Along with this should be laws making both marriage and divorce more difficult. A commission might be appointed to ascertain the best way of establishing uniform laws throughout the country."

VATICAN DOCTORS FIND POPE BETTER

Fever Goes Down and Pain and Swelling in Patient's Knee Diminish.

ANXIOUS TO GET TO WORK

Asks Physicians How Long It Will Be Before He Can Hold Audiences.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ROME, Aug. 14.—The pope passed a good night, and this morning his physicians found that he was free of fever and that the pain and swelling in his knee were gradually vanishing. His holiness was strong enough to leave his bed and rested in an armchair.

The pope asked his physicians when he would be able to resume giving audiences. The physicians advised that he have plenty of rest and abstention from work during his convalescence. Receptions at the vatican in which the pope was to have a part have been put off until the weather becomes cooler.

Now Taking More Food.

His holiness is now taking more food, but his weakness is considerable and makes necessary the utmost caution. The slightest imprudence on the part of the pope is most likely to prove fatal.

The anxiety which has prevailed at the vatican since the pope became ill has not been relieved. The only care of the authorities seems to be to keep the patient quiet.

Thousands of telegrams continue to arrive at the vatican inquiring after the pope's health and expressing hopes for his prompt recovery. Only the names of the senders are made known to the pontiff.

Much comment has been caused by the publication of the regulations which are to govern the election of the pope's successor. The statement is made that any cardinal attending the conclave who shall accept any charge from any person or government that claims the right to veto the choice of a pope shall be excommunicated. In other words, Pius X. proclaims that the veto is abolished. Otherwise the regulations governing the election of a pope are the same as formerly.

Quigley Rumor Unfounded?

The reports from the United States that Archbishop James Edward Quigley of Chicago has been elevated to the cardinalate are said to be unfounded. The pope, it is asserted, has not considered holding a consistory for such a purpose. It is generally known that because of this year's celebration of the jubilee of Italian unity a consistory would not be held before December at the earliest, while it is more likely to be held next year.

At that time, although there are twenty-two vacancies in the cardinalate, it is believed that no American will receive a red hat, the pontiff adhering to his opinion that that country should have not more than one cardinal during the life of Cardinal Gibbons.

NEW CRISIS NEAR IN MOROCCO.

Warship Fleets of England, Germany, and France Take Strategic Positions There.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Interest was taken today in the German occupation of Agadir, Morocco, from which position Germany refuses to budge, when the announcement was received from Gibraltar that the British Mediterranean cruiser fleet had sailed for Tetuan, Morocco. The French warships, Forbin, Lansguenet and Surprise have also sailed for Casa Blanca. Germany has two or three warships at Agadir and with the warships of Great Britain and France assembled at other Moroccan ports the Moroccan situation has an ugly appearance.

OVERCOME WHILE AT BANQUET

Admiral Togo's Secretary Falls at Table in New York.

MAKES PLEA FOR PEACE.

Japanese Hero Says Country and America Should Be Friendly.

New York, Aug. 14.—At a banquet given by Col. Robert M. Thompson, the financier, to Admiral Togo tonight, S. Takaki, secretary to the admiral, suddenly rose from his chair with an expression of pain. In trying to leave the table he fell to the floor, striking his head, and was picked up unconscious by aids to Gen. Frederick D. Grant, U. S. A., and carried to another room.

Dr. J. Takamini, president of the Nippon club, declared the secretary was suffering from a violent attack of indigestion. At a late hour tonight he was reported resting easier.

Sees Countries at Peace.

"The relationship between the United States and Japan must ever be one of peace and neighborly good will."

As Admiral Count Togo uttered that sentiment today at the luncheon given jointly by the Japan society and the Peace society of New York an outburst of applause arose spontaneously from the hundreds of guests present.

Name Means "Peaceful Son."

"My name, Heihachiro Togo, possesses a particular significance," he continued. "Heihachiro signifies 'peaceful son,' and Togo means 'eastern country'—the peaceful man of the east. I consider, therefore, that the name by which I was christened entitles me to address you on terms of intimacy.

"I cannot conceive of a happier combination since the relationship between Japan and the United States must ever be one of peace and neighborly good will."

CONGRESS OF HAYTI ELECTS GEN. LECONTE AS PRESIDENT.

New Executive Turns Tables on Predecessor Who Exiled Him to Jamaica After Nord Alexis' Defeat.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Hayti, Aug. 14.—Congress today unanimously elected Gen. Cincinnatus Leconte president of Hayti. Leconte headed the larger of the two revolutionary factions that overthrew President Antoine Simon.

Gen. Simon drove Leconte into exile at the time that Simon led the successful revolution against President Nord Alexis.

When Nord Alexis fell in December, 1908, Leconte fled to Kingston, Jamaica. He returned when the present revolution was well under way and obtained a strong hold on the situation before the arrival of Gen. Firmin, the rival revolutionary leader.

THINK SLUGGERS DETAIN WITNESS

Authorities Say John Ramler Vanished When He Left Home for Short Walk.

MEN IN AUTO HOVER NEAR

Missing Man's Testimony Wanted in Trial of Higgins, Stevens, Enright, and Ragen.

John Ramler, missing labor slugger witness, has been kidnaped and may never return alive, the police and state's attorney's office believe. The authorities think labor sluggers or their friends are responsible for the union steamfitter's disappearance. Ramler is complaining witness against four "gunmen" accused of assault with intent to kill.

After a three days' search for Ramler, who left his residence, 3534 Wentworth avenue, on Friday afternoon, detectives last evening agreed that Ramler did not leave of his own accord.

It has been learned that more than a week ago former associates of Ramler tried to get him to leave town or refuse to prosecute the indicted labor sluggers. The proposals were indignantly turned down by Ramler. Ramler was shot by the assailants in the Heisen building raid on April 5, and, according to his physicians, can live only a short time.

Sluggers' Auto Hovers Near House.

The police have learned that automobiles bearing occupants whose descriptions tally with well known sluggers had been seen near the Ramler residence for several days before he disappeared.

Another significant feature, which the police assert is corroborative of the kidnaping theory, is that Ramler disappeared only after the defense was furnished by the state with the list of witnesses who were to appear against the four men accused by Ramler.

Try Stevens and Kane Tomorrow.

Another charge of assault with intent to kill, involving Stevens and Joseph Kane, business agent for the steamfitters' union affiliated with the United Association of Plumbers, was set for trial in Judge Honore's court tomorrow morning.

The pair are accused of taking part in a sluggers' assault upon union steamfitters at the Hygienic Ice company's plant. Four of their alleged companions in the raid have been convicted.

Geraghtys Get One Blessing.

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 14.—The parental blessings of the father and mother of the bridegroom were received today by Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Paul Geraghty, who eloped from Newport last Wednesday. Although the Newport automobile demonstrator did not make public the letter he received from his parents, he intimated that it was perfectly satisfactory. Both Geraghty and his society bride said today that they expected that in due time they would receive the good wishes of the latter's family.

A second marriage by a minister of the Episcopal faith is being considered by the eloping couple. No definite plans, however, have been made. Mrs. Geraghty is an Episcopalian, while her husband is of the Roman Catholic faith.

A smile played over the features of "Handsome Jack" today when he admitted that he had stopped smoking at the solicitation of his bride. Mrs. Geraghty appeared greatly pleased as her husband made the admission.

The young couple passed a quiet day at the home of the bridegroom's relatives, with whom they have been staying since their secret marriage in Central Village, Conn. Both have been tired somewhat by the notoriety the elopement has caused, and their contemplated honeymoon through the Berkshire hills was delayed another day.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 14.—A request for funds from friends in this city has been made by John Edward Paul Geraghty, the chauffeur who eloped last week with Miss Julia Steele French, the Newport and Tuxedo heiress, it was learned here today. The friends to whom the young bridegroom applied were not able to loan the money. It is not expected that the Geraghtys will make their permanent home here, although they are expected soon to make a somewhat lengthy visit.

Teach School Children to Respect Flag.

With the plans for a revival of patriotism among school children through a new national anthem still incomplete, a letter has been received by Mrs. Young asking for the organization of the pupils of all grades into the American Flag Volunteers.

The letter recommends that membership be open to all pupils, that the boys have charge of raising and lowering the flag instead of allotting this to the janitor, one boy as captain of a small squad. The girls, it is suggested, should have as their task keeping the flag clean.

All children are to notice any disrespect or carelessness, such as leaving the banner up after sunset or allowing it to be whipped to pieces by the wind, and are to appeal to the owners and their neighbors until there is a reform.

Hokanson, general director of the camp, said the idea had been successful both in this country and Europe. Where classes have been held on the roofs of buildings, he said, the result was marked improvement in the health of the children.

Forbids Girls' Basketball.

Manitowoc, Wis., Aug. 14.—Basketball by girls of the city schools will be prohibited next year because of the danger in the game and a belief that the exercise is too violent to be beneficial or healthful to high school girls. City School Superintendent P. J. Zimmers says he will inaugurate other athletic exercises to supplant basketball for the girls.

"Flunks'" School Proves Success.

WHEN the report of the work accomplished in the first season of Chicago's summer school for high school pupils who have fallen behind in their regular term studies is considered it is probable there will be recommendations for the installation of two more schools of the sort next summer.

The school for "flunks"—or, rather, high school pupils who have "flunked" in not more than two studies—started early last month at the Wendell Phillips school. The plan was conceived and developed by Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, and was a new venture in American educational methods.

With the reports of its success during the first week of its existence it left the experimental stage and was assured permanency. Now the advantages which have through geographical conditions been confined to south side students are reasonably certain to be offered children of the north and west sides.

Mrs. Young has been receiving regular reports of progress from James L. Armstrong, principal of th eEnglewood High school, who was placed in charge of the summer school. She has just made a personal investigation of it, the first since her return from Los Angeles, and says she is thoroughly satisfied.

"I find the school a thorough success," she said. "It is due to a variety of causes, among them the ability of the teachers in charge. The pupils seem in earnest and making the most of the opportunity to catch up with their classes. Not without effect is the fact that there are $10 tuition charges, so there is an impelling force in the direction of studiousness given by the parents who pay this charge. I might say that this will be a condition of the establishment of any similar schools next summer, for we find that it does arouse the interest of the parents, and that is a considerable spur."

The matter of transportation practically precludes the attendance of west and north side children at the Wendell Phillips school at Prairie avenue and Thirty-ninth street. This is demonstrated in the scarcity of pupils who do not live in the south division of the city. In the opening of two more schools next year they aim at the betterment of educational conditions all over Chicago. Similar satisfaction is expressed over progress at the three vacation schools for children of the lower grades.

Peace Conference Program Is Made.

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 14.—The peace advocates closed their conference today, having agreed upon the essentials to be included in a declaration to the world in which their hopes and their program will be set forth.

The members of the conference believe important consequences will follow this meeting of economists and that for the first time the problem of war will be studied scientifically by the deepest thinkers of all nations. Neither effort, time, nor abundant funds will be spared to carry on the research work, the result of which, it is expected, will illuminate the whole subject and have an authoritative value. The final act of the conference was to send a telegram to Andrew Carnegie at Skibo castle, whose peace foundation made the gathering possible.

The declaration to the world asks that all nations concentrate their attention upon the value of serious and scientific study of the causes of war, of peace as the best preventive of war, and as to the best method for the promotion of peace. It says the economists and publicists who convoked the present conference were chosen by reason of their competence to deal with the various subjects discussed, but that it should be understood their rôle for the moment is limited to the formulation of questions. The answers to their questions will be given by leading international thinkers best qualified to study each and every question. It adds that the work, therefore, has only begun, but that it will be pushed vigorously and systematically.

"Study of the causes and consequences of war," the declaration continues, "constitutes only a part of the grand work. Peace will be studied in the same spirit and with the same method. Efforts will be made to determine and measure with the same scientific precision the action of the forces working toward unity of mankind, which daily is becoming more and more intense."

Puccini's Operas Taken from Chicago Company.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The Chicago-Philadelphia Opera company, of which Mr. Andreas Dippel is the director and M. Cleofonte Campanini is the general musical director, will not be permitted to perform any of the works of Puccini during its forthcoming season in Chicago, Philadelphia, or any other towns that Mr. Dippel may propose to visit.

On this resolution the members of the firm of Giulio Riccordi, M. Puccini's representatives and ministers plenipotentiary, are determined. Nor can the absence of the name of Puccini from the répertoire of the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera company be regarded as anything but serious.

Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," "La Bohême," "The Girl of the Golden West," and "Tosca" are the mainstay of every opera house that has the privilege of performing them. Each one of them is a certain unavoidable draw. During the last season in London the syndicate which runs the Royal opera at Covent Garden has relied entirely upon the Puccini répertoire to make its profits.

The importance of Puccini's operas to an impresario may be judged from the fact that had the Metropolitan Opera company of New York possessed the rights to perform these operas in Europe (that is to say, in London) M. Gatti Casazza would have given a season of opera in London this summer at Drury Lane theater and in opposition to Covent Garden; but contracts in force between the firm of Riccordi and the syndicate at Covent Garden precluded the performance of Puccini's works except at Covent Garden. So the Metropolitan Opera company was compelled to abandon its design.

Giulio Riccordi & Co. are represented in New York by an American corporation bearing the same name. The head of that corporation is George Maxwell. Mr. Maxwell said today:

"It is not our custom to discuss our business relations with this or that opera company for publication in the press. I may say, however, that it is extremely unlikely that any of Puccini's works, or, indeed, any works copyrighted by the Casa Riccordi, will be performed during the forthcoming season of the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera company."

Mr. Maxwell would not go into the reasons that had compelled M. Puccini and his publishers to withdraw their works from performance by the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera company. But withdrawn they are.

Small Talk of the Stage.

An early operetta of Franz Lehar's, with a Victor Leon "book," is to figure in this country as "The Perfect Lady." In its original form it was called "A Marriage for Fun." The Messrs. Irving Berlin, "Ted" Snyder, Vincent Bryan, and Ray Goetz, whose names figure in occasional playbills as the authors of "additional numbers," are trying to fit the Lehar score with new lyrics and dialogue.

Melbourne MacDowell, widower of Fanny Davenport, is to act in support of Mrs. Aphie James, widow of Louis James, in a play called "Judy O'Hara." Mrs. James acted here last November in the Cort, in "The Seventh Daughter."

Harry B. Smith is making a play from the Perlmutter and Potash stories by Mr. Montague Glass. Alexander Carr, who is to head the masculine division of the cast of the new La Salle piece, "Louisiana Lou," and Mr. Barney Bernard are the managerial choice for the respective rôles of the title.

Miss Hallie Erminie Reeves' story called "Satan Sanderson" has been made into a play for the use of Norman Hackett, an idol of theatergoers who are not essentially exacting where players are concerned.

Fuller Mellish and George Farren will play in Joseph Medill Patterson's "Rebellion" with Miss Gertrude Elliott. They were in the experimental performances of the play on May 4, 5, and 6 last in Kansas City.

Differ on Eames' Marriage.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Aug. 14.—It is apparent that a controversy has arisen concerning the status of the marriage recently of Mme. Emma Eames to Emilio de Gogorza, the baritone. The statement is made on authority that, in the eyes of the church, neither had been married before. Mme. Eames was never baptized, and, as a consequence, she is looked upon as an infidel. Such being the case, her first wedding is not regarded as binding. For this reason, she was entitled to embrace Catholicism and marry Gogorza. The latter, it is pointed out, was married previously by a magistrate, and this ceremony is not recognized by the church.

In view of all this, the attitude is taken that the church is concerned only with the marriage of Eames and Gogorza, which was celebrated on July 7 last. The report that Mme. Eames paid a large sum for a dispensation is untrue.

Zionists to Have New Board.

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 14.—The Zionist congress, believing that the retirement of David Wolffsohn as president of the organization, offered an opportunity for changes in the rule and statutes of the organization, decided today that a college composed of seven members henceforth shall manage the Zionist movement.

There was some criticism at today's meeting of the management of the Jewish Colonial Trust in London. Delegate Sheyne of Toronto offered financial assistance for the opening of a branch of the Colonial Trust in Canada, but no decision as to whether his offer will be accepted was reached.

The insurgent Chicago Zionist organization, the Knights of Zion, has been recognized by the congress and will remain independent from the American federation. The congress passed a resolution favoring the fusion of associations of women Zionists.

After the elections tomorrow the congress will come to an end.

"Prodigal Parents" Fill City.

In an address delivered Sunday evening at the Moody church, 808 La Salle avenue, the Rev. E. H. Emmett of Los Angeles spoke on the subject of prodigal fathers and mothers.

"We sometimes talk," said Mr. Emmett, "of prodigal sons and daughters. I wonder if our ears should not be attuned to hear more of his speaking to the prodigal fathers and mothers who have failed to know that there is efficacy in the touch of Jesus Christ?

"Today this city and every great city is filled with prodigal sons and daughters because there were so many prodigal fathers and mothers. If we had more faith in Jesus Christ to save boys and girls and fathers and mothers, what a difference it would make in our churches!

"It is for you to exercise faith in the power of Jesus Christ—his power to change the lives of our children—as the parents of old did for their little ones."

On Proper Care of Babies.

Chicago children are to be taught how to care for their baby brothers and sisters.

Schools of instruction for the "little mothers" are to be opened Thursday. Kindergarten teachers and nurses from the city health department will give the children a course of instruction lasting two weeks.

The schools will be opened at the University of Chicago settlement, Northwestern university settlement, and at west park No. 2. The pupils will be children between the ages of 8 and 14 years. Both boys and girls will be taught.

Babies will not be furnished by the schools. Students must bring their own baby brothers and sisters, or borrow one from their neighbors. They will be taught to do the following things: Amuse the babies and keep them from crying. Bathe and dress them. Get them to take a nap without being rocked to sleep, and give them a drink without spilling water on their dresses.

Fifty students will be accommodated in each school. Dr. Caroline Hedger, head of the health department's visiting nurses, announced yesterday that the instruction would be given every day for two weeks. If the schools prove successful instruction will be given every Saturday morning during the public school year.

Woman and Her Interests.

NOTE—Miss Russell will be glad to answer any question pertaining to womanly beauty. Miss Libbey will reply to queries on social problems. Mrs. Eddington will give advice on housekeeping. Personal replies will be given if a stamped and addressed envelope is inclosed.

Under Love's Influence.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1911: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

LOVE influences a young man to make a name and fame for himself. It influences him to battle with a world of men, clashing mental swords with them, to give comforts to those he loves.

Love makes a law abiding citizen out of an impetuous man of whom those who know him best declare nothing can tame. The man with a lion's roar becomes as gentle as the veriest lamb under the potent influence of the tender passion.

Love must not be confused with affection's dross, otherwise known as infatuation. True love is sacred; infatuation is momentary satisfaction, which usually ends abruptly with satiety. Love is a joy that lasts forever. Infatuation is a nettle which scourges keenly when the blossom has at last turned into a thorn.

If there was no such sentiment as love in the world the mating of human beings could be carried on upon a purely business basis. There would be but one thing to recommend this state of affairs—it could have no disillusionments. It is a great blessing that men fall in love not only for themselves but for the community at large. They go through the processes of love's influencing as through a crucible, coming forth refined in nature, heart, and sentiment.

Every man likes to appear as a hero in the eyes of the woman he loves. Love keeps his feet out of many pitfalls. It makes him careful even of the choice of his companions. He would not permit the dearie of his heart to see him in the company of men whose characters are shady. Nor would he allow her to hear of his being in company where hilarity ruled judgment.

A man is not the only one under the guiding star of love's influence.

"Where love hath its seat of reason, it is judicious." The woman who loves wisely finds it the most beautiful gem in her crown of womanhood, her highest happines. The woman who loves not wisely but too well finds it a tarnished crown whose rivets soon fall out, or a rose in whose heart the worm has turned the honey into a canker spot. She finds what she thought to be love her deepest woe.

Love binds the inmates of the home. They cling fondly together until some other love wedges itself in, stealing from the hearthstone a daughter or a son to transplant them to other spheres of affection.

Of the bachelor, in love with himself, love's influence is self-centered. All in good time he too discovers what he supposed to be love was merely infatuation. It is too late then to guide his fancy into channels new.

Under love's influence all that is praiseworthy and noble may be accomplished. He who gives himself up to infatuation finds that his road of pleasure ends in a precipice.

Let no one fear love's influence; rather encourage it. It is the root and branch of all of life's happiness, its prosperity, and its usefulness. It is all that makes life worth the living.

He's Looking for a Housekeeper.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I see Effie is looking for a man, and I am looking for a nice housekeeper with a good record. If Effie is in earnest it may make a match, as I mean straight business and can show a good record all around. Please do what you can to make us meet. F. G. H."

She Doesn't Like Boys.

"Dear Miss Libbey: About a year ago my father married again, and he has died since. My stepmother is very young and beautiful. She thinks I am old fashioned because I do not care to associate with boys. She calls me a tomboy and says she is disgusted with me because I like to run our auto and ride our horses. Don't you think it is all right to do those things, because I am only 16? My stepmother invites several boys to luncheon and leaves me to entertain them. I hate the task, because they will not row for fear of getting tan, and they are afraid to ride my horses for fear of getting thrown. What am I to do to make my stepmother stop inviting boys to my home? Whenever I have a lawn party she will never let me pick my own crowd. My stepmother invites a boy who lives next door to go riding with me, but whenever the time comes I am always sick or have some other excuse to offer, for I don't think it proper for a boy and girl to go riding by themselves. Do you? As there is no older person at our house to go with us, what excuse can I offer? I have only one sister, who is three years younger than I am, but she is just like my stepmother, always going to parties and dances, and she could not live without it, while I can hardly live with it. My stepmother is keeping steady company with the father of the boy who lives next door. This morning she was telling me what a good father he would make. If she should marry him I don't know what I should do with two of them. C. B."

I think you are rather too young to choose your own associates. Your stepmother appears to be a good woman, and you had better be guided by her suggestions. This independent spirit that you boast of often leads girls into great trouble. Outdoor life is all right, but there is such a thing as getting too much of it.

"A Bright, Intelligent Man."

"Dear Miss Libbey: Am 18 and am keeping company with a young man three years my senior. He is bright and intelligent, has good habits, and earns good wages. The other evening he asked me to marry him, but not until he has a nice home built and paid for. Now I am afraid to accept such a serious proposal, as I am so full of life and like outdoor sports better than housework, and everything grows old so quickly with me. I have to partly support myself. Please let me know what I shall do. Shall I accept the proposal? S."

Do not marry the man unless you love him. Feeling as you do, I don't think it would be wise for you to marry for some time yet.

Letters Approving of "Puss and Kitty."

"Dear Miss Libbey: Hurrah for Puss and Kitty. I agree with them entirely. A fellow takes a girl home from a dance or a party, and the first thing he wants to do is to kiss her and put his arm around her waist. If the girl objects he goes away angry, and the chances are that he will not call again. On the other hand, if the girl lets him kiss her and all the rest of that mushy dope, he thinks it's all right at the time, but he knows and the girl knows that he does not think very much of her. Still they go on doing those foolish things. Why can't a fellow be decent and reasonable when he escorts a young lady home? They might sit on the front porch for a short time, discussing current topics and so forth, and then say good night. Now, don't you think that he would think all the better of that girl and call again? "MARY."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I wish to corroborate the truth of the article written for your column by "Puss and Kitty," for I think it echoes the sentiment of every girl's heart, at least, every decent girl's, and there are a great many of them. A girl naturally looks to her escort for protection. I agree with "Puss and Kitty" that, if the men would act the gentleman, they would not find the girls lacking and would save many a soul from the downward path. I have been brought in contact with men more or less all my life, and many a time I have had to blush in silence at a remark directed toward me by a so-called man and pretend not to hear or understand it. If all girls would retain their self-respect, no matter what position they might be placed in, men would soon learn to look up to us, and we would regain that pedestal to which God destined us. ELIZABETH."

"Dear Miss Libbey: I read with interest the communication of "Puss and Kitty." If the parties, P. and K., will hold to their idea of not letting a man kiss them, they will be amply rewarded for their virtues in time. I feel very sorry for the girl who finds herself unsafe with a man whom she has met through the formality of an introduction. I have as yet to see the man, however low he may be, who will not respect a woman when she commands respect. The girl who hugs and kisses, as a rule, has "men," but not a "man." Some author has well said that "She who gives her lips gives her all," and the girl who is the recipient of the hugs and kisses is only sought for as a plaything, to be dropped by the wayside when another comes along. Man is by nature aggressive, as is the lower order of the animal world. He strives to kiss, and the one who is idiotic enough to allow it loses much in his estimation of her. The hook by which she held him is broken. Keep it up, P. and K., until you are engaged or married. Your lips are your assets, and when the time comes they will be much more appreciated. J. J."

Wishes She'd Remained.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 33 and would like to have some one to love, because I am so lonesome. Do you know of any nice young man that would want to be loved by a nice girl like me? I have been alone for such a long time that I am not particular about his looks and so forth. But he must be able to make a good living for two, as I certainly would not care to go to work after I am once married. I think the home is a woman's place, and I don't take any stock in suffragists. I would prefer some one living in Arizona or New Mexico. I left the southwest three years ago after the death of my parents, and wish I had stayed there, as it is the only place I am at home in. "HILDA."

The fact that you don't take any stock in suffrage is nothing to your credit. Every woman who thinks for herself today has come to see the great need for woman suffrage. The woman who puts herself down as being opposed to suffrage is simply telling the world about her that she does not know what she is talking about. Feeling as you do toward the western states, I think the best thing for you to do is to go back there. I feel that it would be more than probable that you could find a husband out there. I am told women are scarce in those two states.

Such Slang!

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been keeping company with one of the dearest little blondes—at least I thought I was the whole company—as my feet have been asleep over her for over a year. But the other night when I got the subject right down to the sandpaper and asked her how she would like to gaze at me under the 'orange blossoms' to 'O, Promise Me,' she said that she didn't think a pallbearer's suit would match my blue eyes—that I looked so much cuter in brown. I thought that a fair joke until she continued by saying that she didn't think any one could love a traveling man but a cockroach. I got real angry at that and decided to let her marry the village plumber. While I think her discretion was somewhat on the fluke, I still love her. A girl friend of hers told me that she thought I'd be some fellow if I would go back to the farm. So what am I going to do to make her love me? L. F."

Try and be a bit more serious and less slangy first of all. If the girl you speak of has any sense of the responsibility of married life, or the sacredness of a marriage or an engagement, she must have been nauseated if you talked with her in the same vein that you write. Nothing cheapens a man so much as to use such blasts of slang as you do. It stamps you as being ill bred and provincial.

He Praises Other Girls!

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been going with a young man for some time, and when we are out together he seems to delight in talking about how nice and good looking different girls are. Now, is it considered polite for a young man to do this? It troubles me very much, as I am fond of this young man. "ANXIOUS."

While there is nothing impolite about it, it is a bit discourteous to you. The next time he does it join in strongly with praise for the girl. Agree with everything he says about her. That is the way to do. He'll soon get tired.

Economical Housekeeping.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Fennel and Italian Marrow.

THIS is the time of year to begin to watch for rare things in the vegetable and fruit markets. Specialties which he who boasts his own spacious garden may always have, now and then are sent to the markets by commercial growers.

If your own particular market man has nothing but the same old round of things, and you like variety, take some excursions round and about, the farther afield the better. You will find it interesting, and it is not necessary to possess an automobile to become a patron of the market, garden, the small grower, or the unusual store.

Suppose on a day you take a street car through, or on the outskirts of "Little Italy"—let us forget the other diminutive for this section of Chicago—with your market eye out. You will surely find a place to shop for some unusual things—if you have taken the right car.

On such a trip one may pass a dozen displays of vegetables before discovering one that is different, but a good eye for such things will discover the rare greens and gourds and salads fifty feet away. When you see these things, jump off and investigate, with an open and teachable mind.

The other day there were to be had at such a place fennel, which the Italians call finocchio, of which they are so fond that they put it up in cans—two strange members of the gourd family—marrows—one rough leaved green and a strange salad. Inside the shop were Italian canned goods, tomato paste in 6 cent cans, the fennel, etc.

If you have no Italian vocabulary you may, nevertheless, make progress with the Italian shopkeeper in learning how these things should be cooked à la Italy. And, moreover, you will seem to be conferring a favor by asking how. A native customer, as well as merchant, will instruct you.

First, suppose you ask about these three feet lang, smooth, thin skinned, green twisted things. "Take off the skin," says your instructor, "no good. Slice and fry with tomatoes and onion and then pour on hot water. Ver' good!"

My instructress was right. It is good and economical. One of these long marrows, at 10 cents, will keep well and serve a family of four for three or four meals, when cooked with a little onion and two or three tomatoes. It is not necessary to pour on hot water and make a stew of this dish, but if you do use but little and thicken the liquid with flour. This makes a satisfying dish. The general feeling of satisfaction you will have after eating it may be compared to that you will have after eating a good vegetable soup heavy with tomato. I called this an Italian hodge podge.

One variety of fennel, or love in a mist, is called Florence or Naples fennel. This plant was formerly used for sauces in America, but is rare now. It is common in California, perhaps because the Italian vine growers live there.

Fennel is spoken of in vegetable books as an "odd salad," to be used raw or boiled. The young stalks, blanched, are used for salad purposes, and these are the best for all use, but the older stalks are used for soups and fish sauces, especially for mackerel.

In general, fennel sauces are made exactly like those with parsley, the most common being that made with melted butter and the boiled and chopped fennel. Like parsley, too, fennel is used for garnishing.

There are several varieties of fennel. The Latin name for the finocchio, or Florence fennel, is "Fœniculum dulce," and dulce or sweet it certainly is. It not only has a sweetish flavor but an odor, subtly suggestive of anise, that may be quite sickening to one not accustomed to it.

In an old and most interesting book on "The Field and Garden Vegetables of America," there is the statement that fennel "is served, like celery, with various condiments, and possesses a sweet, pleasant aromatic taste. It is a popular vegetable in some parts of Europe, but is rarely cultivated in this country."

The Italians have a fennel sausage, as would be expected.

Fennel Sauce.—Strip a handful of young fennel from stem, wash clean, and boil quickly for ten minutes, or until quite tender, in salt and water. Press the water well from it, mince it fine, with from one-fourth to one-half pint of melted butter, as required for dish it is served with.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

How Shall I Reduce My Weight?

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL.

[Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.]

SO many appeals have come to me asking the above question that I am going to give you two methods in today's talk. The only way to reduce one's flesh is to supply less calories than one requires.

A fat person utilizes from 2,625 to 1,925 calories daily, according to his weight. Now, if one can supply less than these, the difference in the amount will have to be made up by utilizing the fat already accumulated in the tissues.

Prof. Robin, a French physician, outlines in La Clinique his plan for reducing the weight of those politely and professionally classed as obese. He first takes the stand of almost every other physician who claims he is able to reduce flesh by saying that one must sleep just as little as is compatible with health. One must not lie in bed over eight hours at night, and seven hours is better.

One should never read in bed; one should never recline any time during the day, and should keep upon his feet as much as possible. At 7:30 in the morning a glass of hot water or very weak freshly made tea should be drunk, and a half hour afterwards a very little cold meat and a very little bread crumb can be eaten. The crumb is advised because it contains less nourishment than the crust of the bread. After this meal the patient must walk for a half hour. At 10:30 a. m. two soft boiled eggs, a small bit of bread crumb, and a large cup of very weak tea, hot. At midday one takes another meal, for which, you may be sure, one will not have much appetite.

For this one can have chicken or fish and a large plate of salad with lemon juice instead of vinegar, as much fruit of any kind as one likes, and a drink of hot water or tea. After this one must walk for a half hour.

The woman must realize the importance of the little things in this matter. At 5 p. m. she has another cup of very weak tea, a little crumb of bread, and another walk, and at 7:30 the midday meal may be repeated. But if hot meat is partaken of, another walk should be insisted upon. It is estimated that by this method a person of good appetite will only assimilate daily 1,300 calories (calories are the fat producing element of food), and in this manner will reduce his flesh about 300 grams a day.

Although I have not tried this régime, it is one very much like that which is used at one of the famous cures in Germany, and looks as though it might be very helpful. Most people who try to reduce themselves starve themselves until they look old as well as thin, and the method employed by the French professor should keep one perfectly nourished.

Whenever an actress wishes to impersonate an aged woman she blue pencils deep shadows to represent hollows at her temples, under her cheek bones, and in her throat. Starvation does the same thing, consequently one must not try to get thin too rapidly, as it produces the same hollows and lines, besides wearing one's nerves to a frazzle.

I have a friend who keeps herself down to normal weight by going every year upon a thirty day diet of skim milk. She goes into retreat, however, because she says that she knows if she would stay among her friends she would lose them all, as this diet makes her irritable to the verge of rudeness.

"I am not quite sure," she said, "which is the best, to spoil my form or my disposition, consequently I keep away from every one I love during this time." At the end of the month, however, she reappears with a complexion like a baby's and a figure from which she has cut thirty pounds of flesh, and she still retains her freshness and curves. Her diet is three quarts of skim milk daily, one upon arising and one at noon and one at night. With this she drinks three quarts of imported Vichy water, taking it hot. She walks at least five miles a day, and declares by this régime she not only reduces her flesh but eliminates an accumulation of uric acid, to which she is prone.

There is nothing in the way of beauty culture which entails so much trouble and hardship as reducing one's flesh, and very few women accomplish it, although you never see a fat woman who does not declare she has tried all reduction cures. The woman who can take off twenty-five pounds of flesh adds hundreds of pounds to her power of will. The woman who can reduce her flesh successfully can accomplish almost anything, besides being able to resist any temptation that she wishes.

REMEMBER—A thin girl can soar into the realms of romance, where the woman who is fat can never hope to reach. Flesh and ideality are not compatible.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

WALBERG: In the case of tan, the adage holds true that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." The skin should be protected as much as possible, to prevent these troubles. If your skin tans easily, it should be protected first by using some cold cream and then dusting with a pure powder. A liberal amount of cold cream should be dabbed on and carefully wiped off with a sterilized gauze. Both buttermilk and lemon juice are excellent for taking off tan. Squeeze the juice from a lemon into half a glass of buttermilk and apply with a soft cloth several times daily. Always use cold cream afterward. Fresh buttermilk, used as if it were water, takes off tan better than almost anything that is known. It should be applied freely and allowed to dry in. If the tan is deep and these simple remedies do not remove it entirely, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the formula of the lotion which was used on my own freckled skin as a child.

MAXINE: Have you tried the deep breathing exercises for enlarging the bust? If not, write me again, sending stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I will send you instructions for a fine set of deep breathing exercises. To the girl with a small bust they are the greatest possible help, for they help to expand the muscles, and in time will surely enlarge the bust itself. If you will practice these deep breathing exercises persistently, I will warrant you will find a great improvement in a few months. The trouble with most girls is that they want to accomplish cures in a week, and this, of course, cannot be done. To make the eyelashes grow, rub nightly with the fingers, applying plain olive oil.

MINNIE: Bad circulation and weak muscles are to blame for an excessively oily condition of the scalp. For poor circulation, scalp massage is a sovereign remedy. In fact, massage of the scalp is absolutely necessary to keeping it in good condition. It should be done with the tips of the fingers, thoroughly and vigorously every night, and every portion of the scalp should be moved free from the skull. In this way the sluggish circulation is aroused. If you will send me stamped, self-addressed envelope and letter asking for them, I shall be glad to send you complete instructions for scalp massage.

MISS E.: There are numerous causes of indigestion. Sometimes the trouble is in the stomach, again in the intestines. A small pinch of bicarbonate of soda, in hot water, thoroughly dissolved, will in most cases prove helpful. Golf is an excellent exercise to cure indigestion. Every sluggish part of the body is stirred by the game of golf, and ills, real and imaginary, drop off until after a few months on the links, new blood, new muscles, and a clear brain come as a natural consequence. If you do not have time for golf every day, try the following exercises: Take your place before an open window and inhale a deep breath while you slowly count six. Hold your breath and spring from standing position with the feet well separated, and at the same time raise the arms until they are poised over your head. Exhale slowly with the mouth closed and then inhale again to the count of six. Now bend to the floor, lowering the arms until they are between the knees, then with another quick spring bring the feet together and the arms to the sides. Let me hear of your progress.

ANXIOUS: To make the eyelashes grow rub nightly with the finger tips, applying either plain olive oil or vaseline. If you will send me a letter, with a self-addressed stamped envelope, I will send you recipes for an effective French eyebrow tonic and for the simple methods by which a number of my friends develop their busts.

ANSWER DENEEN ON PARK REFORM

Catherwood, Fleming, and Hooker Deny Boosting Jones for Governor.

DEMANDS A RETRACTION.

Civic Secretary of City Club Join Civil Service Men in Denouncing Mugler.

Gov. Deneen's statement on the park system civil service law, and particularly with regard to George A. Mugler of the west park system and John C. Cannon of the Lincoln park system, brought a double barreled retort yesterday. Robert Catherwood and Herbert E. Fleming jointly and George E. Hooker, civic secretary of the City Club of Chicago, replied to the governor.

Mr. Catherwood, as president, and Mr. Fleming, as secretary, of the Civil Service Reform association said emphatically that the original attack upon the state administration for its relation to the park system civil service had nothing whatever to do with the gubernatorial campaign of Walter Clyde Jones.

Says Deneen Should Back Up.

Mr. Hooker said as much and more on behalf of the City club, and in a personal letter addressed to Gov. Deneen in Springfield suggested that it would be the proper thing for the governor to do to withdraw his statement affecting the City club and the "Jones for governor" movement.

Gov. Deneen was in Chicago during the day. He is preparing to go the rounds of the state national guard camps. He confined his public comment to the statement that he supposed he would receive Mr. Hooker's letter in the ordinary course of business at Springfield, and until then it would not be becoming to talk about it.

Points to Admissions.

The joint statement of Mr. Catherwood and Mr. Fleming in part follows:

"Gov. Deneen admits that he approved the appointment of George A. Mugler, Republican ward committeeman, to the position of superintendent of employment in charge of the civil service administration for the west park system.

"The governor fails to deny that he forced the appointment of John C. Cannon as superintendent of employment upon the board of Lincoln park commissioners.

"As to neither Mr. Mugler nor Mr. Cannon does Gov. Deneen offer the slightest proof of competency to administer the new civil service law according to its letter and spirit. He has not a word to say concerning their unsavory records as given by the Municipal Voters' league. He does not deny that they have been notoriously ward bosses and distributors of patronage jobs, and that both are Republican county committeemen.

"Gov. Deneeen, however, says that the appointment of Mr. Mugler which he advised is only temporary. If the governor's statement means that Mr. Mugler is to resign and a nonpolitical appointment is to be made, it is good news.

Says Mugler Is Immovable.

"Legally, however, Mr. Mugler can hold on to his position as superintendent of employment regardless of the governor and of the West Park commission. The law provides that the superintendent of employment shall have a six year term. It provides that he cannot be removed except by a proceeding before the county judge and two circuit judges, for palpable incompetence or malfeasance in office. The law also says: 'No person appointed, or about to be appointed to the position of civil service commissioner, or to position in the classified service, shall execute or sign a resignation in advance.'"

SKIMPED PAVING ORDERED UP

City Board Condemns Indiana Avenue Cement and Brick.

Corrections Demanded; Material on Hand Carted Away.

Use of cement and brick inferior to that specified in the contract was stopped by the board of local improvements yesterday after investigation of the charges of "skimping" in the construction of catch basins in Indiana avenue between Thirty-ninth and Fifty-first streets. Corrections were ordered. The material of that kind on hand was carted away.

The board found that the Washington Construction company had been using ordinary cement, when Portland cement was specified, and that poor brick was being put in.

May Tear Up Catch Basin.

Clayton F. Smith, a member of the board, says he was unable to find that bricks had been laid without mortar, as charged by Dr. N. W. Jipson, secretary of the Indiana Avenue Improvement association.

Dr. Jipson insists that bricks were laid in the bottom of the catch basin with no mortar between them. One of the catch basins may be torn up to determine if his asertion is correct.

Chief Engineer at Inquiry.

Inspection of the work was made by John B. Hittle, chief engineer for the board, and Frank Rydzewiski and Mr. Smith, members.

"The property owners were well pleased with our inspection and I don't think there will be any more difficulty," said Mr. Smith. "Some bricks that were only partially baked were being used, but we ordered them taken away."

ABSOLUTE LIFE STIRS HAMMOND

Evelyn See, Mona Rees, and Mildred Bridges Billed to Lecture—Citizens Promise Summary Treatment.

The citizens of Hammond have promised Evelyn Arthur See, founder of the "Absolute Life," a lively time if he attempts to lecture in the Orpheum theater tomorrow night.

Last Saturday placards appeared about the city announcing that See, Mona Rees and Mildred Bridges would lecture on the cult Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Several massmeetings of indignant citizens have been held. First a demand was made upon H. R. St. Clair, manager of the theater, to cancel the engagement. He refused to do so. Then nearly 300 men held a meeting and issued the ultimatum that if the "Absolute Life" leader and his disciples appear, they will be asked to leave town immediately and if they refuse will be escorted to the limits in summary fashion.

CANNON HOLDS UP REDISTRICT PLAN

"Uncle Joe" Said to Hold Key to New Congressional Apportionment Move.

HAS M'KINLEY WITH HIM.

Politicians Wait Decision on Candidacy Which May Settle Troublesome Question.

Congressional reapportionment of Illinois is apparently depending upon Former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the Danville district. As sized up yesterday by some politicians who are closely watching developments, the situation is about this:

> If Uncle Joe finds it to be necessary to be a candidate for renomination, he wants to run in his district as it is now constituted.
>
> In such case, a well established community of interest existing between Mr. Cannon and Congressman William B. McKinley will force a reapportionment which will start on the basis that the Cannon and McKinley districts stand intact.

It is said to be well understood by legislative leaders that such a reappointment cannot go through the legislature, because of the conflict of interests in other sections of the state. This means that there will be no possibility of a republican house caucus and agreement upon which Gov. Deneen will insist before he will call a special session for redistricting purposes.

Believe Cannon May Retire.

The story which came from Washington last week that Mr. Cannon is ready to quit, and has no personal desire to go back to congress from the Danville district, is received with ready belief by Republican leaders who are cognizant of the plans of the former speaker.

One Republican who talked with Mr. Cannon in Washington recently says he wants to retire if he can do so without being placed in the position of quitting under fire. He expressed the opinion that a final statement would be forthcoming from Mr. Cannon immediately after the adjournment of congress.

With Mr. Cannon out of the running it is the general impression in legislative circles that a reapportionment bill could be framed at Springfield which would be generally satisfactory to conflicting political camps. Senator Edward C. Curtis, from former Speaker Cannon's congressional district, is chairman of the senate committee on congressional apportionment, and Speaker Adkins, from the McKinley district, is still boss of the house, while Representative Chiperfield of Canton is one of his closest advisers and chairman of the house committee on reapportionment.

To Divide New Congressmen.

The only point yet agreed upon by the legislative leaders is that the downstate territory shall have one of the two new districts and that Cook county shall have the other. Some of the Cook county men want to assert Chicago's population claim and take both new congressmen. The downstate element will not listen to such a proposition, but in the same breath admit that it will be impossible to cut out a new Republican district downstate with the present Cannon and McKinley districts standing pat.

The counter argument is presented that the Republicans would take no more chances in manufacturing a certainly safe Republican district in Chicago and a new close one down state than to put the two additional places in the general pot and stand to lose both in a general campaign for congressmen at large.

Congressman Rodenberg, from East St. Louis, is still hesitating about taking a chance at the governorship. Congressman McKinley is sure to be a candidate for renomination in his district, and Congressman Thistlewood is after renomination in the Cairo district with a certainty, it is said, of getting a hard fight. Former Congressman Pleasant T. Chapman wants to try it again from the Twenty-fourth district.

To Nominate Six for Judges.

The meeting of the Republican county committee to nominate the six additional judges of the Superior court will be held at the Second regiment armory Sept. 19, according to the announcement made yesterday by Chairman Charles W. Andrews. The plans for the Democratic convention on the same day have not been completed. It is stated by party leaders on both sides that no steps will be taken in the way of formulating organization slates until after Sept. 1.

ILLINOIS WORRIES TAFT AIDS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The Illinois political situation continues to give concern to the advisers of President Taft.

At the White House it was said some information is being received concerning conditions in various parts of the state. Private Secretary Hilles sent out the letters last week, a sample of which was printed yesterday.

It was said that only scattering replies had been received and that more were expected. Mr. Hilles would not admit that a secret letter campaign is in progress and declined to discuss the matter.

It developed, however, that the White House movement of inquiry has no connection with that which is being carried on by Col. George Rankin in Illinois. It was said at the White House that Rankin had not been commissioned to make any investigation of conditions in that state.

Rankin, it transpires, is particularly interested in sounding Illinois sentiment concerning the reëlection of Senator Cullom, who procured him his position as a receiver of defunct national banks. The colonel reports that, according to his correspondents, the Illinois prairies are afire with enthusiasm for Cullom for six years more.

PENNSYLVANIA SAVAGERY.

They are more merciful in Oklahoma than in Pennsylvania. In the new state so lately a part of the frontier they burn a negro criminal after a sheriff's posse has killed him. In Pennsylvania they burn him alive, chained to the cot on which he lay, a wounded man. This did not happen in some remote, rude part of the state, but only a few miles from Philadelphia.

The crime of the negro in the eyes of the law was that he had killed a man. His crime in the eyes of the lynchers was that he had killed a white man. If he had killed one of his own color the town would have been unmoved. As it was the respectable part of the community either took part in or did nothing to prevent an execrable deed.

We should like to know from the Pennsylvania papers whether Coatesville is in any way an exceptional community or whether it is possible that what has happened there might be duplicated in other parts of the state, if a black man were to kill a white man. Has the lynching contagion with its most abhorrent accompaniments taken hold of the Quaker commonwealth? There have been other negro lynchings in the north, but none so hideous as this.

What do the authorities of Pennsylvania and Chester county intend doing? The punishment of some of the criminals might prevent the repetition of savagery that has disgraced the state.

MR. WARD'S SERVICE.

When Mr. Montgomery Ward stood as an obstructor in the way of improvements planned for the lake front park and allowed criticism to whistle around him unheeded, he said frequently that one generation of Chicagoans might complain, but others would thank him.

It may be recognized even now that the lake front has been saved for more important uses than those for which it would have been commanded had Mr. Ward not proved his obstinacy in withstanding them. The two military tournaments started this thought. The aviation meet emphasizes it.

Nowhere else in Chicago could such a field be found. Few cities can present anything its like for accessibility. If, when the plans of the south park board have been realised, there be offered a great public field suitable for the great variety of things in which an entire city is or can be interested, the fact that one or more important buildings have been kept from a desirable site will not be a cause of regret.

STEEL CARS.

There is a disagreement as to the cause of the wreck of the Pennsylvania eighteen hour train. One explanation is that it was a broken rail. The other is that a new switch put in because of track elevation work could not stand the strain of the train entering it at a high rate of speed. As to one point there is no difference of opinion. It is that there would have been frightful loss of life if the cars had not been of steel construction.

This forcible argument for steel passenger cars should have influence with congress. It has been asked to order the roads to install such cars for their interstate passenger traffic. It has been urged on behalf of the roads that it would cost them several hundred millions to do this. That is the argument they advanced when the demand was made that they equip their trains with automatic couplers and air brakes. But congress overruled them.

Some of the roads have begun putting on steel passenger cars. Others, because they think they cannot stand the expense, or are less solicitous for the protection of passengers, have held back. Some of them may not move until legislation shall have forced them to do so. That legislation should not require everything to be done in too short a time, but it should provide for the removal from service within a reasonable period of the wooden passenger coaches. Then railroad travel would be less perilous than it now is.

FOR TWENTY-SEVEN JOBS.

In the stenographic record of recent proceedings of the sanitary district board may be found the following:

Mr. Healy—I have another voucher for Michael Cross for $52 for teaming. He is a poor man and has one team, which is his means of livelihood, and needs the money. Upon that I desire to make a motion that the voucher be approved and ordered paid.

President Smyth—The motion is out of order.

Mr. Healy—I ask for a roll call.

President Smyth—A roll call will not be permitted.

Mr. Healy—Upon that I take an appeal from the decision of the chair.

Mr. Hazard—The chair has ruled this is out of order.

President Smyth—The chair has ruled that this is out of order.

Elsewhere in the record:

Mr. Healy—I wish to introduce a voucher in favor of P. C. Haley. He is an attorney employed by the district. This is for his salary and he needs the money.

President Smyth—A motion to pay is out of order.

Mr. Healy—I move that the voucher be approved and ordered paid, and ask for a roll call.

President Smyth—The chair rules that the motion is out of order.

Mr. Healy—And upon that decision of the chair I appeal and ask for a roll call.

President Smyth—The chair will not allow an appeal.

By the same intelligent method of procedure other vouchers to meet the obligations of the district, for large amounts and for small amounts, were ruled out and were left unpaid. Salaries are held up, discipline is destroyed, the credit of the district may be injured, employés are going without their wages, and creditors may whistle for settlements, and why? For the simple reason that the Republican majority of the board will not permit President Smyth and his Democratic minority to discharge efficient employés and fill their places from the ranks of eager job hunters.

Here is pot hunting politics carried to its logical extreme. Smyth has endeavored to discharge some twenty-seven men in spite of board rules which have been upheld by a Republican judge and a Democratic judge. Some of the men in question are Democrats, some are Republicans. He is supported by two Democratic members and by a man who was elected to the board as a Republican.

The same pot hunting crowd used its influence to prevent the enactment of legislation extending the civil service laws to the sanitary district, and now sacrifices the efficiency and the credit of the district to spoils.

This is the best illustration of insect politics that has been on view in Chicago for a long time. These men are entirely willing to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery of the district if by doing so, no matter what the cost may be, they may obtain jobs for distribution.

Naturally, under such conditions the efficiency of the district is going to pieces. It is reported that there have been twenty fatal accidents in the power and transmission plants in a short period as compared with six in a very much longer preceding period. That has its significance.

It is the misfortune of an important municipal corporation to be fought over as if it were nothing but a piece of meat on a platter.

For twenty-seven jobs filled now by men said to be competent and trustworthy a minority of the board members, headed by its president, hold up the business of the district and disorganize its affairs.

Insect politics thus reveals itself.

UNMUZZLED DOGS.

The chief of police and some of the Municipal court judges are disputing over the dog question. The judges say that if the chief did his duty there would not be so many unmuzzled dogs on the streets biting people. The chief says violators of the dog ordinance are encouraged by the failure of the judges to fine them when brought into court. While the judicial and executive departments of the municipal government are arguing the dogs keep on biting.

The failure of the Municipal court judges—if they have failed—to do their duty does not justify any folding of hands by the chief of police. It remains his duty or that of his subordinates to catch unmuzzled dogs and to have their owners taken into court. Then the police department will have done all that could be required of it. If the public were to learn that men who broke the ordinances were getting off scot free the judges who were responsible would not go unscathed.

As for the masterless, vicious dogs of which there are so many prowling around, it is the duty of the police to be on the lookout for them and kill if they cannot catch them. It should not take long to thin out the ranks of those dangerous animals.

"DOPE."

One man says to another, "I think so and so gave me the right dope." He means that he has been given accurate information. The person to whom he is talking so understands him if he has kept up with the progressive English language.

Not so many years ago "dope" was an obscure word, seldom heard. It had only a few meanings. It could be used of any thick, semi-liquid pastry thing for eating—a thick sauce or gruel. A mixture of pitch, tallow, etc., put on the soles of shoes to keep the wearers from slipping on moist snow was also known as "dope." So, too, was an absorbent material such as cotton waste suitable for holding thick liquids. There the dictionaries stop. They have refused to record or have been unaware of the rich development of the word in recent years.

The first step was in calling opium when prepared for smoking "dope." That was not an illegitimate use, for the smoker's opium is a pasty, viscous substance. Then, where it had been customary to call a man "an habitual user of opium," it seemed shorter to call him a "dope fiend." Next came the verb "to dope"—to put drugs in a person's drink to stupefy him and make robbery easy. Then followed easily enough the metaphorical use. "What kind of dope are you giving us?" was expressive of the belief that an attempt was being made to deceive—that false information had been imparted. And, lastly, we have "dope" meaning information which may be correct—the "right kind of dope," or incorrect, but which is more likely to be the latter.

There are purists who do not like to see new buds and blossoms on the flourishing tree of the English language, but they cannot prevent their appearance. It must be admitted, however, that the new meanings of old words not yet caught up with by the dictionaries do bewilder and grieve the cultured Englishman who thinks he is a master of English.

HOZUMI, CONSERVATIVE.

For a true Tory ideal we must turn to Japan. Mr. Joseph Gurney Cannon may observe the ravages of progressive statesmanship in Washington and contemplate withdrawal—if no one tries to push him—from the house of representatives as a rebuke to radicalism. Lord Halsbury, florid and vehement on the edge of the last ditch, may feel the soft earth crumbling beneath his feet and croak of national disaster, but neither in Great Britain nor the United States can be found a truly worthy, majestic, serene Toryism which must be approached with awe.

When the calm face of Hozumi appears Mr. Cannon becomes a capering little radical and Halsbury a revolutionary, carrying a red flag and tossing up his hat with young enthusiasm.

Hozumi is rated as the most famous jurist of Japan. He is secretary of the privy council and legal adviser of the bureau of legislation. He is dean of the law college of the Imperial University of Tokio. When he speaks in the house of lords he speaks with an authority no one questions.

The universal suffrage bill, passed by the house of deputies, came to that of lords. The government demanded the rejection of the bill as a dangerous measure. It was rejected and Hozumi was delegated to give the reasons of the lords for their act.

"I deny that universal suffrage ought to have as a result," he said, "the sending of better or more able men to parliament than those I now see before me. An election is only a means to an end. The end in this instance is merely to have capable deputies, and universal suffrage will not attain that object any better than the system which is now in force. There has never been any reason presented to me which would incline me to believe that there is any need of changing the law as it exists at the present moment.

"I regret infinitely that such a bill ever passed the doors of the lower chamber. I think that it is not only our duty to reject it unanimously but that we ought to affix to the door of this chamber a placard forbidding the introduction of any such bill.

"The question before us is, are we to concern ourselves only about the will of the people? If besides the will of the people there is nothing else to consider, I might ask why the chamber of lords exists and why its members are chosen in such a variety of fashions? It is nowhere said in the constitution that the principal object of the creation of a parliament is to give expression to the will of the people. I trust that Mr. Kamada will not forget this, and I beg him no longer to urge the matter."

There is a true Tory, possibly needed at the present moment in Japan, but how envied in less happy lands where a wave of the hand and a request not to mention the matter further do not suffice to stop the noisy mouth of radicalism. And yet Kamada proves obdurate and Hinata, Matsumoto, and other supporters of suffrage press forward.

The serenity of this true Toryism cannot last. It is calm now, but its troubles grow.

The caller had laid his troubles before the lawyer.

"What I want, as you readily understand," he said, "is a divorce. I realize that there will be attorney fees, necessary expenses, and some delay. What will be the total cost?"

The lawyer figured it all up and gave him his estimate.

"Well," said the caller, rising, "I think I shall go to Reno. The cost will be just about the same, and I'll get more scenery. Good day."

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1911: By the Brentwood Company.]

ADMIRAL LORD CHARLES BERESFORD is so frequent a visitor to the United States, and so familiar a figure on this side of the Atlantic, that his arrival in New York tonight, on board the Olympic, would excite but little attention were it not for the fact that he is accompanied by Lady Charles, known among her relatives and friends, indeed by half of English society, as "Dot." She has been a great beauty, and is a brilliantly gifted woman.

But if her gallant husband is renowned for his breezy frankness, which has frequently involved him in controversy, and has rendered him a subject of apprehension to the bureaucrats at the admiralty, what is to be said about Lady Charles? She has never had the slightest scruple about speaking out her mind, especially in defense of her husband, and, possessed of that thorough independence of character which may be regarded as warranted, from birth, wealth, beauty and cleverness, she has been even more frank than the admiral. Possessed of a keen sense of ridicule, and with a gift of the most pointed satire, it is not astonishing that remarks, and even pamphlets, holding up to derision, and sometimes obloquy, personages most highly placed should be ascribed to her tongue and pen; and if she has escaped demands for legal reparation, it is because most of her criticisms and her satires have been so true that the people concerned were afraid to face the music if they had moved in the matter.

Lady Charles had some voice in the origin of the feud between her husband and Admiral Sir John Fisher, which reached such national proportions. Ten or twelve years ago, Fisher was at the head of the Mediterranean squadron, and Beresford was his second in command. The headquarters of the Mediterranean fleet are at Malta, and there both Lady Fisher and Lady "Dot" took up their residence.

Now Malta, besides being, like all garrison stations, a perfect hotbed of mischievous gossip, is a small place—far too small to hold both Lady Fisher and Lady Charles, especially with the latter in a secondary position, officially subordinate to Lady Fisher. The respective salons soon became rival camps, and Lady Charles, with beauty, wealth, elegance, and possessed of all sorts of talents, in particular a perfect genius for music, carried the day, in a social sense.

This was bitterly resented by Lady Fisher, and in course of time she communicated her sentiments to her husband. Mischief makers promoted the feud by repeating to the two women remarks, satirical and critical, heard in the salons of the one about the other, and towards the end the situation had become so intolerable that the two admirals, namely, Lord Fisher and Lord Charles, were scarcely on speaking terms with one another. Of course, the fact that Lord Charles on two memorable occasions during the sham war operations in the Mediterranean, managed not only to inflict signal defeat upon Lord Fisher, but likewise by his clever strategy placed him in a somewhat ridiculous position did not tend to mend matters between them.

Lady Charles, who with the Marchioness of Ripon, and Henry Higgins, may be said to have founded the Covent Garden opera in London, as it now exists, has, besides her town house, a beautiful suburban place near West Ham, where she is always surrounded by a large circle of admiring and very devoted friends. Its situation is ideal, lying, as it does, just outside one of the entrances to Richmond park. The house is reached through a long arch of trees, forming a shady avenue, and is characteristic of its master and mistress, being thoroughly unconventional and withal most interesting, artistic, and in perfect taste. The extraordinary number of Chinese idols, some of which Lady Dot insists are speaking likenesses of her husband, are mingled with presentation photographs, with inscriptions of devotion to Lady Charles which show the great range of her friends, including the great Prince Bismarck, the three German emperors, Kitchener, King Edward, Lord Beaconsfield, King George, Field Marshal von Moltke, General Gordon of Khartum, Cardinal Vaughn, Mr. Gladstone, Gambetta, and King Humbert.

Lady Charles, whose daughter, Miss Kathleen Beresford, is already in this country, staying with Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson, at Southampton, Long Island, is indirectly responsible for the fact that on the occasion of the great naval review the other day at Spithead, in connection with the coronation, all the ladies on board the various warships were ordered below, and out of sight, while the royal yacht was passing through the lines.

During the great review held in connection with Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee, three years before her death, Lord Charles signaled from his flagship a message to Lady Charles, who was a guest on board one of the other battleships, to the effect that he would be unable to join her at dinner, as he, with the other flag officers, had been commanded to dine that night with the queen. This message, couched in his customary breezy fashion, was wig-wagged while the queen was passing along the lines. While many naval men, both on board the royal yacht and the other ships, saw Lord Charles' signaling, some of them being able, through their knowledge of the code, to read the message offhand, yet nothing further would have been done about this slight breach of etiquette, had it not been for Lord Mayo's brother, the Hon. "Algy" Bourke, a member of the stock exchange, who for the occasion was representing the London Times, and on board the man of war where Lady Charles Beresford was a guest.

From her he heard of the message which she had just received from her husband, and indiscreetly he related the matter in the account printed the following morning in the London Times, giving, if my memory serves me right, the message just as sent, and which was certainly never intended for publication. In this manner the affair was brought to the attention of the queen, who chose to see therein a gross piece of disrespect to herself, expressing indignation that any admiral, especially one who had been in command of the royal yacht, and a naval A. D. C. of the sovereign, like Lord Charles, should have so far forgotten himself as to signal from his flagship private messages when the monarch was passing his ship in review.

It followed in consequence of this that a series of stringent rules was issued providing for the etiquette to be observed on the warships during naval reviews by the sovereign, one of the features thereof being that no women, and for the matter of that no civilians, should be in evidence on the deck of any warship while the review is in progress.

Lord Charles and his wife are a most devoted couple, and may be said to have spent their entire lives in championing one another's cause, and fighting one another's battles.

Lady Charles, let me add in conclusion, has a great fondness for jewels, of which she has a wonderful collection, and which are particularly suited to her style of beauty. She is enthusiastic on the subject of Wagner, and can dissect with singular astuteness the merits of Zola, Tolstoi, Maeterlinck, Ibsen, Shaw, etc.; has a most remarkable mastery of foreign languages, a singularly melodious voice, with a clearness of diction unusual among well bred English people, and is a daughter and co-heiress of the late Richard Gardner, M. P. for Leicester.

BREAD PUDDING.

[BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.]

BREAK up about a pint of stale bread, after cutting off the crust; pour over it a quart of boiling milk; add to this a piece of butter the size of a small egg; cover the dish tight and let it stand until cool; then with a spoon mash it until fine, adding a teaspoonful of cinnamon and one of nutmeg grated, half a cupful of sugar and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a little hot water. Beat up four eggs very light and add last. Turn all into a well-buttered pudding dish and bake three-quarters of an hour. Serve it warm with hard sauce

Bread pudding, the most appetizing as well as the most nutritious food known, against which a furious campaign of innuendo and falsehood has been most unblushingly waged, is again gaining in favor, and from all appearances will soon be restored to its throne as the queen of edibles.

Bread pudding, invented in America and recognised as the foundation as well as the bulwarks of the republic, was for years the chief food of the sturdy people of the United States. What oatmeal was to the Scotch, potatoes to the Irish, roast beef to the English, frog legs to the French, macaroni to the Italians, and sauerkraut to the Germans, so has been bread pudding to the Americans. Bread pudding, however, has been proven by scientific test to have more nutrition than all the foods that form the favorite dishes of other nations combined.

The universal custom of eating bread pudding made the American people a brave and hardy race and enabled them to drive back the red Indian, issue the Declaration of Independence, win the war of the revolution, the war of 1812, the Mexican war, and the Spanish-American war. The success of the north in the war between the states was owing to the fact that the north ate bread pudding while the south ate corn pone.

As long as bread pudding continued in favor the country grew in strength, wealth, and happiness. But of late years there has been a decline in the popularity of bread pudding, and as a result the country is tending to fall behind. The sawdust breakfast food trust has conducted through its paid agents a destructive war against the bread pudding. Bread pudding has been maligned and ridiculed, and in some states the sawdust breakfast food trust has succeeded in getting laws on the statute books making the eating of bread pudding a felony punishable by fine and imprisonment in the county jail.

In the states in which the sawdust trust has not as yet been able to make the eating of the delicious bread pudding a crime they have succeeded by a furious campaign of ridicule in making people ashamed to be seen eating bread pudding. Restaurant and hotel keepers who still serve bread pudding do so in a sneaking manner and give it an assumed name such as "cabinet pudding, succulent sauce," "favorite food," and "b. p.," and serve it in thick earthen cups, as they do whisky out in Kansas.

For some reason there is a strange lull at present in the bitter warfare against bread pudding, and accordingly the supporters of the national dish have decided to take advantage of the moment and push a heavy campaign of publicity designed to again restore bread pudding to its rightful place.

Miss Stewa Prune, the president of the American Bread Pudding Restoration society, sent out from her office in Chicago yesterday a mass of documents directed towards making bread pudding again the central dish on every table in the country. Miss Prune points out that the present high cost of living is directly due to the abolishment of bread pudding. Bread pudding could be manufactured at very slight expense, and was so nourishing and filling that meats, fish, and other commodities were not required.

With bread pudding forced into exile, however, people craved great quantities of tenderloin, pork chops, marshmallows, chuck steak, whitefish, lobster, strawberry shortcake, chicken, squab, olives, and the like to supply the nutrition lost with the banishment of the national dish. The unusual demand for these edibles caused a great increase in their price and the increase will continue until bread pudding is restored.

Miss Prune offers the following table to show the relative food values of bread pudding compared with other necessities of life:

Food—	Per cent Nitrogen.	Per cent Oxygen.	Per cent Butter fat.
Sirloin steak	7	3	9
Turkey hash	4	1	1
Dill pickles	23	..	..
Chocolate sundae	13	4	16
Ice cream	5	2	27
Bread pudding	33 1-3	33 1-3	33 1-3

It will be observed that bread pudding alone has a perfect score, its percentage of nitrogen, oxygen, and butter fats averaging exactly 100.

The American Bread Pudding Restoration society asks its members to come boldly out into the open and not to be afraid to show their colors, as their example will do much to make others feel ashamed of their attitude towards bread pudding.

The badge of the league is extremely novel and sure to attract attention. Each member drops a small piece of bread pudding on the left lapel of his coat each morning and lets it remain there during the day. This is sure to attract attention and comment and opens up the subject of bread pudding and gives the member of the society a chance to say:

"Yes, I know there is some bread pudding on my coat. I eat bread pudding every meal. It is the great American national dish," and so on.

◆

To prove that no one need think that eating bread pudding is a thing to be ashamed of, Miss Prune has published in her booklet many sayings of the poets regarding this delicious and healthful dish.

"Give me again my hollow tree,
A bowl of bread pudding, and liberty."
—Pope.

"A pan of bread pudding, and thou,
Singing beside me in the wilderness,
O, that were paradise enow."
—Omar Khayyam.

◆

—Swift.

Taking further advantage of the present inaction on the part of those who have attempted to strike down bread pudding, Miss Prune announces that a grand bread pudding barbecue will soon be held on the lake front, at which 5,000 patriots are expected to sit at table and boldly and calmly eat of the great American national dish in the presence of the scornful multitude.

At the bread pudding barbecue the present generation, which in its blindness and ignorance now cavils at the once celebrated national dish, will be taught not only the great health giving and delicious qualities of the former champion national food of the world but all its other manifold uses. Miss Prune will give public exhibitions illustrating not only how bread pudding can be eaten as a food but how it can be employed as a poultice, a mucilage, a decoration for the parlor mantle, or a splendid shampoo for the hair.

Bread pudding is a classy little fighter and is fully able to come back.

"THE FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE."

EVERY LITTLE HELPS.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—A week or ten days ago I wrote regarding the oiling of Milwaukee avenue north of the C. & N. W. railroad crossing in Jefferson Park. On my return to the city yesterday I was more than surprised to find that the road had been oiled. Words cannot express my thanks and appreciation for your quick action in the matter. The residents of Jefferson Park are rid of a nuisance with which they had to contend for a number of years and they have you to thank for it. Keep up the good work.

FAULTY SCALES AND INSPECTION.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Is our city wasting the taxpayers' money on the office of "inspector of weights and scales"? As per your issue of today, one should report every incorrectness of weights, etc., to Peter Zimmer, city sealer.

Mr. P. Zimmer, I suppose, himself might be all right, but some one or more clerks in his department do not seem to be worth the salary they draw, judging from my experience.

July 25 I happened to be at Sans Souci park, where there are six or more penny scales, having thereon a ticket stating in print: "July 25—Inspected and found correct. Peter Zimmer, inspector, etc." I dropped a cent in one of the scales. As the same did not give my correct weight of about 224 pounds, I spent, just for fun, five more pennies. One scale gave my weight as 214, the other as 232 pounds. The largest scale there I tried twice, with the queer result that this same scale showed first 227 and the second time 230 pounds! It is not likely that a person could gain or lose ten or fifteen pounds inside of two or three minutes without changing his clothing. My companion's weight also differed some twelve or fifteen pounds on two different scales. Could it be possible that these scales at Sans Souci were really and faithfully inspected and found really correct on the 25th ult. in the morning and out of order already the evening of the same day? Or was the inspector in a hurry and took for granted the correctness of the scales, and without a thorough examination pasted on same his inspection ticket?

Where would the buying public get off if the same should happen with the scales in the grocery stores, etc.?

If Mr. Zimmer's assistants do not care to do their work right, they ought to get "fired"—the sooner the better for Chicago's taxpaying citizens, no matter whether they are Democrats or Republicans.

AN EIGHT YEARS' SUBSCRIBER OF THE TRIBUNE.

In answer to the letter of Aug. 2, addressed to you, regarding condition of penny weighing machines at Sans Souci park, I wish to say that on July 25 we inspected twelve weighing machines at this place and condemned five of the twelve. These scales were labeled "Condemned" in a conspicuous place, but I presume your correspondent paid no attention to the notice.

In regard to the scale on which he weighed 227 pounds the first time and 230 pounds the second time, he probably jerked down on the scale after the indicator came around to 227 pounds and before the mechanism of the scale locked forced it down to 230 pounds.

These weighing machines are the hardest type scale to keep in order that we have to contend with owing largely to the rough usage given them by the public. I have seen a crowd of boys running and as each one came to one of these weighing machines he jumped on the platform of the scale and jarred it out of order. Others grasp the pillar of the scale if they are not satisfied with the weight recorded and shake the scale nearly to pieces. It cannot be expected that scales treated in this manner will weigh correctly.

I believe in view of the record made by this department, which has been indorsed and approved by the federal authorities, that the criticism is unfair and undeserved.

PETER ZIMMER,

LEASED TO THE FUEL CO.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I take the liberty to inquire about a certain street in my neighborhood. Originally, before track elevation took place, it was used more or less. The sewers were put in, also sidewalks. When the C. and W. I. railway elevated it closed the west end of this short street and the Pennsylvania lines closed the other end when they elevated their E. C. L. railway. This is located between Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth and originally ran from Wallace to Stewart avenue, now from Normal avenue west. This public property remained uninclosed for a great many years, even after the E. C. L. railway was elevated and after the City Fuel company had built a large yard just south of the street line, but during the Busse administration this street was fenced in on the east and is used by the City Fuel company for part of its yard. Is rent paid for it?

This street has been leased by the city to the City Fuel company.

WEIGHT OR DRY MEASURE.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—[To the Friend of the People.]—At a grocery store on Clark street I paid 30 cents for a peck of apples which weighed at home, ten minutes later, nine pounds and nine ounces. The grocer's clerk made no pretense of measuring or weighing them, but simply filled for me a so-called twenty pound paper bag. How much was I swindled? Is there a weight standard for apples similar to the sixty pound bushel of potatoes?

HENRY WILLIAMS.

The dealer may sell either by weight or by standard dry measure, heaped in the form of a cone. In this instance the clerk sold by guess, simply filling a paper bag, and by so doing violated the ordinance. The ordinance reads: "Whoever shall sell or offer for sale any article of dry measurement in other than a legal dry measure shall be guilty of a violation." There is no statutory weight per bushel for apples in Illinois. The customary weight is fifty pounds a bushel. It is a hard matter to say what shortage was given in a peck of apples that weighed nine pounds and nine ounces, because there is a great variation in apples, some being large in size and light in weight and others being smaller and heavier.

PETER ZIMMER,

COMMON CUP IN COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Kindly inform me what renders the county hospital immune to the new "death cup" ordinance. Public parks, some department stores, and factories adopted the bubbling cup prior to the passage of the ordinance, yet the county government institution, which ought to serve as an example of respect for the law, is still serving the public with ice water from its old coolers by means of old tin cups.

PHILIP STEIN, 1251 Maplewood avenue.

Some time ago there was published in the daily papers an opinion from the attorney general of this state saying that the law did not apply to hospitals. I have written to the attorney general for his opinion on this matter, and will be guided by his answer.

HENRY L. BAILEY,
Warden, Cook County Hospital.

A PRIVATE WAY.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please advise through your valued column whether or not the alley running west from Lexington avenue between Sixty-second and Sixty-third streets is a private alley; also kindly inform me what can be done to keep it from being used as a public thoroughfare should you find it to be private property. I have been informed that it belongs to the owners of the property, but I would like your advice in the matter.

L. W.

According to the records of the bureau of streets the alley running west from Lexington avenue between Sixty-second and Sixty-third streets, inquired about in the inclosed letter addressed to the Friend of the People, is private property.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

CASH FARES ON RAILROADS.

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Is there no way by which suburban railroad fare may be regulated by the state railway commission or by the council of Chicago and suburban cities? For instance, under the law the railroad has the right to charge 2 cents a mile in the state, and, if the fare is collected on the train, 3 cents a mile. For the last ten years I have paid from $6 to $15 a month to the Chicago and Northwestern railway company for railroad fare from Evanston to Chicago and return, buying their regular commutation tickets. On several occasions I have had the misfortune to lose or mislay my ticket. For instance, the other day I happened to leave my ticket with some papers in the office, and after I had boarded the train with my wife and the train had started I found that I had not my ticket, but the conductor collected, as he had the right to do, legally, 33 cents each from Chicago to Main street, Evanston, although the street car and elevated fare is only 10 cents. It seems an outrage that conductors are not allowed some discrimination and that some kind of satisfactory means cannot be devised by which the commuter may be allowed to identify himself and make proper reimbursement for his fare when he has recovered his ticket. Most conductors know their regular passengers by sight and the loss sustained by the road would be infinitesimal at the most.

QUICK ACTION BY POLICE.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Through your valued columns may I take this manner of expressing my thanks to the Chicago police department for its efficiency? A week ago the garbage crematory in our flat building got out of repair and the agent instructed the janitor to pile up the garbage in the basement directly beneath our flat until repairs were made. Appeals to the agent being disregarded, a health inspector was called. He declared conditions bad, but said it might require six weeks to get any action or results. With the five days' accumulation of refuse from twenty-four flats making the apartment uninhabitable, we appealed Saturday morning at 10 o'clock to the Town Hall police station. Every assistance was lent us, officers sent to investigate, the sanitary bureau of the health department "jerked up," and, instead of waiting six weeks, when we would have all been dead, at 2 o'clock the same afternoon, so emphatically was the matter laid down to our agent, the latter himself was busily engaged in aiding the janitor to wheel out the refuse in barrels. This is certainly a tribute to our police department, but is it not, at the same time, an indicator of too slow action on the part of the health department to insure proper sanitary conditions?

THUMBS DOWN.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Is there any means by which the idiot who swings an umbrella round and round by the handle on a public thoroughfare can be reached and punished.

The danger of the act is so well known that it needs no elaboration.

Yesterday on La Salle street my eye was nearly put out by a lunatic who suddenly and without warning started to swing his umbrella, beginning the swing backward, and who was most indignant when I told him to what class I considered he belonged.

Can anything be done, or is the public at the mercy of this kind of imbecile? H. M.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S LEAGUE.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If an "experienced business woman" who wrote article Aug. 9 suggesting that a League of "Business Women" be established, will kindly send her name and business address to the undersigned, the latter will gladly furnish her with particulars regarding the existence of such a league which numbers several hundred members, and whose aim is the advancement of business women and the solving of problems which confront them.

The Business Woman's Educational League of America is here to stay, and we ask the coöperation of every business woman, whether an employer or employé, and our by-laws will show that our ideals are the highest. Will Mattie E. McDonald also send her address?

A STATE LAW AND ITS ENFORCEMENT.

Chicago, July 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—On July 28 you published a letter from Dr. James A. Egan, secretary of the Illinois state board of health, in response to a letter of mine regarding medical quacks and their practices. I would respectfully call the attention of Dr. Egan to section 6 of an "act to regulate the practice of medicine in the state of Illinois" approved on July 1, 1907, which reads in part as follows: The state board may refuse to issue "the certificate provided for in this act to individuals who have been convicted of . . . or who have by false or fraudulent representation obtained or sought to obtain practice in their profession, or by false or fraudulent representation of their profession have obtained or sought to obtain money or any other thing of value, or who advertise under names other than their own or for any unprofessional or dishonorable conduct, and the board may revoke such certificates for like causes."

COMPLAINS OF TELEGRAPH SERVICE.

Oconomowoc, Wis., Aug. 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—If the people of this country could compare the telegraphic service furnished them by the two great (?) telegraph companies that divide the business between them with the service rendered to the citizens of Germany, Switzerland, France, Holland, Great Britain, and other countries of western Europe by the telegraphs under the respective postoffice departments of those countries as I have been able to do for the last eleven years all those who had to make frequent use of the telegraph and pay the prices charged by the companies would unite in flooding their representatives in congress and senators with letters demanding that the telegraphs of the United States be made part and parcel of the United States postoffice department, where they belong just as much as all ordinary mail matter.

During eleven years in Europe I have never lost a telegram or failed to obtain a most rapid service and at a price never exceeding one-half (often one-third) the rates charged here.

It is "up to" the people to demand as good a service (they have to pay a lot more for it) as the postal telegraph renders in western Europe.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Pitching within a scratch of a no-hit game and comfortably close to a word's record, Edward Alibi Walsh yesterday shut out Detroit's Tigers in the second game of their series in Comiskey park and enabled the bat of Jimmy Callahan to beat the visitors, 2 to 0.

One horseshoe swat by Stanage was all that stood between Walsh and a no hit game. Big Ed himself almost coppered that hit. It came back to him low and like a shot, but Walsh grabbed for and reached it. The ball squirted up over the pitcher's head, and, although Corhan made a pretty play while running at top speed, Stanage beat Roy's throw to first base by an even step.

That was how the Tigers escaped being blanked without a hit as well as without a tally. That and a couple of flies were the only balls hit hard off Walsh all the way. He had the terrors of the jungle licking his hand like a lot of hungry kittens, and never did one of them presume to go as far as second base.

Big Ed Nears Record.

Big Ed came within three of equaling the perfectly pitched game, for only three men lived to see first base. One of them was Stanage on his scratch hit, another was Lathers, who accepted the only pass Walsh had, and the third adventurer was Sam Crawford, who was given a life by McConnell's fumble in the seventh.

The White Sox did not make a loud noise with their own sticks, but their seven hits off Willett proved sufficient, and would have scored more tallies if the Sox had not slipped a cog or two in their attack. Callahan stung Willett for two hits, and each of them scored a run. The first one drove home McIntyre, who started on the circuit at the heel and toe gait. Cal's second hit sent in Cap. Lord, who set out on his journey with a single and escaped being wrecked between first and second only because Delehanty tried to throw the ball before he caught it, thereby sidetracking the play.

Bodie Aids in Lord's Demise.

Lord practically stole home in the second inng, but was robbed of the laurels by the situation. Bodie had to hit the ball or be retired on a third strike, so he grounded out by way of Bush. As there were two out when Lord started his daring theft and Bodie's was the third out, Lord's run could not count, although he slid into Ping's underpinning just as the buster smote the pill.

In the fifth inning an attempted squeeze play went wrong because Roy Corhan missed calculations by a few inches and bunted slowly straight toward Willett, who had barely time to toss McConnell out at the plate. That bunt placed a foot either way would have completed the squeeze perfectly.

The most prominent feature of the game, aside from Walsh's hurling, was Jack Sheridan's straw hat and incidentally his return to the arbitrating bench after many weeks of retirement. Sheridan is authentically credited with being the first living umpire to work during a game in an overcoat. Yesterday he sprang another innovation by appearing in a bright, newly blocked panama. When Hank O'Day hears of this he will be peeved, for hitherto O'Day has been considered the ne plus ultima Thule in the selection of umpirical raiment.

Sheridan Starts Reform.

Sheridan's return to harness was unpremeditated on his part and the straw hat was the result of unpreparedness rather than a desire to cut into O'Day's reputation. Tom Connolly, who is Dr. Parker's partner in crime, was too sick to officiate yesterday, and Parker went to the ball yard expecting to handle the game alone. Along came Sheridan and, in spite of his yearning for a life of ease, the veteran was induced to fill in the assignment. He stipulated that he be allowed to wear his new hat, as he objected to working bareheaded, for fear some of the airmen might fall on his koko, and he had tossed his old blue cap into the discard along with his uniform weeks ago.

McIntyre gave the Sox an opening in the first spasm with a single past Lathers. Lord sacrificed him to second and Callahan tried to catch the Tigers napping with a bunt, but failed. Lathers threw him out, while McIntyre reached third and was stranded there when Bodie bounded one to Bush.

Walsh himself gave the Sox their next opportunity. It was in the shape of a Texas league single into short left center, after one was out. McIntyre worked Willett for a pass, pushing Big Ed to second. Lord poked a sharp bounder to Willett, who forced Walsh at third, and the opportunity seemed to be going to waste. Callahan began his pinch hitting by pulling a single into left, scoring McIntyre with the first of Chicago's two tallies. On the throw in Lord went to third and Callahan to second. A swat from Bodie meant two more runs, but again the esteemed fence buster smote a smart bounder to Bush and the side was out.

Callahan Sends Run Home.

Two were down in the fifth before the Sox started after their second tally. Lord sprouted it with a single to center, then started for second base just as Willett wheeled to throw to first and drive him back. Willett had to complete the throw, of course, and Delehanty muffed it, letting Lord reach second in safety. Again Callahan was up in the pinch and delivered with a single into center this time, scoring Lord in a romp. Jimmy stole second off the reel and for the third time Bodie fell down with men waiting to score, bumping his third straight bounder to Bush for the third out.

McConnell opened the domestic sixth with a double along the left foul line just out of Davy Jones' clutches. Collins sacrificed him to third and Corhan tried to squeeze in the run. Roy gave the play away on the first ball pitched, but went through with it on the third one Willett handed him. Unfortunately the bunt went straight to the slabman and a fast play nipped McConnell by a spike. Sullivan popped out.

Not another swat was made by the Sox until the eighth, then with one out and nobody on bases Bodie slashed a single to center. He tried to stretch it into a double and was out between a third and a half a mile.

Short Story of Tiger Offense.

Of the three Tigers who were so fortunate as to reach first, Lathers walked there with two out in the second and was forced by Baumann; Stanage opened the sixth with his onery scratch hit, only to be doubled up speedily on Willett's bump to Walsh, and Crawford got on with two out in the seventh because McConnell let a grounder get through him. Wahoo Sam was forced at second by Delehanty. Only twenty-nine men faced Walsh in nine innings, two more than the twenty-seven necessary to provide the legal number of demises.

SOX SYDELIGHTS.

Detroit again today and tomorrow.

The Tigers had a chance to gain on Philadelphia, but Walsh stood squarely in their way.

A delegation of boy scouts was on hand early and lost no opportunity to root for the White Sox, Ping Bodie being the particular pet of the youngsters.

Willett and Baumann were the only Tigers, besides Stanage, who hit the ball on the nose. Willett slammed a liner to right which McIntyre picked out of the sun, and Baumann drove Bodie far back after a long rainbow.

Yesterday's was the sixth game the Sox have won from Detroit this year. The Tigers have won twelve games from the Sox, and there are only four more games in their series, two here and two in Detroit.

Shaller made his local friends glad by pulling off the circus play of the game. [illegible] he slid in on his elbows in Sheckardesque fashion and pinched a line drive from Walsh's bat at the start of the Sox fifth. It robbed us of at least one run.

It was one of the shortest games of the season, the last [illegible] an hour and twenty minutes after the first ball was pitched. It was so short a battle that the Tigers' bus did not get back to the [illegible] and the [illegible] men had to stand on the corner and submit to the taunts of the urchins.

Walsh fell down on the first play of the game. As he fielded Jones' bounder he slipped and sat down in the grass. [illegible] but managed to turn around enough to toss the ball to Collins ahead of Davy. Altogether Walsh had a busy day with seven assists. If he had [illegible] made it eight assists he would have [illegible] game.

Baumann tripped and fell down on his way to first in the fifth inning. That was all the difference, as Walsh fielded the ball and had lots of time. Baumann was one of the [illegible] Tigers who ran out infield hits. Several of them quit running when Walsh got the ball, thereby indicating that the old fighting Tiger spirit is not there all the time.

BY HANDY ANDY.

Manager Chance, with every one of the twenty-two men on the Cub roster, left yesterday at 5:30 o'clock from the Lake Shore depot on the last eastern trip of the season, unless it is necessary to journey again Atlanticward to play for the world's championship—and every Cub believes this will be the ultimate finish. Cliff Curtis was to have been left behind, but at the last moment the P. L. decided to take the ex-Boston slabman.

It was a sanguine bunch of ball players that stepped aboard the rattler. There wasn't one in the party who believes the Cubs will return except at the head of the race. Each one realizes the trip practically will decide the championship and each one has given himself a rub on the lucky spot in an effort to ward off any jinx that may be hovering about the camp.

In the party were Mesdames Chance, Tinker, Archer, and Doyle. The latter Jimmy's better half, will desert the champions at Syracuse and remain there until the club returns to Chicago. The other women in the party went along as advisers and plan to see the finish of the crucial trip.

Seventeen Games on Road.

That it will be a crucial trip no one has raised a question. Leaving with a one game lead the Champions are confronted with a most strenuous trip. Seventeen games are on the program, including postponed ones at Brooklyn and Philadelphia. The Cubs will land in Boston in plenty of time for a rest before tackling the Rustlers in a four game series beginning tomorrow.

Past performances indicate the Cubs will have little trouble in whipping John Kling & Company, yet there is that uncertainty permeating the national pastime which may in this instance prove the undoing of the visitors.

From Boston the Cubs hop to New York, probably resting on Manhattan Isle on Sunday, previous to the opening battle on Monday next. The three games scheduled with the Giants promise to be of as much interest to Gotham fans as the aviation meet to Chicagoans.

On Thursday, Aug. 24, Chance and his children will hit the subway for Brooklyn, where four games will be played in three days, the doubling up stunt being booked for Aug. 26. These games, the champions fear probably more than any of the others on the trip. Brooklyn has proved a stumbling block in the path of the crusaders more often than tongue can tell. They purpose to turn the tables on the Infants and force them to be gentle and eat out of hand.

Five Games at Quakertown.

The invaders will wind up in the home of baby carriages and trolley dodgers on Saturday, then hie themselves to Philadelphia, where five games in four days is the card. It is expected Manager Dooin will be back on the bench by that time to urge on his athletes. They have been having a fearful slump and the absence of the sorrel topped leader is given as the cause. On Aug. 29 two games will be staged at the Broad street grounds. The Quaker series winds up on Thursday, Aug. 31.

The Cubs will vacation a bit aboard the rattler on Friday, arriving in Cincinnati Sept. 2 in time to take a game from Griffith's misfits. An overnight trip will bring the champions home for a double header with Bresnahan's Cardinals on Sunday, Sept. 3.

From that date until Sept. 13, the champions will receive on the west side lot. On Sept. 14 they go to Pittsburg for two games on the 14th and 15th. There will be a continued performance in Mr. Murphy's ball yard until Sept. 26, then two more days of pastiming and another layoff for a day. From Saturday, Sept. 30, until Oct. 5, games will be on the card, weather permitting, then a vacation for two more days. From Oct. 7 through to the windup of the season on Oct. 12, there will be games at the west side grounds.

The games at home as indicated by the foregoing may be changed at the will of the magnates, if they care to push forward some of the battles in order to close the season simultaneously with that of the American league, so the world's series can be started earlier than at present planned.

Chance and Murphy Confer.

President Murphy and Manager Chance were in star chamber session yesterday afternoon discussing pro and con the men on whom they have options. The west side magnate, as well as others in both big circuits, must exercise these options not later than Aug. 20, or the players will be thrown into the draft on Sept. 1. When the smoke of the conversation battle had cleared away checks were signed and mailed to the national commission which called fo rthe services of Catcher Angermeier of New Orleans and Outfielder Ball of Danville, who were on the southern trip with the Cubs last spring, and on Outfielder Zimmerman of the Atlanta club, whom scout Jim Murphy discovered during the summer.

There may be others that will be added to the Cubs' roster before the time limit, but the west side magnates were unable to give the names of the men under consideration. Both denied they had offered $2,000 for Outfielder Connelly of Terre Haute.

'PACKEY' DENIES HE WILL 'CRAWL'

Says He Will Be First to Enter Ring to Fight Wolgast at Milwaukee.

STARTS REAL TRAINING.

Chicagoan Declares He Is Sure He Can Defeat Champion Over Short Route.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Packey McFarland, who will meet Ad Wolgast at Milwaukee on Sept. 15 over the ten round route, had a lot to say yesterday in regard to the statement of Tom Jones, Wolgast's manager. When Jones arrived in town on Sunday he said the match was a certainty as far as his end is concerned, but he feared McFarland would "crawl" out of it.

"So he says I'm yellow and afraid to step into the ring with Wolgast," McFarland said. "Just say for me that I will be the first one into the ring and I'll show Jones and Wolgast that I am a fighter as well as a boxer. Jones said I have never beaten any one but second raters. What was Battling Nelson when Wolgast won the title from him? I never have hesitated to sign articles with any one in my class and any one connected with the fighting game will tell you that I was matched with Nelson three times and he pulled out of the matches every time without giving me any legitimate reason.

"I intend to train harder for this fight than I ever did before, and I am sure I will beat him over this route. I am confident I can beat him over a longer distance. I intend to do all my training at Pine Lake and I will have little trouble in making 133 pounds at 3 o'clock. I will be strong when I enter the ring and I will show Wolgast something about this game that he has never seen before."

Following the announcement that Emil Thiry would have charge of Phil Schlossberg's corner at Kenosha Saturday afternoon when the navy champion takes on Tony Caponi in a ten round engagement, Larney Lichterstein, manager of Caponi, closed terms with Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fighter, conqueror of Al Kaufmann, to handle the Chicagoan in the battle.

Flynn has been training in Chicago for a month in anticipation of future battles and he has been doing a lot of boxing with Caponi. Yesterday the pair hooked up in an interesting eight round bout and Caponi showed better than he has at any time since he has been working here.

Frankie White, the local lightweight, who secured a draw with "Kid" Winters at Raton, N. M., last Friday, has been matched to box Louie Newman at Creede, Colo., tonight. The fighters will box fifteen rounds in the afternoon and the stipulated weight is 133 pounds at 10 o'clock. Frankie writes he is in good shape and after his fight with Newman will go to California, where he has been promised more fights.

George (Knockout) Brown, the local welterweight under the management of Nate Lewis, has been matched to meet Willie Lewis before Tom O'Rourke's Twentieth A. C. of New York Friday night. Brown is doing all his training at O'Connell's and already looks to be in shape for the mill. He will leave for New York tomorrow.

Billy Wagner, Fred Gilmore's protégé, started training yesterday at the Adams street gymnasium. Wagner's right hand, which he hurt in a bout with Sammy Trott is entirely well, and Gilmore has negotiations pending with a number of fighters.

O'BRIEN TO BOX SAM LANGFORD.

Philadelphia Heavyweight and Boston Negro Billed for Ten Round Bout at New York Tonight.

New York, Aug. 14.—Jack O'Brien, the Philadelphia lightweight, and Sam Langford, the negro fighter form Boston, will fight ten rounds at the Twentieth Century club tomorrow night. O'Brien, who has been training in this city, is said to be in excellent condition and some ten pounds heavier than when he fought Ketchel here. Langford's manager says the Boston boxer is in first class condition. He will weigh about 175 pounds, O'Brien about 169.

'BAT' SEEKS WOLGAST'S SCALP.

Nelson, at El Paso on Way Here, Stops Grieving Long Enough to Say He Can Whip Champ.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Passing through from the Pacific coast, en route to Chicago to attend his mother's funeral, Battling Nelson stopped grieving long enough today to say that he never would rest until he had been given another chance to whip Ad Wolgast and regain the lightweight championship. "I can whip him if I get a chance at him again," said Nelson.

McGoorty to Fight Dillon.

Neenah, Wis., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Eddie McGoorty, the Oshkosh middleweight, has been matched to fight Jack Dillon of Indianapolis twenty rounds at New Orleans on Labor day. This is part of the elimination series of bouts to determine the middleweight championship of the world.

Driscoll Bests Tommy Dixon.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Boyou Driscoll of England was given the decision in eight rounds over Tommy Dixon of New York tonight at the Southern Athletic club.

VACATION FOR MAT CHAMPION

Gotch Will Rest for Two Days Preparatory to Final Work.

BURNS SOON TO JOIN CAMP.

Veteran Wrestler to Be in Charge of Tapering Off of Title Holder.

Humboldt, Ia., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Frank Gotch is taking a vacation. His "schoolmaster," Emil Klank, has given him two days' rest and another is coming next Tuesday as a reward for his faithful work. This partial letup in training comes partly to ward off the danger of Frank's overdoing himself and partly to get a good long breath before the veritable army of trainers swoop down upon him in his last two weeks of work at his riverside camp.

The reinforcements that are coming to help Rogers and Reimer worry the champion will begin to arrive on Monday, when Henry Ordeman from Minneapolis comes in full war paint, followed the next day by the commander-in-chief, Farmer Burns, who is to direct the final campaign. On Wednesday Yusiff Hassan will be brought out from the hospital barracks and thrown into the mêlée to help the other four belligerents. The Turk has been teasing to be turned loose for some little time, but was made to stand idley by. It will be what the politicians call a whirlwind finish to the campaign in Humboldt the next two weeks, and f the five old time wrestlers that are to constitute the avalanche that is to drop on Gotch isn't sufficien Fred Beel is to be telegraphed for. Gotch has a merry time in store for him and long endurance will be the thing sought.

To accommodate the large number of people who are to attend the Gotch-Hack affair, a special train is being arranged for, leaving from here at 10 o'clock in the evening, Sept. 1.

Emil Klank, Gotch's manager, will leave Humboldt Monday evening for Chicago to arrange business matters and also to look after the big bunch of seats on which he has an option for the use of the Humboldt fans and others from northern Iowa. Incidentally he will feel the pulse of the betting world. Klank is ready to bite off a big chunk, so confident is he of victory for Gotch.

Gotch has shown his business acumen by taking out three policies for his coming bout. The first is for $25,000, to protect the champion in the event of any accident, either in his training quarters or during his trip to Chicago. This policy terminates the minute Gotch steps into the ring. The second policy is for a like sum, to insure the presence of Hackenschmidt in the ring, and terminates the minute the two men begin wrestling.

The third is for $40,000, to insure the champion against loss in the motion pictures. Should the machines fail to work, Gotch will be reimbursed for the full amount. If they fail to record any portion of the match, Gotch will be entitled to 50 per cent of the face of the policy, and if they fail to portray the falls the face value is to be paid. It is understood the premiums on the policies call for $2,500.

PICKS 'HACK'S' TRAINING CAMP.

Manager Curley Selects Place on North Side, but Withholds Location from the Public.

Training quarters for George Hackenschmidt, who will wrestle Frank Gotch for the championship of the world on Labor day at White Sox park, have been selected by Manager Curley, but the location has been kept secret. Curley says the "Russian Lion" is averse to the general public watching his work, not that he is embarrassed by the crowds, but experience has taught him that an overabundance of fans interferes with his training. Only newspaper men and photographers will be admitted.

Two north side mat fans have donated the use of land for the construction of training quarters for the foreign wrestler and contracts have been let for the necessary construction work. Quick action will be necessary as Hackenschmidt and Trainer Roller are expected in New York today and immediately will start for this city, probably arriving tomorrow.

The paraphernalia left here when Hack sailed for home last spring is in readiness to remove to the new training camp. It is the intention to equip the new quarters as nearly like that on the ocean beach at Shoreham as possible, so the big wrestler will find no break in the continuity of his training.

Little betting has been registered so far onthe big bout. Paul Armstrong, the playwright, last night wagered $500 on Hack against $800 of H. H. Frazee's money. Armstrong recently returned from England where he watched Hack in training, and says he is posting his bet after personal investigation of the "Russian Lion's" condition. He declares Hack never looked more formidable.

ARCHERS BEGIN MEET TODAY

Archers from Near and Far Enter 33d Annual Tourney.

CHAMPION WILL BE ABSENT.

Eleven Prizes on Card, Weston Trophy for Golds Being Principal One.

BY JACK PROCTOR.

Nearly 150 archers of national reputation will compete in the thirty-third annual archery tournament under the auspices of the Chicago club at the Washington park range for the next four days beginning today. Among the crack bowmen will be representatives from Boston, Cincinnati, Wichita, Seattle, and Des Moines. H. B. Richardson of Boston, who established a world's record in the double York round, considered the most difficult of all competition, will not be here, as he is hunting game in British Columbia.

The first rounds of the York and American competition for men and the first rounds of the national and Columbia competition for women are scheduled to open the tournament. A repetition of these events is on the card for tomorrow. On Thursday the women's handicap and team round and men's handicap will be the order. The business meeting at night will wind up the program. On the final day handicap events for men and women and flight shooting will take place.

Eleven prizes are offered, chief among which is the E. B. Weston trophy to be presented to the contestant who secures the most goals at any end. The women's team, consisting of Miss J. V. Sullivan, Miss L. M. Witwer, Mrs. A. Barbe, and Mrs. E. B. Spalding, holder of the world's record with a score of 315 hits for 1,517 points, is entered again and probably will meet a Boston team.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

Dean Demarest defeated Clarence Safford, 100 to 86, in the first block of their 300 ball pocket billiard match at Hemmer's last night. The second block will be played tonight.

Mitchner [175] and Barnes [165] will meet in the 18-2 class B tournament at Foley's tonight. A victory for the former will put him in a tie for third place with Barnes.

Walters' Cycle Found O. K.

Joseph Walters' motorcycle with which he has been cleaning up records and winning events at Riverview has been found to be within the limit required by the officials of the races. Following Walthers' victory on Sunday night a protest was made that the piston displacement was not within the measurements. The committee announced the displacement is two cubic inches under the prescribed limit.

Robert Simpson, the western open champion, and J. B. Simpson of the Blue Mount Country club of Milwaukee will meet Harry Turpie of Edgewater and Jim Donaldson of Glen View in a best ball foursome at the Kenosha Country club tomorrow. Special interest attaches to the match as last year efforts were made to match Donaldson and Bob Simpson in a match for $2,000. The Kenosha backers of Simpson put up their end of the purse, but the affair never was consummated. A heavy side bet has been wagered on the foursome. The match will precede the amateur and professional tournament to be held at the Kenosha Country club on Thursday.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

THE BALLADE OF BUM BALL.

Gather your thrills where'er you may,
Look at the feats on wheels and wings;
You should behold the White Sox play,
Play at ball in a casual way.
The White Sox do such awful things.

Sometimes going to beat the cars,
Feeding amain the hope that clings;
Next time pulling the stuff that mars,
Falling asunder with jolts and jars,
The White Sox do such awful things.

SCORE BY INNINGS.
Why do we love 'em? We'll stand a frisk,
And ship 'em to you at the owner's risk,
And take whatever the plunder brings.
The White Sox do such awful things.

The presence in town of the aeroplanes and the two big league clubs on Sunday had no effect on the attendance at the cricket match, Wanderers vs. Chicago, at Parkside. O, dear, no.

Dan Ahearn and Con Walsh, two noted white athletes, or athaletes, have joined the Gaelic association.

The aviation thing makes all other lines of gasoline endeavor "pale into insignificance," sic dicere. This merely to remind you that the Elgin road race still is on, although as far as publicity goes it's in penumbra. (Now don't search the atlas to find out where penumbra is.)

It must annoy Mr. William K. Vanderbilt to have the horses that are carrying his colors in France referred to on this side as "Yankee nags." Or, in parentheses, does he ever read the American papers? There is nothing "Yankee" about those "nags," except the slight suggestion of the hailing point of the money with which Mr. Vanderbilt founded his French racing establishment.

One may regard the pioneers with due consideration and at the same time deprecate the hog-it-all spirit. No reference to the Wright brothers, of course.

The thing we hear most about now in connection with the Gotchak wrestling match is the kale the "Iowa delegation" is going to bet on "the favorite son." They're great sports, them Ioway fellers; tell ye that. Ye got to peel 'em to get it away from 'em.

These "artificially bred" long distance runners will be shooting a helofalongtimeyet at the hour mark established by Deerfoot, the Indian. Deerfoot was a "natural runner." His people had to be.

There are some acres of ground for suspicion that the wish is father to the think when T. Jones apprehends that Packey McFarland will "crawl," meaning out of his match with Wolgast. It would be balm to T. Jones' soul if he saw his breadwinner safely out of that engagement. T. is a smart gazimbo, for one who so recently broke out of the corn furrow, but he's fooling none save those who find it pleasant, etc., to be fooled by him.

"OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES."

This is heeled over to us by "Clowry K.," 4200 Ellis avenue:

Billy [studying his catechism]—"Mamma, why is sin the greatest enemy of aviation?"

Mamma—"Well now, Billy, you can search me. Why IS sin the greatest enemy of aviation?"

Billy—"Because, mamma, by sin we lose our heirship to heaven."

Don't shoot. He'll be down presently; his engine is missing on the third cylinder.

THE PENALTY OF POETIZING.

Will your censor of my verse
Prove a blessing or a curse,
To my friends upon the "Isle"
Who may recognize my style?

'Tis the same old verse and rhyme,
Which "they" thought was quite sublime (?)
But the platitudes it had
Have by you been put "in bad."

Now your modesty may mean
That between the lines you've seen
Something lurking like an "ad,"
When no such a thought I had.

My sole aim and high desire
Was to make others aspire,
In the reading of your "dope,"
Find what is the "White Man's Hope."

As it is they Kid me now,
Call me "poet" and "high brow,"
When I hoped that they would laugh
At what I thought was chaff.

MULFORD PRIMED FOR ELGIN SPRINT

Winner of Last Year's Race Here to Tune Up Car for Run on Aug. 26.

COURSE IN FINE SHAPE.

Drivers Entered in Four Events Expected to Be on Hand for Preliminary Trials.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

Ralph Mulford, winner of the Elgin national trophy in last year's race, yesterday took possession of his training camp on the race course, where he will tune up his car in preparation for the big contest of Aug. 26.

Mulford was accompanied by Manager C. A. Emise of the Lozier racing team and Will Candler, who will act as mechanic in the renewal of the cup race. The party arrived from Detroit by steamer, while Mulford's car was shipped direct to Elgin by fast freight. Today the team will be augmented by a number of mechanics and other camp attendants at Lathrop's farm near the Udina turn, and preparations will be made to try out the car when official practice starts on Friday morning.

Mulford Sees Improvement.

According to Mulford's opinion, the work done during the last few weeks by the Elgin Road Race association has worked wonders on the course, and he looks for an average of close to seventy miles an hour by the winner. As soon as the Lozier party arrived Mulford and Manager Emise took a touring car and made several circuits of the eight mile course, stopping at various points to study the changes made.

By the end of the week most of the drivers entered in the four races are expected to be on hand ready for the preparatory trials. The Alco team, with Grant, Lee, and Hartman, was the first on the ground, and the three racing cars are said to be ready to put over the course at their fastest pace. Hughie Hughes and W. F. Barnes Jr., who will drive the two Mercer entries, also are at Elgin working on their cars, and will be ready to try them out when the practice bars are taken down.

De Palma to Be Here Friday.

Word was received yesterday from Ralph De Palma that he and Spencer Wishart will leave New York on Thursday, and that upon their arrival they will go at once to their training camp to prepare for the race, in which both will drive Simplex cars.

General Manager George M. Dickson of the National has announced Johnny Aitken, Charlie Merz, Len Zengle and Howard Wilcox as the four drivers who will pilot the big blue cars in the Illinois trophy and Elgin national races. The National party is expected to go into camp today or tomorrow.

INTEREST IN GLIDDEN TOUR.

Selection of Southern Roads for Annual Reliability Brings Three Atlanta Entries.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 14.—Southern automobilists will take more interest than ever before in the Glidden tour to be run to Jacksonville, Fla., via Atlanta. Three Atlanta business men entered cars today and six are ready to make application. The selection of southern roads for this season's tour is declared to have been due largely to the vast amount of work that has been done on public highways below the Potomac in recent years. The use of convict labor has made this possible.

Sullivan Escapes Serious Injury.

James E. Sullivan, national secretary of the A. A. U., who was one of those injured in the wrecked Pennsylvania train at Fort Wayne, wired Martin Delaney of the C. A. A. yesterday that he was not seriously hurt and would continue his journey to New York.

Comiskey Sweepstakes Entries.

Nine professional motorcyclists have entered the Comiskey sweepstakes at the motordrome tomorrow night as follows: Walters, Balke, Graves, Mitchell, Walsh, Chappelle, Albright, Wickwire, and Edwards.

TOILERS VICTIMS OF RISK POLICIES

New York Insurance Department Accuses Big Company of Perth, Scotland.

LEGAL CLAIMS CUT DOWN.

Industrial Branch Charged with Fleecing Many American Beneficiaries.

New York, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—The first of a series of reports on industrial insurance in this country was made public today by the state insurance department, following examinations in which conditions have been found which are described as serious.

This report deals only with the United States branch of the General Accident, Fire, and Life Assurance Corporation, Limited, of Perth, Scotland, but the investigation begun by the national convention of insurance commissioners as a result of an examination of this company has taken in eleven other companies.

The examination of the General, according to the report to Supt. Hotchkiss by his examiner, showed "conclusively that the rights of the policyholders are disregarded; that advantage is taken of their unfamiliarity with its provisions, and that a disposition is shown to compromise, delay, and avoid the payment of legitimate claims."

A memorandum from Mr. Hotchkiss, including his examiner's report, was adopted by a special committee of insurance commissioners held here on Aug. 2. This committee met today in Detroit and made public the adoption of the report. The committee consisted of insurance commissioners of New York, Michigan, Illinois, Massachusetts, Indiana, and Virginia.

"It is impossible in language fitted to an official document aptly to characterize what seems to have been the practices and methods of the industrial department of this corporation in settling with its policyholders," the memorandum asserts. "It appears to have resorted to every possible means, not merely to protect itself against imposition—for which it could not be criticised—but also, and more particularly, to cut and shave down claims, apparently without conscience and certainly without right.

"Protecting itself from imposition and fraud is a different thing from using clauses inserted in contracts for that purpose as a means to impose upon and defraud those who have contracted with it. Tried by this test, the management of the industrial department of this corporation is found wanting and to that extent is here officially condemned."

Apparently a Family Affair.

In the main office in this country, which is in Philadelphia, it was found that Charles H. Boyer was manager of the industrial department, his wife was superintendent of agencies, his brother, J. B. Boyer, head of the legal bureau; his brother-in-law, J. C. Steinbach, assistant to the chief of the claim department; another brother-in-law, George H. Summers, head of the policy department; and J. Warren Isett, a cousin, head of the accounting department.

"Another significant fact," says the memorandum, "is that the industrial department manager, whose family is thus apparently in charge at the home office, is largely compensated through a profit sharing contract under the terms of which said manager receives 15 per cent of the net profits derived from the industrial business, based upon the premium income, expenses, loss payments, etc. He thus shares financially in all gains which may be made through adjustments in the claim department. His profits under this contract in 1910 were $14,564, while his flat salary was $4,800."

Examples of Disputed Claims.

The insured are usually workmen and the premiums small. An insurance agent, Fred W. Sawyer, was injured in trying to extinguish a fire in his own house. He was classed as a "volunteer fireman," and therefore entitled to a smaller indemnity.

A stationary engineer was drowned while fishing. The liability with five years' accumulations was $450. The agent effected a settlement for $200, and apparently received a testimonial for his work, for he wrote to the home office:

"I had a h—l of a time making those Swedes see where only $200 came in, but got them going my way, as you will note. Will you have me 10,000 blotters printed with the letter upon it?"

UNION LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY IMPAIRS CAPITAL.

Overinsures to Make Showing—State Department Orders Recovery by Sept. 1—Directors to Act.

At the last examination of the department insurance of the state, the Union Life Insurance company of Chicago was found to have an impairment of the capital stock to the amount of $62,000. The department has given the company until Sept. 1 to put its finances in good order. Another examination will take place at that time.

High pressure methods in obtaining insurance are said to be the cause of the impairment of the capital stock. According to officials of the company an equilibrium will be reached in a few days and the company will conform to the insurance laws before the time of the next examination.

It is rumored that it will reinsure in the Old Colony Life Insurance company and that it will cut down its capital stock. Then, if there is still an impairment, it will be taken away by the personal funds of the directors

The particular cause of trouble is, according to J. D. Stevens, one of the directors, the payment of too high commissions on insurance, due to the desire to make a good showing at the start.

Seeks to Stop Street Lowering.

The William Henning company, manufacturers, Wabansia avenue and the north branch of the river, has asked for an injunction restraining the city from lowering the grade of Wabansia avenue. It is claimed the lowering of the grade of the street will interfere with the company's freight facilities.

MANY SEEK INDIAN LANDS

Five Thousand Register During Opening Day at Fort Berthold.

CROWDS IN FIVE TOWNS.

Miss Ida Westerman of St. Louis First Woman on Rolls.

Minot, N. D., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—More than five thousand persons registered for the drawing of Fort Berthold Indian reservation lands today. One hundred and sixty thousand acres of rich farm land will be distributed. The registration opened in five towns at 12:01 o'clock this morning, and the officials will be ready to receive applications at all hours of the day and night until Sept. 2, when the drawing will begin. More than twenty thousand registrations are expected.

Minot today seems like a carnival town. All of the hotels are crowded to their capacity, and hundreds of persons are coming in on every train. Booths have been placed on all of the principal streets and the good natured crowds fill the streets from curb to curb.

In all of the other four towns which are registration points the same scenes are being enacted. The only indication of any possible trouble came early this morning, when the great rush to be the first to register began. Judge J. W. Witten, the government superintendent of the opening, stopped the disorder by threatening to clear out the building unless order was restored.

The heaviest registration is from North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, South Dakota, New York, and Pennsylvania.

SENATE LIMITS THE LIFE OF MONETARY BOARD TO JAN. 8.

Commission Must Wind Up Affairs by Then if House Takes Favorable Action on Measure.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The national monetary commission, headed by former Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, must wind up its affairs by Jan. 8 next if the house takes favorable action on the measure passed by the senate today limiting the commission's life to that date.

Today's action followed a storm of criticism that recently broke in the senate over the commission's delay in making a report and its alleged extravagance. The senate passed a substitute for the Cummins resolution which would have terminated the commission's life Dec. 5.

The monetary commission thus far has encountered little criticism in the house, but it is expected that the senate resolution will be called up for action in the house before adjournment.

PLANS TO ENTER LAND SHOW.

Louisiana Will Spend at Least $30,000 On Exhibit in Chicago.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Louisiana will give at least $30,000 to an exhibit at the Chicago Land Show, and probably will give more. This fact was stated today by Justin F. Denechaud, secretary of the state immigration bureau, and Emile V. Stier, manager of the Louisiana development league, after an extensive tour of Louisiana. The tour was made purely in the interest of the land show exhibit, and the result was even more satisfactory than was expected. The principal duty was placing before the various parish police juries, which administer the affairs of the parishes or counties, the importance of the land show and the big results expected from judicious displays there of Louisiana goods.

The Louisiana exhibit will consist of samples of the industrial and agricultural products, as well as of the natural resources.

WOULD LIMIT WOMEN'S HATS.

Georgia Legislator Introduces Bill Making It Misdemeanor if They Exceed Two Feet in Width.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 14.—A bill making it a misdemeanor for a woman to wear in church a hat more than two feet wide was introduced in the Georgia legislature today by State Senator Edwards. It was referred to committee on sanitation and hygiene.

SEE BIG SEASON FOR FISHERIES

Expect Heavy Business from Short Food Crops; Salmon Prices a Criterion.

LIFT PROFIT $1.00 A CASE.

Pack Shows Best Condition in Years; Metropolitan "L" Directorate Reorganized.

Business of the Booth Fisheries company gives promise of being unusually good for the current season. The shortness of food crops and the already opening prices for salmon indicate largely increased profits over last year. Within the next three weeks the company will have finished its salmon pack for this season and be able then to form a fairly accurate estimate as to the volume of business.

Prices of canned salmon have advanced for the new pack. The cheaper grades of salmon, known as the pink salmon, which last year opened at 75c a dozen lb cans, have opened up at $1.10 this year. Last year Alaska red salmon, the kind which the Booth company packs through its Northwestern Fisheries company, opened at $1.35 a dozen. It is expected that the price this year will range between $1.60 and $1.65, an increase of 25c a dozen. There are four dozen cans in a case. The Northwestern Fisheries salmon pack should run about 350,000 cases and the increased profit per case is expected to be about $1. On the face of it the company's gross income from the Northwestern Fisheries alone should be approximately $350,000 in excess of last year.

Looks for Good Year.

Speaking in a general way of the business of Booth Fisheries, F. C. Letts, chairman of the board of directors, said yesterday:

"Our pack this season has been put away in the best condition in years. The salmon pack will not be over until early in September. Thus far the run averages larger than last year. While nothing can be said finally until after the next three weeks, it now appears as if the pack will not only be larger than last year, but conditions in food products warrant good prices."

Booth Fisheries stocks have been quiet for some time on the local exchange. There has been some buying of the shares, but no large or pronounced movement as yet.

Metropolitan "L" Changes.

Directors of the Metropolitan Elevated met yesterday and reorganized the board, giving representation to the representatives of the Chicago Elevated railways, which now owns the company. The new board is composed of the following: Samuel Insull, W. A. Fox, J. H. Gulick, Ira M. Cobe, Henry A. Blair, John F. Gilchrist, Gilbert E. Porter, Frederick A. Delano, Britton I. Budd, and H. G. Hetzler. The latter three were reëlected and the first six took the places of the following, who resigned: Charles C. Adsit, R. Floyd Clinch, H. A. De Windt, James B. Forgan, George H. High, Charles H. Requa, and Joseph E. Otis.

As a part of the reorganization plan Britton I. Budd retains the presidency of the company and P. D. Sexton will remain as secretary and treasurer until the annual meeting next February.

Big Traders Hold Aloof.

While several Chicago houses reported yesterday continued buying of New York stocks by small investors, the houses dealing for large traders said the latter class of customers still remain out of the market. The situation does not appear to be right to the satisfaction of some Chicago operators who buy and sell on a large scale. At present they are doing nothing.

A member of one of the large commission houses of New York was in Chicago yesterday. Speaking of the market, he said:

"There is one opinion in Wall street to the effect that the present decline was started by Mr. Frick. It is thought that he did not like the situation and decided to sell a good many of his holdings. In this, it is assumed, he was followed by some of his friends and after the market started down general liquidation followed.

"Some houses are now quite bullish, while others do not take that view. Money can be borrowed over the turn of the year at 4 per cent, and shorter loans are made at 3½ per cent. There is no apprehension expressed over the money situation."

Federal Biscuit Company Grows.

The real estate and business of the A. J. Medler company, biscuit manufacturers of Philadelphia, have been purchased by the Federal Biscuit company of New York at a price said to have been about $600,000. It was announced by a representative of the purchaser that the plant will be pushed to its full capacity. Negotiations are also on for the purchase by the Federal Biscuit company of a number of other biscuit plants in Philadelphia and elsewhere. The company expects to own about eighty plants distributed over thirty states in the Union.

Beet Sugar Outlook.

In view of the existing price of refined sugar at 5.85c lb, the highest figure in recent years, it is thought in Wall street that the American Beet Sugar company will show earnings for the current fiscal year better than those of the 1910-'11 period, when $1,643,659, or 10.9 per cent, was available for dividends on the common stock.

American Tobacco.

Officers and counsel of the American Tobacco company say it is too early to make any statement as to the progress being made in perfecting the plan of recreating out of the American Tobacco company a situation not offensive to the Sherman law. It is known, though, that several conferences have been held between counsel for the government and counsel for the company, and it is thought in New York that within a short time some definite plan will be laid before the court to be considered by it.

Dividends Declared.

The American Coal company declared regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, payable Sept. 1. Books close Aug. 22 and reopen Sept. 2.

American Writing Paper declared regular semi-annual dividend of $1 per share on the preferred stock, payable Oct. 2 to stock of record Sept. 1.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 9.

Chicago Horse Market.

The horse market in Chicago showed a little spurt of strength at the opening auction sales. Several consignments of good quality, rugged horses, weighing up to 1,500@1,600 lbs and ready for immediate service in harness, cleared at unevenly higher prices than could be secured for corresponding stock at the close last week. Sales were made at up to $225.00@245.00 for single animals, with pairs at $390.00@450.00. Medium to good light drivers and desirable expressers cleared at $175.00@215.00, while the small wagon horses sold down to $125.00 and lower for cripples.

Receipts for the day were estimated at 700 head, against actual arrivals of 519 a week ago and 438 a year ago.

NEW YORK STOCKS HAVE GOOD RALLY

Prices Rebound from Bear Pressure and Close with an Advance.

DAY OF WIDE MOVEMENTS

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Prices rebounded today from the bear pressure which was put upon them on Saturday, and at the close, after the contending forces in the market had found reflection in wide and irregular movements in leading active stocks, for the first time since the close of July showed an average advance for the day in excess of 1 point.

On only one other day since the opening of this month has the market shown any rally That was on Monday of last week, and then the average net improvement was only fractional. The upturn today showed much more strength than was displayed in the rally a week ago, but in the interval prices had been much further depressed.

While the gain made today was a grateful relief after the extremely unsettled markets of the previous few days, it must be recognized that the recovery will have to be carried considerably further before it can be felt hat a more favorable view is being taken b ythe public of the maters chiefly responsible for the readjustment of prices which has been under way.

Foreign Purchases Feature.

Foreign purchases of American stocks were again one of the features of the market. London sent a generally higher level of prices for the international stocks, with a gain of over a point in Union Pacific, which had borne the brunt of the selling on Saturday. These higher London quotations helped to establish a good opening here, and gains of a fraction to as much as 2 points were shown during the first few moments of trading.

Then the market encountered enough fresh liquidation and sufficient bear pressures to drive prices back again in some cases to lower figures than the lowest reached on Saturday. Then came another rally followed by a period of dullness which lasted until well along in the afternoon, when the recovery was resumed and the highest prices of the day were made.

There was a little setback before the close, but it left the leading stocks with net gains of from 1 to over 3 points. Union Pacific's recovery was 1⅝ points and United States Seel made a net gain of 1½ points.

Last week reports that he stock holdings of traders who were overextended had been taken over were made the basis for fresh selling of stocks. Yesterday a similar report was 1 ncirculation, but had to do with a firm instead of with an individual, an dthis was being jointed to as one of the reasons for the change the day brought in the condition of the market.

Played Only Minor Part.

Whatever may be the fact in respect to stock holdings having been taken over from weak holders this much is entirely clear in respect to the decline which the last two weeks have seen, that a minor part must have been played by the selling by embarrassed borrowers.

Had there been much calling of loans the money market would have reflected the efforts of needy borrowers to obtain accommodation and money rates could hardly have maintained theh unruffled ease they displayed the last two weeks.

It appears, on the other hand, that much of the selling which put prices down came from those who were amply able to keep their stocks if they wished. The apparent selling from such sources was one of the things which helped to create the depressed sentiment of the last fortnight.

Money on call steady; highest, 2⅜ per cent; lowest, 2¼; ruling rate, 2⅜; last loan, 2⅜; closing bid, 2¼; offered, 2⅜; time loans easier; sixty days, 2¾@3 per cent; ninety days, 3@3¼; six months, 3¾@4. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 4¼@4½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8375 for sixty day bills and at 4.8575 for demand. Commercial bills 4.83¼. Bar silver 52c. Mexican dollars 45c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds steady.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Money and discount rates were quiet today. The Bank of England secured most of the $4,000,000 new gold laid down in the open market. The labor trouble in the north of England was responsible for a sharp break in home rails on the stock exchange. Prices declined from 1 to 3 points and other British shares eased off in sympathy. The closing was unsettled at the lowest point of the day. American securities opened steady and higher. Prices advanced under the lead of Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific, and at midday values ranged from ¼ to 2½ points above parity. Wall street selling caused a reaction in the afternoon and the market closed weak.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 14.—[Special.]—Brokers reported the largest accumulation of buying orders for Boston stocks in months at the opening of the exchange today. Neither the resulting activity nor the higher prices were long sustained, but the list held firm at slight recessions. In the last hour the demand broadened somewhat, and the shorts covered some contracts. The result was a strong and active closing, especially in coppers, which had fallen to attractive figures to genuine investors. RAILROAD EARNINGS.

ST. PAUL'S YEAR.

Operating figures for the year ended June 30 were issued yesterday by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. The figures for June show some improvement as compared with the poor exhibits of earlier months. Gross business continued to fall off, a decrease of 6.4 per cent from June, 1910. The operating ratio stood at 63.68, less than two-thirds of 1 per cent, over last year. Taxes increased, however, and net revenue showed a drop of 9.4 per cent.

The year's figures show a gross gain of only one-third of 1 per cent. In the meantime the operating ratio rose from 69.58 to 72.84 per cent and an increase in taxes cut the net revenue to 12.8 per cent below 1910. The company's figures follow:

PRODUCE PRICES ON LEVEL

Little Variation Noted at Opening of Week in Chicago.

GRAPES AND PEACHES LEAD.

Heavy Receipts with Slight Advances; Sweet Potatoes Off.

With weather conditions more favorable than since the middle of last week and offerings of all kinds in generous volume, the produce trade at Chicago yesterday was broad and active, with prices showing only slight variations.

Michigan grapes and peaches led the fruit list and sold at slightly higher prices in spite of large receipts. Peddlers were the leading buyers at 14@15c for grapes, and 18@20c for peaches, but ther was also a brief call from city retailers and country shippers, and the market cleaned up nicely.

Minnesota Irish potatoes sold at an advance of 5c a bu, but Jerseys were unchanged, with general receipts of 60 carloads. Sweet potatoes continued their downward slide, losing 25@50c a brl. Dairy products made unchanged prices, with butter jobbers awaiting the action of the Elgin board before making definite announcement of the week's prices to the retail trade.

EGGS.

FORCED SELLING WEAKENS GRAINS

September Liquidation Big Factor in Depressing Prices in All Pits.

CROP REPORTS BEARISH.

Liverpool Cables Lower on Both Wheat and Corn; Cash Trade Slow.

Liquidation was the rule in wheat, corn, and oats yesterday. Wheat led in the decline, the selling being influenced by lack of outside business, more favorable Russian and Canadian news, and the lower cables. The outside demand for corn and oats was also slow, prices yielding to the pressure of long selling. Closing prices were 1¾ to 2@2⅛c lower for wheat, 1⅛@1¼ to 1½c off for corn, and ⅝@¾c to ⅞c down for oats, the September being relatively heavy in each instance.

Selling of wheat throughout the day was of broad proportions, and there was no adequate support in evidence at any time. Outside markets were dragging and there was nothing in the news to stimulate any big demand. The assumption of many traders that the bulls were loaded up with wheat by the big holders on the recent bulge appeared to be founded on fact.

English Markets Are Weak.

Liverpool closed ⅝@¾d lower, and world's shipments were larger than expected, at 9,008,000 bu. Stocks on passage showed a decrease of about 1,750,000 bu, and offerings from Russia were more liberal. The dock strike at English centers is causing a lessened demand, also, which affected futures at Liverpool. Berlin was 1⅝c lower, and Budapest 2⅛c higher. Advices from Russian ports said stocks were increasing and that weather conditions were more favorable.

The visible supply showed a gain for the week of 2,091,000 bu, compared to a gain a year ago of 3,784,000 bu. Local stocks in all positions now aggregate a little over 19,000,000 bu, gaining 881,000 bu for the week. Local receipts were 143 cars, with 328 cars for today. In the west receipts were 1,356,000 bu, compared to 2,164,00 bu a year ago. Northwestern receipts were 331 cars; last year, 842 cars.

Cash Prices Firmer Relatively.

The cash demand was of moderate proportions, but holders were asking higher prices and there was no pressure of offerings. Relatively prices were ⅛c higher than on Saturday. Country offerings were moderate. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 130,000 bu for the day. Millers report a fair demand for flour, and the output at this time compares well with the last year or so at this season. Mills generally are well supplied with wheat. It was reported some wheat had been taken here for export, but no figures were given out.

Canadian reports were optimistic. No serious damage from rust has been reported so far, and the only thing feared apparently is frost. In Saskatchewan most of the wheat needs two weeks more favorable weather. Clearances for the day were 824,000 bu. Winnipeg receipts were 116 cars, against 75 cars a year ago.

Corn Is Under Pressure.

Corn was under pressure right from the start. There were further rains in Iowa, northern Illinois, and northern Indiana, which gave sellers the advantage at the opening. Later the weakness in wheat and further liquidation by local bulls caused renewed pressure, and the close was at about the low point of the day. Country offerings were moderate, but recent sales are expected to swell the receipts a little temporarily. Cash prices were ⅝@1c lower, with sales of 125,000 bu.

Tietgens, Cudahy, Geahart, and local bulls in general, in addition to commission houses, were sellers of corn. Buying was scattered, shorts taking profits quite freely. Receipts here were 83 cars, with 239 for today. Receipts in the west were 701,000 bu, against 478,000 bu a year ago. Cables were ½@⅝d lower. World's shipments were 5,605,000 bu, against 5,288,000 bu a year ago. The visible supply decreased 342,000 bu and local stocks lost 776,000 bu for the week, the total local stock now being only 1,859,000 bu.

Hog Products Get Support.

Hog products received considerable support during the day and notwithstanding the heavy tone in cereals closing prices were steady to a shade lower. Receipts here overrun the estimates at 40,000 bu, with 17,000 expected today. Prices at the yards were a little easier at the start, but later closed firm, especially for the good hogs. The cash trade is fair and the demand for fresh pork continues good. Receipts in the west were 89,000, against 60,900 a year ago.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

Reports to E. P. Bacon & Co. from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and South Dakota on bullish conditions generally indicate a smaller production of barley and poorer quality than last year. The average yield in South Dakota is about 5.5 bu to the acre, or 14.5 bu less than last year and 18.5 bu less than the crop of 1909. Quality is inferior, and much of it is unfit for malting. Iowa reports all barley producing centers have a smaller production than last year. The average yield is about 18.5 bu, or 1.5 bu less than last year. In Minnesota the average yield is about 13 bu, or 10.5 bu less than last year. In many parts of the southwestern section of the state the crop is an entire failure. Conditions were better in Wisconsin, where the average yield is about 22 bu, or 3 bu less than last year and 4 bu less than in 1909. Acreage estimates indicated 7 per cent less acreage in Wisconsin, 8.5 per cent less in Minnesota, 14.5 per cent smaller in Iowa, and 13 per cent less in South Dakota.

Cash wheat prices were about ⅛c higher relative to the futures yesterday. No. 2 red was quoted 1¾@.c under the September and No. 2 hard about 1c under to 1c over September, depending on quality. Local owners of wheat were not pressing it for sale and there was not much offered at present prices. Exporters reported a fair inquiry in some instances, and a fair business could have been done at the same prices as last week. Eastern reports indicated a fair inquiry from abroad, but nothing urgent. One local exporter said there was no demand even at the decline. St. Louis cash wheat was 1c lower, and both there and at Kansas City there was only a moderate demand. Minnepalis reported a good demand for spring wheat, offerings of which were light and of poor quality.

B. W. Snow: "Crop reporting records show that the corn crop never recovers from low July conditions. The reason is obvious and applies this year as in the past. July heat and drought permanently damages tassel and shooting ear. No amount of rain and good weather after this critical period can either put ears on earless stalks or cause dead tassels to fructify, however much it may improve the fodder. My advices since Aug. 1 show further slight decline in corn conditions in Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, and southern Indiana, where dry conditions have not been fully relieved. From Illinois west deterioration has been generally checked and late fields are doing better, but the damage done in July cannot be repaired."

Liquidation of September wheat was on a big scale yesterday and there was a general dumping of long lines by local bulls. It is the general impression among traders that on the swells the last week long wheat has been sold by the big holders in large quantities. This wheat was taken by the local bull contingent, who have been having a hard time disposing of it. The failure of the market to advance in the face of the bull news that deluged the market for several days caused the general desire to sell.

George M. Le Count wired us from Form Lake, Sask.: "Weather hot, clear, and favorable. Crop accounts are good in general and about average. Wheat here in splendid condition and will make full crop if it fills well. Just in milk and needs two weeks more favorable weather to mature. It is simply a weather proposition, and if frost is delayed two weeks Canada will raise a bumper crop—2,000,000 a possibility. No black rust here."

World's shipments of grain last week with comparisons follow:

The United States visible supply of wheat increased 2,091,000 bu last week. Corn decreased 342,000 bu, oats increased 2,423,000 bu, rye increased 46,000 bu, and barley decreased 22,000 bu. Detailed figures follow:

Some increase in corn receipts as the result of sales to arrive the last few days is expected, but on yesterday's decline the country stopped selling again and it is not believed enough corn has been sold to make any big run at this time. The eastern demand was fair. Local stocks were reduced 776,000 bu for the week and total stocks here now are only 1,859,000 bu.

Southwestern Iowa reports continue to be bullish on corn and advices from that section claim that it will be impossible to make half a crop whether it rains or not. There were also a number of bad reports from Missouri points. In sections which have had good rains the greater part of the reports were of a favorable character.

John Weinand wired Ware-Leland from Marshalltown, Ia.: "From Fort Dodge to Iowa Falls we found best corn in Iowa; will make full average crop. Iowa Falls to Marshalltown not quite so good, south of Eldora."

Cash corn was ⅝@1c lower, with a fair demand and oats steady to ½c lower. Shipping sales were 110,000 bu corn and 105,000 bu oats.

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 328 cars; corn, 239 cars; oats, 471 cars; rye, 9 cars; barley, 43 cars; hogs, 17,000.

Minneapolis stocks decreased 130,000 bu for two days.

DRY GOODS.

DROUGHT HURTS BEAN CROP; OHIO REPORT SEES HEAVY CUT.

Set Decline at 20 Per Cent — Canned Goods and Dried Fruits Firm—Packers Get Prunes.

From Ohio comes the report that the outlook for a good pack of canned lima beans, string beans, and succotash is not particularly bright on account of continued dry weather during the growing season. As Ohio is the leading state for the growing of these articles for canning purposes the report is significant. Writing of conditions as they see them, the Sears & Nichols company states in a letter to the local trade:

"We have been suffering for lack of moisture over practically our entire district the whole summer. Local showers have relieved the situation in part of our growing sections at different times. However, conditions are now growing more acute. The excessively hot weather, along with lack of moisture, is damaging our crops terribly.

"In our judgment the result will be much below our expectations and short deliveries on corn, succotash, and lima and string beans are probable. How short we do not know. Even with plenty of rain and favorable conditions from now on it is hard to tell how much improvement can be made in crop conditions. It looks as though—the way it stands now—crops have been damaged to the extent of 20 to 30 per cent."

Locally there is practically no change over last week in the canned goods and dried fruits markets. Everything remains firm, with rising tendencies. In dried fruits no particular interest is being shown in a jobbing way in any article except prunes, which are firm, but are quoted irregularly by different coast packers, some asking 5⅛c on a four size f. o. b. bag basis, while others name prices all the way to 6c, with varying premiums on the larger sizes. Practically all the prunes on the coast are now said to be out of the hands of the growers and in the possession of the packers.

WILL CHANGE MANY RATES

Western Classification Meeting to Affect Freight Tariff.

SHIPPERS WILL BE HEARD.

Committee Announces It Will Hear Contentions of Patrons.

Freight rates throughout the western half of the United States will be affected by the action of the western classification committee, which began sessions yesterday. Meetings are held in the rooms of the Central Freight association. The committee will consider several hundred proposed changes in the classification of rates in this territory.

The executive session begun yesterday is an adjourned meeting from that begun in Milwaukee on July 11. The hearings have been longer than was expected, as the two last meetings were postponed, and this is the first session of the committee since Jan. 1, 1910.

Change for Minimum Load.

A meeting of traffic managers of the various agricultural implement and vehicle manufacturers is to be held this week in advance of the hearing before the committee to prepare protests. In a proposed new rate the 20,000 pound minimum is to be changed to a sliding scale ranging from 24,000 pounds for thirty-six foot cars to 34,080 for fifty foot cars. The objection of the manufacturers is that they have already booked thousands of orders for carloads of their products based on the 20,000 pound minimum.

Only changes in rules and specifications are included in the recommendations of the uniform committee, as the executive committee has decided this must be done before any move can be made toward securing actual uniformity in the number of classes and in the commodities grouped under them in each of the three territories.

There are forty members of the committee, which represents 390 western railroads, in session, and the meeting may last for several weeks.

Change in Passenger Rate.

Western railroads are considering a change in their tariffs providing rates for special, private and chartered cars. The present rule provides for a charge equal to eighteen tickets, and although this is intended to mean eighteen full fare first class tickets it has often been interpreted by some roads to mean that special reduced fares may be taken as a basis.

Executive and traffic officials of the transcontinental railroads are meeting daily in their conferences on the recent intermountain rate decisions of the interstate commerce commission. Thus far the principal progress made has been simply in the direction of checking over the old and new rates.

The subcommittee of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners which is making an investigation of the rates and practices of the express companies for its report to the main body at its national convention in November will resume hearings today.

Fall from Locomotive Fatal.

THE WORK EDITOR.

By JOHN A. HOWLAND.

STICKING to a job just to stick, no matter what happens or does not happen, is to worship a time-bound and folly ridden custom, under whose sway men and women grow old without acquiring the nest egg that keeps off the day of want and need.

Today the man who balks at being turned into a mere machine which does not get as much consideration, care, or oiling as a roller mill is all the better, for he retains his self-respect, and generally wins for himself worth while attention.

If a condition be unjust and unbearable, changing it is never wrong—always justifiable. While we all need nourishment, it were better sometimes to have a dinner pail of plain, digestible food with contentment than the richest and costliest dish without. But whenever a position does not bring "the living wage and livable conditions," then it's time to make a change.

Under no circumstances be a party to perpetuate a record that's foul or false. Free yourself from all that is unfair.

It is written into the platform of this department to help every one find a job that insures "the living wage and livable conditions," and to this end it becomes the pleasing duty of the Work Editor to do what he can for the workers, employed or disemployed. This department is conducted equally for the employer and for the employe, for after all they are one, part and part of our huge, complex, and wobbly social system.

This department is yours. If you have a need, want, or grievance, you are invited to avail yourself of the free service we are prepared to render. You will not receive a personal reply, however, unless a self-addressed, self-stamped envelope is inclosed with your letter. Understand also, please, that in exchanging personal convictions relating to any given case the answer will not disclose the inquirer's identity. But only such questions will receive either passing or elaborate treatment in these columns as stir up an inquiry in which large numbers are interested. Any communication that abides by these conditions—it need not be a literary effort—will receive a fair and full consideration from the Work Editor.

While the Work Editor is not a job broker nor an employment bureau, he will furnish information, suggest, advise, and tell how. You can do the rest. The Work Editor's services are free to all.

THE WORK EDITOR'S ADVICE TO INQUIRERS.

J.: The wholesale grocery business offers unrivaled chances to any young man "who will." It's a fine burying place for the sluggard and dullard. There are hundreds of men in this trade nursing "soft snaps," who are contented to linger along. It is a business that is suffering heavily from the sins of its past. With every day the trade is becoming healthier. It is impossible to tell within the narrow compass of this space all that you ought to know of the grocery business in order to go intelligently to work finding a desirable opening. There are about a hundred wholesale grocery houses in Chicago alone. These easily divide themselves into classes. In the first class are about ten. To indicate closer would be to discriminate. I am working out a comprehensive scheme for those who desire accurate information on the various trades and same will be mailed out on request whenever stamps are inclosed.

BERWYN: Your rather pitiful and pathetic presentation caused me to say a word by way of introduction. You admit that after nearly twenty years of faithful service you now reach the conclusion that there is neither virtue nor suitable compensation in "sticking." I am glad to get the kindly note in your letter. You say you begin to look with favor on the man who makes frequent changes, provided he does so for a good and sufficient cause—and you mention, as the chief cause, to earn bread and cheese for the babies. The rolling stone assumes polish and smoothness. This has a much greater value in the marketplace than blind loyalty to an antiquated fallacy. It certainly gives me pleasure to send you by mail the information which will, most probably, help you get a foothold in A——. There are, in round numbers, over 5,000 men employed in that industry there. The wages run from $3 a day up. The piece workers average about $4.50 a day after they become skilled. You are not too old to learn any of the trades to which I refer. Call on me again when there is something you desire to know. If I should not be able to answer from my own fund of knowledge I will consult for you specialists in that line, and between us we will dig out the information you require.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or income from other sources] who, while not in a position to borrow money from a bank, realize that exorbitant interest charged by professional money lenders is high and extortionate. I am connnected with the Indiana Loan, Credit, and Trust Company of Chicago, co-partners, 4308 Grand-blvd., and, having private means of my own, I am willing to loan money with or without security and at a consideration but a trifle above bank rates, and never more than the interest legalized by the states of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the precise rate being determined by the amount loaned and risk assumed. My location [15 minutes from loop district via South Side Elevated] assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where lenders congregate. Always best to telephone Drexel 54 for private appointment. Ask for MR. S.

MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE — IF YOU hold a permanent salaried position we will loan you any reasonable sum from $10 upward WITHOUT security or knowledge of employer or friends. Our rates are LOW, payments easy. REBATE IF paid before due. QUICK SERVICE; long time if desired; no red tape; no extra charge; nothing taken out of loan in advance. Office hours 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Will receive courteous treatment whether you borrow or not.

MUST RAZE THREE FRAIL BUILDINGS

MORE LIKELY TO FOLLOW.

Those Condemned Include Structure Containing Store and Flats.

Chicago buildings, which are considered to be in dangerous condition must be torn down, Building Commissioner Henry Ericsson announced yesterday.

He ordered an investigation of three buildings which he regards as dangerous, and said that several other buildings are likely to be ordered razed.

Asks Inquiry by Board.

Mr. Ericsson wrote to Thomas J. Claffey, chairman of the city's board of survey, yesterday and asked that body to investigate the three buildings and recommend that they be demolished if conditions warrant such action.

They are unoccupied. Mr. Ericsson believes their collapse is ceratin if they are allowed to stand much longer.

Location of the Buildings.

These structures should be torn down, he says:

Building at 804-6 West Lake street, owned by Louis Daube, 513 East Forty-third street. "Posts are decayed and building leans to one side," says Mr. Ericsson in his letter to Mr. Claffey.

Three story flat and store building at 1020-22 West Lake street. "Building leans to the west very badly. This is a veritable fire trap."

Building at 1301 South Sangamon street, owned by Abraham Harris.

"I think they should be torn down," said Mr. Ericsson, "and they will be torn down if the board of survey feels as I do about it."

ASKS INJUNCTION ON CROWING.

Mrs. C. Bitnor Complains to Police of Early Morning Exuberance of Neighbor's Poultry.

An injunction to stop the crowing of roosters and quacking of ducks at 4 in the morning is asked by Mrs. C. Bitnor, 3210 Wall street. She appeared at the Thirty-fifth street police station yesterday afternoon and complained that the fowl noise in the yard of her neighbor, Mrs. C. Dearing, 3208 Wall street, awakened the neighbors long before they desired to arise and kept them awake.

"The ducks and roosters are more officious than an alarm clock," she declared, "and awake the neighborhood every morning regularly at 4 o'clock.

"BOY LAWYER" A BENEDICK.

Samuel J. Andalman Weds Miss Sarah Jaffe, Who Had Made Vow Never to Marry.

"The Boy Lawyer of Chicago" and a young woman who had vowed never to marry are now Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Andalman. The bride was Miss Sarah Jaffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jaffe, 3442 Douglas boulevard. The wedding took place last Sunday night in the Douglas Park auditorium, Rabbit Julius Rappaport officiating.

When the two were pupils at a west side school Miss Jaffe was a member of a quartet of young women who made a resolution never to marry. Miss Jaffe is the first to break the agreement.

Mr. Andalman was admitted to law practice in Chicago when he was 17 years old.

"Mamma," said a little girl, "don't you think I had better go and call Willie? I can hear him not getting up."

There are a number of manufacturers making just the sort of goods the farmer wants, and is now buying. They are not selling him, because the farmer does not know it. We can hear them not using

STODDARD-DAYTON—Saybrook Model

1912 Stoddard-Dayton 1912

Exceptional Values in Quality Cars

Foreword Successful motor car manufacture demands continual improvement of proven products, and either increased values or lower prices year by year.

Enhanced values or lower prices are possible only by economies effected by better manufacturing and selling methods and facilities, and by quantity production.

To this end the United States Motor Company was formed by successful individual manufacturers.

With an already wonderful car, with a wonderful record and reputation, the Stoddard-Dayton, since joining the United States Motor Company, has been able in two years to effect economies and improve its cars until each dollar buys in 1912 half again as much as was possible two years ago.

We gratefully recognize the satisfaction our cars have given in the past eight years, and are proud of the pride of ownership expressed by Stoddard-Dayton owners.

But we are confident they will regard 1912 Stoddard-Daytons as the most extraordinary values ever offered in QUALITY CARS.

STODDARD-DAYTON—Six-Cylinder Knight

The Virtue of the Knight The story of the sensational success of the valveless principle in England is intensely interesting. It was attacked on every side and compelled to meet such tests as never before had been imposed on motors. These tests convinced everyone and motor-car makers flocked to England to obtain license to manufacture it.

This right for France was bought by Panhard-Levassor, for Germany by Mercedes, for Belgium by Minerva, for Italy by Daimler. We obtained the right in America.

The virtue of the Knight motor is more than silence. Its power and flexibility is amazing—far greater than is obtainable from other motors of equal size. These claims we can demonstrate by sending you the record of its astounding tests abroad.

What the Difference is The usual or poppet valve motor is operated by the explosion of gas in its cylinders. The gas is admitted through valves either in the head or side of the cylinder and is emitted through the same means. The valves set in seats and are opened and shut by rods driven from an independent shaft fitted with cams.

These cams are governed by gears arranged to move them at exactly the correct moment to obtain the greatest efficiency. The disarrangement of gears or rods, the wearing of valve seats or valves mean great loss of power. The strain is great and so is the wear, and constant adjustment is necessary. Noise eventually is inevitable when this wear becomes apparent.

These parts are eliminated in the Knight.

Why there is no Noise Gas is admitted to the cylinders and discharged by an ingenious arrangement that cannot get out of order. There are two metal sleeves within the cylinder moving up and down with a film of oil between. On either side of each sleeve is a slot or port. When these slots are opposite each other or aligned, gas is admitted. When the slots on the other side align the exploded gas is discharged. The openings are greater than is possible in any motor fitted with valves and their proper operation is automatic and inevitable. Therefore, loss of power is impossible, so is incorrect timing, while the strain is reduced, wear is lessened, and durability increased. There is no need of adjustments. There is nothing to become loose to make noise, so noise is impossible.

More Power is Inevitable Further result is assured in more power, more certainty of action, absence of adjustments, greater flexibility, less wear. Is it any wonder that the proof of performance astonished foreign motorists?

This, then, is the feature of the 1912 Stoddard-Dayton with six-cylinders—a combination never before achieved. The advantages of left-hand drive and inside control are apparent. For the other features of construction we point to Stoddard successes and say they are standard practice.

And the price is as low as the wonderful facilities and economies of the United States Motor Company's vast production permits—which means lower than can be fixed by any other maker in the world.

Satisfied Owners' Free Inspection Service

To facilitate constant and unfailing service of Stoddard-Dayton cars, and to eliminate unnecessary repairs caused by oversight of required minor repairs and adjustments, lack of experience in, and mechanical knowledge of, the construction and skillful operation of his car, upon the part of the owner, we have instituted a Free Inspection Service.

The few motor troubles in cars of today are generally due to neglect of unsuspected minor difficulties and can be avoided by frequent inspection and instruction as to proper adjustment.

For one year after date of purchase, a Stoddard-Dayton owner may take his car to the nearest Stoddard-Dayton branch or dealer once a month, if necessary, for a thorough inspection without charge.

By the use of our Free Inspection Service, you reduce trouble and repair expense to a minimum.

This monthly inspection service is in addition to the Company's warranty against defective material and workmanship, as published in our catalog.

We care for your car wherever you are

A few territories are still open. Immediate applications from dealers will be considered.
